Executive Summary

ES-05 Executive Summary - 24 CFR 91.200(c), 91.220(b)

1. Introduction

This document represents the Five-year Consolidated Plan for the City of Meridian. It covers program years 2017 through 2021.

A Consolidated Plan is required of any city, county or state that receives federal block grant dollars for housing and community development funding from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD). There are four types of HUD block grant housing and community development programs: the Community Development Block Grant (CDBG), the HOME Investment Partnerships Program (HOME), the Emergency Solutions Grant (ESG) and the Housing Opportunities for People with AIDS (HOPWA) program.

The purpose of the Consolidated Plan is:

- To identify a city's, county's or state's housing and community development needs, priorities, goals and strategies; and
- To stipulate how funds will be allocated to housing and community development activities during the five year planning period.

The City of Meridian receives approximately $349,076 in CDBG dollars each year directly from HUD. The City and nonprofit housing providers can also apply for HOME dollars through Idaho Housing and Finance Administration (IHFA); these funds are awarded on a competitive basis annually. ESG and HOPWA are also competitive and awarded based on the numbers of specialized populations and need for shelters and services.

Annually, recipients of HUD block grant funds must prepare an Action Plan that details how funds will be spent in the current program year. This document combines the Five-year Strategic Plan with the 2017 Action Plan.

A new requirement of the Consolidated Plan is incorporation of fair housing goals and strategies. The 2017-2021 Consolidated Plan for Meridian includes identification of barriers to fair housing choice (also called "contributing factors"), a prioritization of fair housing actions, and goals and a plan to address those barriers. The fair housing analysis for this Consolidated Plan follows HUD's new Assessment of Fair Housing framework, or AFH.

City of Meridian CDBG Program Mission Statement. In accordance with the overarching goals of the CDBG program, as set forth in 24 CFR § 91.1(a)(1), the City's mission is to utilize CDBG funding to develop a viable urban community by providing decent housing, providing a suitable living environment, and expanding economic opportunities principally for low/moderate income (LMI) persons. The City's primary means toward this end shall be to extend and strengthen partnerships among all levels of government and the private sector, including for-profit and non-profit organizations.

2. Summary of the objectives and outcomes identified in the Plan Needs Assessment Overview

The following high priority needs were identified in the Consolidated Plan research and will guide funding allocations during the next five years:

- Improvements in economic stability for residents who are low income, have special needs, and/or are at risk of losing shelter or housing.
- Homeownership opportunities for residents earning 80-120 percent of the Area Median Income (AMI).
- Rental assistance and deeply affordable rental units for very low income renters and/or persons at-risk of losing shelter or housing.
- Improved housing options and social and supportive services for people including, but not limited to, people with special needs and individuals/families leaving domestic violence situations.
- Improved weatherization of housing stock.
- Better accessibility. This includes sidewalks, accessible and visitable homes, recreation and service facilities, and other community facilities needing ADA improvements.

During PY2017, CDBG will fund the following activities to address high priority needs of providing emergency services to low income residents to prevent homelessness, helping low and moderate income residents achieve homeownership, and improving accessibility through sidewalk reconstruction. The expected program allocation and outcomes will include the following. Note: five segments of sidewalks in Census tract 103.21, Block Group 2, are expected to be repaired with the allocation to the Meridian Development Corporation. There are 995 households living in this Block Group. About 20 percent of these households are comprised of senior females living alone. Another 35 percent are families with young children; half are households led by a single mother.

3. Evaluation of past performance

Meridian's past Five-year Consolidated Plan was organized around the HUD initiatives of: 1) Creating a Suitable Living Environment, 2) Providing Decent Housing, and 3) Creating Economic Opportunities.

To this end, the City has focused on supporting social service provider operations (Meridian Food Bank), improving community facilities (Boys and Girls Club), addressing accessibility barriers (parks and trails), preventing homelessness with emergency assistance, and assisting with homeownership attainment for low and moderate income buyers.

All of these activities meet critical needs in Meridian. The primary challenges encountered during the last Consolidated Plan period were timing- and contact-related. To address these challenges, the City intends to have more stringent requirements for grant recipients, particularly in meeting expected schedules.

4. Summary of citizen participation process and consultation process

Citizen participation opportunities for the development of the Five-year Consolidated Plan and Fair Housing Assessment included:

- A resident survey offered online and on paper—479 residents responded;
- Stakeholder in-depth interviews—11 participants; and
- Facilitated discussion with Continuum of Care members at their January 2017 meeting.

Meridian staff promoted participation in the Consolidated Plan and Action Plan through media relations resulting in an article in the Meridian Press. Paper postage-paid response surveys and promotional flyers were distributed to locations where Meridian’s low and moderate income residents’ and members of special needs populations live, recreate, receive services or where their children attend school. Flyers and surveys were made available at:

- James Court Apartments (publicly subsidized housing)
- Meridian Elementary
- Meridian Food Bank
- Boys & Girls Club
- Meridian Library (all branches)
- Meridian City Hall (front desk and utility billing)
- Traymore Senior Apartments
- Meridian Senior Center
- Touchmark Senior Living
- Barbara Morgan STEM Academy
- Homecourt
- Meridian Community Center
- Special Olympics
- Friends of Children and Families

The Meridian fair housing analysis also leveraged elements of the State of Idaho Assessment of Fair Housing public process and the City’s Consolidated Plan 2017 resident survey.

5. Summary of public comments

Summary of Comments Received During Public Comment Period and Public Hearing

Public Comment Period Held from June 23, 2017 through July 25, 2017 with a Public Hearing on July 25, 2017.

- No written public comments were received during the public comment period
- Oral Comment from Caleb Hood received July 5, 2017

Summary: Caleb is an employee at the City of Meridian who works closely with the CDBG program. He expressed that would be smart to adjust the citizen participation plan appendix in the consolidated plan to remove certain restrictions on the City in how they have to logistically respond to public processes. In particular, he noted that the CDBG notices should comply with local publishing policies, which require publishing with only specific local newspapers that the City has a relationship with rather than tying the program and its resources to publishing in every local paper that exists in the community.

Caleb also noted that in previous consolidated plans there has been a stricter regulation on what constitutes a substantial amendment and what processes are required when a substantial amendment is needed. He explained that in the past there has been an exorbitant amount of time and energy that has been put into substantial amendment processes due the pattern of frequent changes in the City's program activities coupled with the relatively strict standards the City has held itself to in the 2012-2016 Consolidated Plan. He suggested a more flexible structure to defining what activities define and require substantial amendment processes.

