

Mayor's Youth Advisory Council

The Mayor's Youth Advisory Council (MYAC) is a teen organization that helps Meridian's Mayor and the City of Meridian establish an agenda for our community's youth.

Youth Council members are involved on city commissions and committees, in many community projects and events, and with several neighborhood activities they plan themselves.

The MYAC meets with the Mayor and other advisors twice a month to discuss issues and ideas of interest to the youth of Meridian.

If you are...

- A Meridian student in 9th through 12th grade and attend one of Meridian's high schools or are home schooled
- Interested in learning how a city works
- Motivated to make a difference in the community
- Willing to express your ideas
- Eager to participate in community events and volunteer activities
- Able to work as a team with others
- Ready to sharpen your leadership, speaking, presentation and decision making skills
- Looking to making new friends and lasting memories
- Committed to participating fully in MYAC meetings and activities

... then the MYAC is for you!

Membership Applications

Available online at:
www.meridiandcity.org/mayors_office or at the Meridian Mayor's Office during regular business hours

at Meridian City Hall
(33 E. Idaho Avenue in Meridian)

For more information, call 888-4433