- Oral Comment from Ty Palmer received July 25, 2017 in Public Hearing
Summary: Ty noted that the proposed activities in the 2017 Action Plan to fund NeighborWorks Boise and the Ada County Housing Authority to provide homebuyer assistance services to Meridian residents should require some client buy-in. He explained that he feels it is important for someone to have some "skin in the game" and accountability for their home-buying transaction. He thinks that nobody should just be handed a home or funding to assist with the cost of the home without some providing some financial support themselves.
- Oral Comment from Ralph Chappell received July 25, 2017 in Public Hearing
Summary: Ralph noted his aversion to the City accepting and utilizing federal funds for any projects in the community. He discussed his concerns with the federal debt in the United States and what he believes to be an immoral action in agreeing to utilize federal funds in his community. He actively pushed the city council to not approve the consolidated and action plans and get out of the federal CDBG program. He noted his concern that the local governments current acceptance and use of federal CDBG funds would ultimately come back to haunt his children and grandchildren as he asserted that the "ever-increasing" federal debt would cripple the younger generation's ability to thrive because they'd have to pay back the debt that the current generations had created. He invited the City Council members to explain and justify to the younger generations in Meridian why they felt it was morally acceptable to burden them with debt so that they could fund the City's CDBG program using federal money.

6. Summary of comments or views not accepted and the reasons for not accepting them

The City of Meridian accepts all public comments.

PR-10 Consultation - 91.100, 91.200(b), 91.215(I)

1. Introduction

This section of the Consolidated Plan and Action Plan describes how the City worked with stakeholders and public and private partners to develop allocation priorities—and how this consultation and coordination will continue through the planning period. Sections SP-40 and AP-95 also provide information on institutional structure and program delivery.

As noted in this section, most of the consultation that occurred was with homeless service providers and housing organizations. These organizations chose to engage more actively in the process than others. Business and civic leaders were represented through interviews with city departments representing economic development and government service provision, as well as through public hearings with City Council. Corrections programs and institutions were represented through engagement with housing providers in the form of challenges faced by residents discharging from these institutions and having difficulty finding affordable, available housing.

Lead based paint hazard mitigation needs were discussed with stakeholders as part of the focus groups and interviews. Given Meridian's very new housing stock, the relatively small CDBG allocation the City receives v. cost of mitigation, lead hazard mitigation was not identified as a top priority. City residents also have a strong record of receiving mortgage-backed loans to address home improvement needs; this is true across races and ethnicities.

Provide a concise summary of the jurisdiction's activities to enhance coordination between public and assisted housing providers and private and governmental health, mental health and service agencies (91.215(I)).

The Boise City/Ada County Housing Authority (BCACHA) was interviewed as part of the Consolidated Planning process to help the City better understand BCACHA's resources and needs. While there are no public housing units in Meridian, an estimated 200 Section 8 vouchers are currently used in Meridian—about 10 percent of the housing authority's total voucher supply. As the only public housing authority in Meridian, resources are critical for helping house Meridian's lowest income residents.

The City consultant participated in a Continuum of Care (CofC) coordinating team meeting to inform the CofC of the Consolidated Plan and AI process, discuss the needs of Meridian residents experiencing homelessness, and explore solutions for addressing those needs. Participants at this meeting included: social service organizations serving children and families, the Boise-area school district, United Way, BCACHA, area shelters, the regional health care provider, affordable housing developers, homeless advocates, and the state Housing and Finance Administration (IHFA) and Department of Labor. A commonly identified need was shelter and services for victims of domestic violence, who have limited housing and services in Meridian.

The City also engaged affordable housing developers and service providers through focus groups and interviews during the Consolidated Plan process. Eleven organizations participated in a focus group to discuss the City's greatest housing and community development needs.

In addition, interviews were conducted with BCACHA, the Ada County Highway District, the school district, and the City's community development, economic development, parks and recreation, and public works departments.

As is discussed throughout this Plan, Meridian is dedicated to increasing its affordable housing inventory to ensure residents of all income levels can find housing in Meridian—and to providing needed supportive services. To this end, City staff will continue to stay engaged with the affordable housing and supportive service community to ensure the City provides important tools and resources to affordable housing developers and supportive service providers.

Describe coordination with the Continuum of Care and efforts to address the needs of homeless persons (particularly chronically homeless individuals and families, families with children, veterans, and unaccompanied youth) and persons at risk of homelessness

Meridian is part of the Ada County Continuum of Care (CofC). Meridian staff attend the CofC meetings, participate in the annual Point in Time count, and provide planning support as needed. In the past year, the City's CDBG Administrator was nominated and elected to serve as the Fair Housing Working Group Chair within the CofC. In addition, the City's CDBG Administrator is an active participant in the CofC's Performance Management Working Group which is designed to manage the county's homelessness data and develop interventions to help address the trends reflected in the data.

Describe consultation with the Continuum(s) of Care that serves the jurisdiction's area in determining how to allocate ESG funds, develop performance standards and evaluate outcomes, and develop funding, policies and procedures for the administration of HMIS

IHFA oversees allocation of ESG for the State of Idaho, including Meridian. Allocation of ESG is discussed at the CofC meetings, which Meridian staff attend. Meridian's lack of emergency shelters and demonstrated experience with rapid rehousing programs puts the City at a disadvantage for ESG funds.

PR-15 Citizen Participation

1. Summary of citizen participation process/Efforts made to broaden citizen participation Summarize citizen participation process and how it impacted goal-setting

Citizen participation opportunities for the development of the Consolidated Plan and AI included:

- A resident survey offered online and on paper—479 respondents;
- Stakeholder in-depth interviews—11 participants; and
- Facilitated discussion with Continuum of Care members at their January 2017 meeting.

Outreach. Resident surveys were promoted through media relations resulting in an article in the Meridian Press. Paper postage-paid response surveys and promotional flyers were distributed to locations where Meridian’s low and moderate income residents and members of special needs populations live, recreate, receive services or where their children attend school.

Resident participant profile. A total of 479 residents completed the 2017 resident survey either online or on paper.

- Nearly 15 percent of survey respondents rent.
- The median household size of survey respondents is three members. One in 10 live alone and two in five live in households with five or more members.
- Meridian adults of all ages participated in the resident survey and the distribution across age cohorts is fairly even. About one in five respondents are between the ages of 25 and 34; one in four are ages 35 to 44; one in five are ages 45 to 54; 16 percent are 55 to 64 and one in five are age 65 and older.
- Slightly more than half (51%) have children age 18 or younger living in the home and 7 percent are single parent households.
- One in 10 respondents live in multigenerational households (with other adult family members).
- Most respondents (93%) are white; three percent are multiracial; 2 percent are Hispanic; and 2 percent are American Indian.
- The median income of survey respondents ranges from $50,000 to $75,000. One in 20 respondents reports household income of $20,000 or less and one in five report incomes of $150,000 or more.

While the 2017 online survey is not a random sample of residents, it does represent the experiences and perspectives a cross-section of Meridian residents, and serves to characterize themes and indicators of need from the respondents’ diverse perspectives.

Section II discusses the primary findings from citizen participation and consultation.

Stakeholders. Stakeholder consultation included in-depth interviews and a facilitated discussion with Boise City/Ada County Continuum of Care members.

All input received through these opportunities informed goal and strategy development. This input, for example, confirmed that the City should explore opportunities to expand shelter options and services for residents who have experienced domestic violence, continue to invest in making Meridian more accessible for persons with disabilities, and support creation of affordable housing.

Needs Assessment

NA-05 Overview

Needs Assessment Overview

This section of the Consolidated Plan examines housing, community and economic development needs of residents. As required by HUD, the assessment is based on an analysis of “disproportionate needs” tables—discussed below—and informed by resident input and stakeholder consultation.

The top housing, community and economic development needs, according to input from residents and stakeholders, and disproportionate needs tables, include:

- Rental housing affordable to incomes earning less than $50,000 per year. It is very difficult for households to utilize housing choice vouchers in Meridian because of the lack of affordable rentals.
- Resources to help families with children from becoming homeless. Meridian’s homeless population is largely comprised of families with children “doubled up” with family or friends.
- Domestic violence shelter serving up to four families. Overall, 17 percent of survey respondents report that they or a member of their family has experienced domestic or dating violence. Domestic violence is one of the leading causes of homelessness in Meridian.
- Public transportation and local service providers. Nearly all social service providers are located in Boise, making it difficult for local residents to receive the support they need to remain physically, mentally, and economically healthy.
- Better accessibility. Improving sidewalks and crosswalks in older downtown neighborhoods and on busy streets would improve accessibility not only for persons with disabilities, but also for families with children who walk to and from school.

NA-10 Housing Needs Assessment - 24 CFR 91.205 (a,b,c)

Summary of Housing Needs

Cost burden and severe cost burden, for both renter and owner households, are the most common housing problem in the City of Meridian. According to the HUD tables below, 1,280 renter households (41%) experience cost burden and 1,265 renter households (41%) experience severe cost burden. 1,925 owner households (52%) experience cost burden and 1,600 owner households (43%) experience severe cost burden.

To manage cost burden, according to residents who completed the survey for this Consolidated Plan,

- One in five resident survey respondents sought additional employment in the past year,
- One in 10 participants went without one or more basic needs in order to pay their housing costs. Strategies to afford to pay for housing included paying for groceries with credit, not making car repairs, and/or going without typical household consumer goods (clothing, TV/internet).

Comments:

Describe the number and type of single person households in need of housing assistance.

The data in the above tables (cost burden and severe cost burden) show “small related” households as one of the most likely to experience housing problems. Small related renter households make up 53 percent of those who face cost burden and 59 percent of those with severe cost burden. For owners, small related households make up 37 percent of those who face cost burden and 36 percent of those with severe cost burden. The only other household type that experienced a similar amount of housing problems as small related households was elderly households—this is likely due to overlap between these needs categories (elderly households may also be captured in the small related category).

Estimate the number and type of families in need of housing assistance who are disabled or victims of domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault and stalking.

Households with disabilities. Eight percent of persons in Meridian have one or more disabilities, lower than the county (10%) and the state (13%) overall. Of seniors, 32 percent has some type of disability.

The poverty rate for persons with disabilities is very low at 1.3 percent. The majority of people with disabilities that live below the poverty rate are within the age range of 18 to 64 and 75 and over. Most children who live with a disability do not live in poverty.

Given these demographics, it is estimated that fewer than 100 people with disabilities in Meridian need housing assistance. The greatest needs are home rehabilitation repair for seniors with disabilities and transportation and employment for adults with disabilities.

Victims of domestic violence. Overall, 17 percent of survey respondents report that they or a member of their family has experienced domestic or dating violence; 24 percent of these situations occurred in the last five years. One in five domestic or dating violence situations occurred while the respondent or family member was living in Meridian. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) provides the most comprehensive data on national domestic abuse and sexual assault. According to the CDC, nearly 1 in 5 (18.3%) women and 1 in 71 men (1.4%) reported experiencing rape at some time in their lives—statistics that are fairly close that reported in the Meridian survey.

The types of services survivors sought and used include counseling, judicial processes, medical assistance and temporary housing/shelter. In interviews, stakeholders described the needs and challenges experienced by Meridian families fleeing domestic violence:

- Shelter and supportive service providers are located in Boise, further isolating victims of domestic violence from their community connections and network in Meridian.
- The lack of affordable housing and transportation services in Meridian makes it unlikely that families that flee domestic violence in Meridian are able to return to the community. Children lose their home, school and neighborhood.
- One of the three primary categories of homeless children in the West Ada School District is children whose mother has fled the home due to domestic violence.
- The typical income of a mother fleeing domestic violence is less than $8,000 per year, and this income comes from TANF (Temporary Assistance for Needy Families) and food stamps. The Women’s and Children’s Alliance (WCA) has grants and vouchers to provide transitional housing support, but Meridian’s rents exceed the guidelines (Fair Market Rents) and the family can rarely pay the difference.
- Meridian needs a (small) domestic violence shelter with capacity for up to four families (four rooms). WCA’s Boise shelter has 15 rooms accommodating up to 54 beds.
- Funding is needed for another case manager, child care staff and court advocates. Currently child care and court advocates are mostly staffed by volunteers.

What are the most common housing problems?

Cost burden and severe cost burden, for both renter and owner households, are the most common housing problem in the City of Meridian. Table 7 shows that 1,280 renter households (41%) experience cost burden and 1,265 renter households (41%) experience severe cost burden. 1,925 owner households (52%) experience cost burden and 1,600 owner households (43%) experience severe cost burden.

Are any populations/household types more affected than others by these problems?

“Small related” renter and owner households are the most affected by cost burden in numbers and proportion. Table 9 shows 1,400 small related renter households and 1,105 small related owner households are cost burdened, which combined make up 45 percent of all households that are cost burdened.

Describe the characteristics and needs of Low-income individuals and families with children (especially extremely low-income) who are currently housed but are at imminent risk of either residing in shelters or becoming unsheltered 91.205(c)/91.305(c)). Also discuss the needs of formerly homeless families and individuals who are receiving rapid re-housing assistance and are nearing the termination of that assistance

For the purposes of this Consolidated Plan, low income individuals and families at risk of homeless were defined as those who have skipped a housing payment or sought additional employment to pay expenses and/or have sacrificed basic needs to pay their housing costs. Households that have experienced foreclosures are another measure of the proportion of residents at risk of homelessness.

Note: Meridian does not receive funds for rapid re-housing assistance.

Skipped housing payment or sought additional work to pay expenses. In the past six months, 4 percent of resident survey respondents report missing a mortgage or rent payment. Nearly 60 percent attribute this to reduced work hours and 26 percent cite job loss or medical bills. One in five resident survey respondents sought additional employment in the past year in order to pay housing expenses.

Sacrifice basic needs. In the past year, at least one in 10 participants in the resident survey reduced or went without one or more basic needs in order to pay their housing costs. Strategies to afford to pay for housing included paying for groceries with credit, not making car repairs, and/or going without typical household consumer goods (clothing, TV/internet).

Foreclosure history and risk. Nearly one in 10 resident survey respondents (7%) lost a home to foreclosure in the past 10 years. Half of those who lost homes in foreclosure found housing in the private rental market; 14 percent moved in with family or friends (doubled up). One in 20 (5%) owe more on their home than it is currently worth.

If a jurisdiction provides estimates of the at-risk population(s), it should also include a description of the operational definition of the at-risk group and the methodology used to generate the estimates:

Please see above. Resident survey questions about housing and economic stability were used to identify at-risk populations.

Specify particular housing characteristics that have been linked with instability and an increased risk of homelessness

Overall, 2 percent of the residents participating in the survey report being homeless in the past five years. Reduced work hours and moving away from domestic violence are factors at least one-third of these residents report contributing to their episode of homelessness. Stakeholders report that domestic violence is the leading cause of homelessness in Meridian, especially for families and children.

NA-15 Disproportionately Greater Need: Housing Problems – 91.205 (b)(2)

Assess the need of any racial or ethnic group that has disproportionately greater need in comparison to the needs of that category of need as a whole.

Introduction

A disproportionately greater need exists when the members of a racial or ethnic group at a particular income level experience housing problems at a greater rate (10 percentage points or more) than the income level as a whole. For example, assume that 60 percent of all low-income households within a jurisdiction have a housing problem and 72 percent of low-income Hispanic households have a housing problem. In this case, low-income Hispanic households have a disproportionately greater need. Per the regulations at 91.205(b)(2), 91.305(b)(2), and 91.405, a grantee must provide an assessment for each disproportionately greater need identified. Although the purpose of these tables is to analyze the relative level of need for each race and ethnic category, the data also provide information for the jurisdiction as a whole that can be useful in describing overall need.

Disproportionate housing needs in a population are defined as having one or more of the following four housing problems in greater proportion than the jurisdiction as a whole or than Whites: 1) Living in housing that lacks complete kitchen facilities, 2) Living in housing that lacks complete plumbing facilities, 3) More than one person per room (overcrowded), and 4) Cost burden greater than 30 percent of Area Median Income (AMI).

NA-20 Disproportionately Greater Need: Severe Housing Problems – 91.205 (b)(2)

Assess the need of any racial or ethnic group that has disproportionately greater need in comparison to the needs of that category of need as a whole.

Introduction

This section discusses severe housing needs as defined by HUD, using HUD-prepared housing needs data. The tables show the number of Meridian households that have severe housing needs by income, race, and ethnicity. Needs are defined as one or more of the following housing problems: 1. Housing lacks complete kitchen facilities, 2. Housing lacks complete plumbing facilities, 3. Household has more than 1.5 persons per room, 4. Household cost burden exceeds 50 percent.

0%-30% of Area Median Income

NA-25 Disproportionately Greater Need: Housing Cost Burdens – 91.205 (b)(2)

Assess the need of any racial or ethnic group that has disproportionately greater need in comparison to the needs of that category of need as a whole.

Introduction:

Cost burden is experienced when a household pays more than 30 percent of their gross household income toward housing costs, including utilities, insurance, and property taxes.

Discussion:

Households facing housing cost burden disproportionately to City of Meridian households as a whole, and/or to Whites are seen in the following populations and rates.

- Native Americans disproportionately experienced severe cost burden by a rate of 25 percentage points
- Pacific Islanders disproportionately experienced cost burden by a rate of 80 percentage points

NA-30 Disproportionately Greater Need: Discussion – 91.205(b)(2)

Are there any Income categories in which a racial or ethnic group has disproportionately greater need than the needs of that income category as a whole?

No, not as captured in the disproportionate needs tables because data on needs by non-White Hispanic populations is very small. This makes meaningful comparison of disproportionate needs challenging.

If they have needs not identified above, what are those needs?

N/A

Are any of those racial or ethnic groups located in specific areas or neighborhoods in your community?

Racial and ethnic concentrations only exist in the City of Caldwell near The College of Idaho, west of Meridian.

NA-35 Public Housing – 91.205(b)

Introduction

The City of Meridian does not own or oversee any public housing units. Meridian is part of the geographic area served by the Boise City Ada County Housing Authority (BCACHA). Most BCACHA vouchers are used within the City of Boise. The BCACHA currently administers 200 vouchers to residents of Meridian. The BCACHA does not have any public housing units in Meridian.

The vouchers are monitored to identify areas of concentration, which rarely occur, since the community’s population is mostly White, non-Hispanic.

The pre-populated HUD tables below represent vouchers and characteristics of residents for all clientele served by BCACHA.

Section 504 Needs Assessment: Describe the needs of public housing tenants and applicants on the waiting list for accessible units:

N/A; Meridian has no public housing.

Most immediate needs of residents of Public Housing and Housing Choice voucher holders

According to BCACHA, the most immediate needs of voucher holders in Meridian are 1) Lack of public transportation to access services (mostly located in Boise), and 2) Finding available rentals.

Landlords are willing to accept Section 8, but finding units in smaller complexes (such as those located in Meridian) is challenging. Voucher holders generally have the most success with larger apartment complexes, most of which are located in Boise. Nearly 90 percent of units in Meridian are single family detached homes.

Meridian has a critical lack of supply of affordable housing, particularly for the lowest income households. Some of this is due to public sentiment and an anti-growth mentality. Appetite for new construction is limited.

Meridian also lacks services for low income residents. There is not a low income health clinic, no facility to address substance abuse challenges, and no residential treatment program.

How do these needs compare to the housing needs of the population at large

The needs of low income Meridian residents with housing vouchers are similar to those of low income renters without vouchers: affordable rental housing is difficult to find and supportive services and transportation is limited in Meridian.

NA-40 Homeless Needs Assessment – 91.205(c)

Introduction:

As discussed above, Meridian is part of the Boise City/Ada County CofC. The City is represented in the Region 7 annual PIT count and survey of persons experiencing homelessness. Region 7 only includes Ada County.

The table below shows the results of the 2016 PIT count for Region 7. Region 7 has the highest number of total homeless individuals compared to all other regions in Idaho (867). The region also has the highest proportion of homeless who are sheltered, yet has the third highest proportion of homeless who are unsheltered; suggesting that the region is trying to find shelter for those experiencing homelessness (first is Region 1 with 257 unsheltered homeless out of 450).

The January 2016 PIT count identified 125 unsheltered and 742 sheltered homeless persons. These individuals represent 38.6 percent of the total homeless population in Idaho.

The number of persons experiencing homelessness in 2016 was the highest Region 7 has experienced in the past 5 years. The low was 694 individuals in 2013. The 2016 PIT attributes this increase to a better identification of persons who are homeless. The count report notes that more experienced staff, as well as expanded resources (including coordination with school districts and reservations) resulted in a more accurate count than in past years.

The West Ada School District (WASD) reports that 476 children were homeless in 2016. This is up considerably from 1996, when just three children were homeless.

Comments:

Estimate the number and type of families in need of housing assistance for families with children and the families of veterans.

According to the PIT count, persons experiencing homelessness in January 2016 in Region 7 were mostly adults. Sixty-four were households with children and all but 3 were in a shelter. The majority of the unsheltered homeless were adults. Four were chronically homeless individuals.

Fifty-three of the homeless were unaccompanied youth, eight of whom were under age 18 and all sheltered.

One hundred fifty-seven of the 867 persons experiencing homelessness in January 2016 were veterans. The majority—138 were sheltered.

The data in Region 7 were too limited to report youth subpopulation characteristics. Of the adults, 232 had a severe and persistent mental illness and nine struggled with substance abuse. Ninety-seven were victims of domestic violence.

As mentioned above, the West Ada School District (WASD) monitors homeless children using a broader definition than the PIT count; they consider families who are doubled up/living with others. By this measure, 476 children were homeless in fall 2016.

There are three categories of homeless families with kids in WASD schools:

- 1) A single mom, typically homeless due to domestic violence a partner’s substance abuse or her own substance abuse;

2) A single parent who got sick and doesn't get paid medical leave, couldn't pay rent and was evicted and has medical debt; and

3) Two parent household where parents are employed/employable.

The final category is homeless unaccompanied youth. In 2016, WASD had 76 homeless unaccompanied teens. They leave home because they're not safe or supported at home or may be close to aging out of foster care. These children are not living with a parent or guardian and are often couch surfing from friend to friend.

NA-45 Non-Homeless Special Needs Assessment - 91.205 (b,d)

Introduction:

This section uses a customized model to estimate the population, characteristics and needs of non-homeless special populations in Meridian. Section II, which is appended to this section and discusses the findings from stakeholder consultation and the resident survey, supplements this section.

Overall, the top needs include:

- Domestic violence shelter serving up to four families. Overall, 17 percent of survey respondents report that they or a member of their family has experienced domestic or dating violence. Domestic violence is one of the leading causes of homelessness in Meridian.
- Public transportation and local service providers. Nearly all social service providers are located in Boise, making it difficult for local residents to receive the support they need to remain physically, mentally, and economically healthy.
- Better accessibility. Improving sidewalks and crosswalks in older downtown neighborhoods and on busy streets would improve accessibility not only for persons with disabilities, but also for families with children who walk to and from school.

Describe the characteristics of special needs populations in your community:

Elderly. HUD estimates that there are 6,615 households in Meridian with residents who are 62 years and older. Of these senior residents, about 1,120 have some type of housing problem—mostly cost burden. This level of need—about 17 percent of elderly households—is small relative to that of other special needs groups.

In numbers, more elderly owners than renters are affected by housing problems. This could be because elderly renters are one of the most common types of residents to occupy public housing (albeit in the greater region).

Persons with mental, physical and developmental disabilities. There are about 6,600 non-institutionalized residents with a mental, physical or developmental disability in Meridian. Of these, 1,906 have hearing difficulties, 1,080 have vision difficulties, 2,440 have cognitive challenges, 2,855 have ambulatory challenges, 1,200 have self-care limitations, and 1,700 cannot live completely independently.

Persons with alcohol and drug addiction. Individuals (18+) with substance abuse dependence in Meridian are estimated at 6,100. This is based on regional estimates of unaddressed drug and alcohol abuse by the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Service Administration (SAMHSA), applied to Meridian's population.

Victims of domestic violence. Overall, 17 percent of survey respondents report that they or a member of their family has experienced domestic or dating violence; 24 percent of these situations occurred in the last five years. One in five domestic or dating violence situations occurred while the respondent or family member was living in Meridian.

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) provides the most comprehensive data on national domestic abuse and sexual assault. According to the CDC, nearly 1 in 5 (18.3%) women and 1 in 71 men (1.4%) reported experiencing rape at some time in their lives—statistics that are fairly close that reported in the Meridian survey.

Applying these estimates to Meridian’s population, suggests that an estimated 3,200 residents have experienced domestic violence.

What are the housing and supportive service needs of these populations and how are these needs determined?

Please see the narrative above.

NA-50 Non-Housing Community Development Needs – 91.215 (f)

Describe the jurisdiction’s need for Public Facilities:

Public facilities were not as highly ranked as public infrastructure improvements in terms of overall needs in Meridian. Of the possible public facilities needing improvements, residents and stakeholders prioritized parks and recreation facilities. One resident said that pools should be better distributed throughout the City’s neighborhoods.

How were these needs determined?

Input from residents and stakeholders through the consultation conducted for the Consolidated Plan.

Describe the jurisdiction’s need for Public Improvements:

Survey respondents rated improvements to sidewalks and roads as most needed, in addition to public transportation. It is important to note that the City of Meridian has limited authority to address these needs, as the City’s roads are managed by the Ada County Highway District (ACHD). Each year, Meridian submits a request list to ACHD for projects—and requests always exceed available resources.

ACHD also works with the City to identify projects for Safe Routes to Schools or opportunities to partner for roadway/sidewalk improvements as part of other projects, such as an economic development effort or in partnership with a utility when they are making improvements.

ACHD currently has two major (non-maintenance) projects scheduled for Meridian’s downtown core (LMI area) in the next five years. One is to widen the street, repair sidewalks and fill gaps in sidewalks along Pine Avenue, between Locust Grove Road and Meridian Road. The other is to widen Meridian Road and fill-in sidewalk gaps, between Cherry/Fairview Avenue and Ustick Road.

The City’s Public Works Department also identified street lighting as a top need, in addition to sewer and water improvements in older parts of Meridian. Public Works is actively working to address infrastructure replacement in downtown. The City Council recently allocated $50,000 in funding for streetlight improvements. Meridian immediately responds to health and safety issues (e.g., lead was identified in a pipe in a system servicing a manufactured home park, which was replaced).

How were these needs determined?

Input from residents and stakeholders through the consultation conducted for the Consolidated Plan and resident survey findings; interviews with ACHD and Meridian Public Works Department.

Describe the jurisdiction's need for Public Services:

Local supportive services for persons with special needs and lower income individuals were mentioned the most by residents and stakeholders. Nearly all social service providers are located in Boise, making it difficult for local residents to connect to support. Some stakeholders identified a health clinic for low income residents as an acute need.

How were these needs determined?

Housing Market Analysis

Housing Market Analysis Overview:

Utilizing data from the Comprehensive Housing Affordability Strategy (CHAS)—a unique dataset maintained by HUD—a customized model was developed to project housing needs over a five-year period. The projections were completed for:

- Low- and moderate-income households by income level,
- Renters and owners,
- Elderly households,
- Single person households,
- Large families,
- and Households with disabilities (by disability type).

Households by income level.

- HUD estimates that 1,740 households in Meridian are extremely low income, earning less than 30 percent of the area median income. Of these households, 93 percent have some type of housing problem (cost burden, overcrowdedness, substandard housing). Today, 1,615 extremely low income households have a need. By 2021, assuming growth rates similar to past years and no change in overall housing needs, this will total 2,253.
- 2,260 Meridians are very low income, earning 30-50 percent of the AMI. Eighty-two percent of these households have housing needs (1,854 households). In 2021, very low income households with housing needs will total 2,587.
- 3,845 Meridians are low income, earning 50-80 percent of the AMI. Sixty percent of these households have housing needs (2,300 households). In 2021, low income households with housing needs will total 3,209.
- 2,570 Meridians are moderate income, earning 80-100 percent of the AMI. Forty percent of these households have housing needs (1,040 households). In 2021, moderate income households with housing needs will total 1,451.

Households by tenure. HUD estimates that 48 percent of renter households have housing needs, a total 3,119. By 2021, this will increase to 4,352. An estimated 18 percent of owners have housing needs, or 3,690. By 2021, this will total 5,149.

Elderly households. The majority of elderly households in Meridian do not have housing needs—HUD estimates that 17 percent of the City’s 6,615 elderly households have housing problems (1,120 with needs). This is estimated to reach 1,563 by 2022.

Single person households. Just 10 percent of single person households are estimated to have housing needs (633 households). This is estimated to reach 884 by 2021.

Large family households. Twenty percent of the City's 3,850 large family households have housing problems (905). This is estimated to reach 884 by 2021.

Households with disabilities. An estimated 6,600 households have members with hearing, vision, cognitive, ambulatory, self-care and independent living difficulty. HUD CHAS tables on the income distribution and housing needs of persons with disabilities were not available at the time this Consolidated Plan was produced. Instead, poverty is used as a proxy for housing need. The 2007 3-year ACS provides data on the employment status and poverty level of Meridians with disabilities. This table suggests that about one-third of persons living in poverty have a disability and that most Meridians with disabilities are active in the labor force and earn above-poverty wages. About 10 percent of persons with disabilities live in poverty. If this is true in 2017, an estimated 660 households with members who have disabilities have housing needs. This is estimated to reach 921 by 2021.

Homeless and at-risk households. The West Ada School District has identified 476 children who are living in precarious housing situations, mostly doubled up with families and friends. These individuals cannot afford rents and/or cannot qualify to rent because of lack of a security deposit and/or past rental histories, substance abuse and mental health challenges.

MA-10 Number of Housing Units – 91.210(a)&(b)(2)

Introduction

This section discusses housing supply in Meridian.

The U.S. Census and HUD estimate that 87 percent of the City’s housing stock is made up of single family homes, followed by twin homes/triplexes/fourplexes at 5 percent. The City intends to increase the proportion of attached and multi-unit homes in certain parts of the City (Downtown Meridian) through more flexible zoning, to increase the variety of housing types available to residents who prefer more urban living environments.

Describe the number and targeting (income level/type of family served) of units assisted with federal, state, and local programs.

The National Housing Preservation Database is the most comprehensive listing of publicly-supported housing, as well as units that are at risk of losing their affordability due to expiring contracts. The database reports developments that provide affordable rental housing in Meridian and identifies 10 properties with 543 units with some type of subsidy requirement. Of these, all are owned and operated by private sector developers. Many were subsidized with federal rural development programs and, except for a few properties, have subsidies that expire in the 2020s. It is unclear how the private sector will operate these units once they expire, given Meridian’s tight rental market.

Provide an assessment of units expected to be lost from the affordable housing inventory for any reason, such as expiration of Section 8 contracts.

Please see the narrative section above for the details.

Does the availability of housing units meet the needs of the population?

No. A gap analysis conducted for this study found a shortage of rental units for households earning less than $25,000 per year. There are 2,168 renters earning less than $25,000 per year and just 820 affordable rental units. This leaves a gap of 1,348 units. This gap has increased during the past five years; when the last Consolidated Plan was conducted the rental gap was 1,077 units. Renters earning more than $25,000 –particularly those who are earning $35,000 and more, where rental units are clustered— have an easier time affording Meridian’s rental market.

Nearly 90 percent of renters said they would like to buy in Meridian and, as discussed earlier in this document, owning may be less expensive on a monthly basis. As shown below, however, renters who want to be homebuyers must earn at least $50,000 before a reasonable proportion of homes in Meridian are affordable to buy.

MA-15 Housing Market Analysis: Cost of Housing - 91.210(a)

Introduction

This section discusses the cost of housing and affordability challenges in Meridian.

The median home value last reported by the U.S. Census (2015) was $213,100. Although still relatively affordable, this median is up considerably from 2000, when it was $119,800. Median home values have increased faster than median rents, as shown below.

The median rent reported by HUD is significantly lower than reported by residents surveyed for this Consolidated Plan. Renters reported a median rent of $1,100 and utility costs of $221, for a total cost of $1,321. Owners reported a median mortgage payment of $1,150, HOA fees of $42, and utilities of $225—for a total cost of $1,417. This is only $100 less than median costs for a renter. With the federal mortgage interest deduction, it is likely more advantageous to rent.

Data Source Comments:

Is there sufficient housing for households at all income levels?

No. The last Consolidated Plan identified a shortage of 1,077 rental units to serve Meridian households earning $25,000 and less (rents of $625 and less, including utilities). This gap increased in the past 5 years to 1,348 units. The increase was largely due to additional households falling below the poverty line.

How is affordability of housing likely to change considering changes to home values and/or rents?

Affordability is unlikely to improve without market interventions due to the strong demand for living in Meridian and the limited supply of affordable rentals.

How do HOME rents / Fair Market Rent compare to Area Median Rent? How might this impact your strategy to produce or preserve affordable housing?

The rents listed above are much lower than the rents reported by renters surveyed for this study, suggesting that FMRs are not keeping pace with the rental market. This, combined with the extremely low vacancy rate in Meridian, means that low income renters have very limited choices in Meridian.

MA-20 Housing Market Analysis: Condition of Housing – 91.210(a)

Introduction

This section describes the condition of housing in the City of Meridian. Most homes in Meridian were built after 2000. As such, most are in good condition and are not at risk of lead based paint hazards.

Definitions

The City defines units in standard condition as those that meet building and fire codes. Units that are in “substandard condition but suitable for rehabilitation” are those which need rehabilitation but are not lacking major systems such as plumbing and heating. The units that survey respondents identified as “unlivable” are considered substandard and potentially suitable for rehabilitation.

As shown below (Year Unit Built), Meridian’s housing stock is very new and, as such, is in good condition.

Need for Owner and Rental Rehabilitation

Meridian’s housing stock is very new and, as such, is in good condition.

Residents surveyed for this Consolidated Plan were asked about their homes’ repair needs. The greatest proportion of respondents (about one-third) identified landscaping and driveways in need of repair.

Similarly, most residents do not have interior repair or replacement needs. Weatherization and flooring are the exception. The city will explore funding to address weatherization needs during the Five-year Consolidated Planning cycle.

Estimated Number of Housing Units Occupied by Low or Moderate Income Families with LBP Hazards

Housing built before 1940 has the highest risk of lead based paint. After the 1940s, paint manufacturers voluntarily began reducing the amount of lead they added to paint. Lead was banned from residential use in 1978. As such, housing built prior to 1980—and especially 1940—is thought to have some risk of lead based paint.

The City of Meridian has some of the newest housing stock in the region and state—and, as such, very low risks of lead based paint hazards. Nearly 95 percent of the City’s housing units were built after lead-based paint was banned.

According to the HUD data above, as many as 2,800 housing units in the City of Meridian may be at-risk of containing lead based paint. The 2015 American Community Survey estimates this number at 2,500. These units were developed before 1980. More than 1,700 are owner-occupied and 1,100 are renter-occupied. It is important to note that the number of these units identified as occupied by children is more than the total number of units at-risk of lead paint; this appears to be inaccurate data.

MA-30 Homeless Facilities and Services – 91.210(c)

Introduction

There are no formal facilities and housing targeted to homeless households located in Meridian. Those that exist are provided on an informal basis (e.g., by churches, families and friends). The City contacted regional service providers and the local Continuum of Care Manager to determine if there are any facilities aimed at meeting the needs of the homeless population and there were agreed to be no reported formal facilities that provide housing facilities to homeless persons in Meridian.

Table 39 - Facilities and Housing Targeted to Homeless Households

Data Source Comments:

Describe mainstream services, such as health, mental health, and employment services to the extent those services are used to complement services targeted to homeless persons

Meridian is a rapidly-growing community just west of Boise, which is the State capital and the center of the region's employment, education, health care, and related service provision. Meridian residents needing to access mainstream services are more likely to find them in Boise—although Meridian does have a handful of providers active in the community. Health and mental health services are available through local health providers, yet none are tailored to low income populations and can take months to access, particularly mental health care.

Charitable Assistance to Community's Homeless, or CATCH, provides some assistance through its case management program. The West Ada School District provides the most direct services to families. The School District provides direct assistance of: clothing/backpacks/school supplies, waivers of activity fees, weekend food supplements, a clinic for immunizations/glasses/hearing aids, and day care and before and after school care.

A newly created program, "Housing+High School=Success" provides a $100 stipend to families that are allowing teens to live with them if the teen stays in school. Meridian's Chamber of Commerce has raised $20,000 to fund the program.

List and describe services and facilities that meet the needs of homeless persons, particularly chronically homeless individuals and families, families with children, veterans and their families, and unaccompanied youth. If the services and facilities are listed on screen SP-40 Institutional Delivery Structure or screen MA-35 Special Needs Facilities and Services, describe how these facilities and services specifically address the needs of these populations.

Meridian does not have any facilities that target persons who are experiencing homelessness. Residents in Meridian must seek shelter and services with friends or families or in neighboring communities. Given the City's small CDBG allocation, distance from services to serve persons experiencing homelessness, and lack of local resources to commit to and address homelessness, this is not a priority for the next 5 years.

MA-35 Special Needs Facilities and Services – 91.210(d)

Introduction

This section provides an overview of the needs of special populations, focusing on facilities and services. The analysis of the needs and services available to special needs populations conducted for this Consolidated Plan found the top needs to be: 1) Affordable rental housing, 2) Supportive services, and 3) Accessible sidewalks and street crossings.

Including the elderly, frail elderly, persons with disabilities (mental, physical, developmental), persons with alcohol or other drug addictions, persons with HIV/AIDS and their families, public housing residents and any other categories the jurisdiction may specify, and describe their supportive housing needs

Elderly and frail elderly. HUD estimates that there are 6,615 households in Meridian with residents who are 62 years and older. Of these senior residents, about 1,120 have some type of housing problem—mostly cost burden. This level of need—about 17 percent of elderly households—is small relative to that of other special needs groups.

Approximately 300 Meridian residents meet the definition of “frail elderly,” defined as an elderly person who requires assistance with three or more activities of daily living, such as bathing, walking, and performing light housework.

The number of seniors who need supportive housing is small given that seniors in Meridian generally have high incomes. As the population ages, however, in-home health care will be in greater demand.

Persons with mental, physical and developmental disabilities. There are about 6,600 non-institutionalized residents with a mental, physical or developmental disability in Meridian. Of these, 1,906 have hearing difficulties, 1,080 have vision difficulties, 2,440 have cognitive challenges, 2,855 have ambulatory challenges, 1,200 have self-care limitations, and 1,700 cannot live completely independently.

The supportive housing needs of these residents are not well defined or well known.

Persons with alcohol and drug addiction. Individuals (18+) with substance abuse dependence in Meridian are estimated at 6,100. This is based on regional estimates of unaddressed drug and alcohol abuse by the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Service Administration (SAMHSA), applied to Meridian’s population.

Substance abuse centers exist in Meridian, but are not always accessible by low income individuals because of lack of insurance or the insurance they have won’t pay for treatment.

Victims of domestic violence. Overall, 17 percent of survey respondents report that they or a member of their family has experienced domestic or dating violence; 24 percent of these situations occurred in the last five years. One in five domestic or dating violence situations occurred while the respondent or family member was living in Meridian.

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) provides the most comprehensive data on national domestic abuse and sexual assault. According to the CDC, nearly 1 in 5 (18.3%) women and 1 in 71 men (1.4%) reported experiencing rape at some time in their lives—statistics that are fairly close that reported in the Meridian survey.

Applying these estimates to Meridian’s population, suggests that an estimated 3,200 residents have experienced domestic violence.

Victims of domestic violence lack housing options and services in Meridian. Service providers—and the resident survey—attribute much of the City’s homelessness to lack of a shelter/transitional housing, and permanent supportive housing targeted to families fleeing domestic violence.

*Meridian does not have public housing nor a large HIV/AIDS population.

Describe programs for ensuring that persons returning from mental and physical health institutions receive appropriate supportive housing

Meridian does not have any facilities that target persons who are returning from mental and physical health institutions other than what charitable organizations and churches may choose to provide. Residents in Meridian must seek shelter and services with friends or families or in neighboring communities. Given the City's small CDBG allocation, distance from service centers, and lack of local resources to commit to such programs, this is not a priority for the next 5 years.

Specify the activities that the jurisdiction plans to undertake during the next year to address the housing and supportive services needs identified in accordance with 91.215(e) with respect to persons who are not homeless but have other special needs. Link to one-year goals. 91.315(e)

The City will address the needs of low income youth by funding scholarship programs for children attending programs at the Boys and Girls Club of Ada County. The Meridian Food Bank will receive CDBG funds for operations. The City will also allocate a small portion of CDBG to help with emergency rental assistance to help lower income individuals avoid homelessness.

For entitlement/consortia grantees: Specify the activities that the jurisdiction plans to undertake during the next year to address the housing and supportive services needs identified in accordance with 91.215(e) with respect to persons who are not homeless but have other special needs. Link to one-year goals. (91.220(2))

MA-40 Barriers to Affordable Housing – 91.210(e)

Negative Effects of Public Policies on Affordable Housing and Residential Investment

Section V, a supplement to this Consolidated Plan, analyzes public and private barriers to housing choice in Meridian. Stakeholders were also interviewed about housing barriers. Barriers associated with tax policies, land use controls and zoning, building codes, fees and charges, growth limits, and policies affecting the return on residential investment were not identified as barriers. On the contrary, the review found a favorable environment for development and a migration toward more diverse housing types.

The City has recently expressed a commitment to creating more diverse housing types through its redevelopment plan for downtown. The plan states that creating diverse housing opportunities for different housing needs and life-cycles in downtown Meridian is important to support new businesses and activity. A healthy housing mix will also help to draw people downtown and ensure 24-7 activity. Housing created or redeveloped as part of the downtown plan is expected to include apartments, town homes, condominiums, duplexes, and single family homes.

The only development or finance barrier found was public resistance to affordable housing development.

Other barriers in Meridian include:

Many renters do not have downpayments or credit histories needed to purchase homes. As earlier sections of the Market Analysis demonstrated, buying in Meridian can be cheaper than renting.

Many Meridian residents are resistant to continued development and growth, especially as traffic congestion has increased. Development of affordable housing is met with even greater resistance due to bias against low income residents.

Rental housing is very limited in the City, and the housing that exists is generally in poor condition and sometimes not code compliant (particularly rental housing).

Supportive services are mostly located in Boise and public transportation to and from Boise is lacking.

Many housing units are not accessible or visitable.

Landlords do not understand fair housing laws on companion animals and many people are turned away from housing because they have companion animals. People prefer to sleep on street or car than leave animals.

Scoring criteria for the state's Low Income Housing Tax Credit (LIHTC) program makes it difficult to develop in a community like Meridian due to preferences for small, rural communities.

MA-45 Non-Housing Community Development Assets – 91.215 (f)

Introduction

This section discusses non-housing community development needs for the City of Meridian and the broader region, which is the typical level of geographic analysis for employment and economic development needs. Data are provided by HUD and derived from special employer-household and business censuses.

Based on the Business Activity table above, what are the major employment sectors within your jurisdiction?

The educational and health care industry employs the largest number of workers and supplies the most jobs—at about one-fourth of all workers and jobs. The next closest industries (12-17% of workers/jobs) are professional/technical and retail trade.

Describe the workforce and infrastructure needs of the business community:

Meridian’s workforce is generally highly educated and has skills that meet the needs of local businesses. Meridian faces some competition for workforce (especially younger workers, who prefer urban living) and businesses from Boise, the employment center for the region. Employees typically want to work where they live and live where they work. To address that need, Meridian’s Mayor identified growing family wage jobs as one of her top five priorities and is working toward that end. Over the past several years, the Economic Excellence Team along with the Mayor have visited hundreds of business owners to help identify industries and service sectors that would be beneficial to the community and to businesses bottom-line. The focus on value added jobs will be delivered through strategic Business Enterprise Areas. In addition, Meridian’s partnership with educational institutions creates a solid foundation for success. Companies that provide family wage jobs require educated workers, and Meridian continues to see an expansion of programs offered to create a highly educated workforce.

Describe any major changes that may have an economic impact, such as planned local or regional public or private sector investments or initiatives that have affected or may affect job and business growth opportunities during the planning period. Describe any needs for workforce development, business support or infrastructure these changes may create.

A recent analysis of Downtown Meridian found demand for infrastructure investment and more flexible zoning to accommodate both commercial and workforce housing demand. The City is in the process of implementing a redevelopment vision for downtown that allows for commercial and residential growth—and keep Meridian competitive for both employers and workers in the region. The City realizes that the 21st century economy requires flexibility. Over the last several decades, Meridian has evolved from a primarily agricultural-based economy to one increasingly based on innovation and creativity. The City is striving to strengthen its competitive position by creating an environment and infrastructure where industries can create, respond, and adjust rapidly. Several of the goals, objectives and action items contained in the City’s Comprehensive Plan are meant to improve economic prosperity by ensuring that the economy grows in ways that strengthen industries, retain and create good jobs across a variety of sectors, increase average income, and stimulate economic investment in the community. A strong and diverse economy provides the financial support and stability for Meridian residents that will ensure that public facilities, services, and quality of life are superior.

How do the skills and education of the current workforce correspond to employment opportunities in the jurisdiction?

As discussed above, Meridian’s workforce is well educated and generally matches the skill levels needed by primary employers.

Describe any current workforce training initiatives, including those supported by Workforce Investment Boards, community colleges and other organizations. Describe how these efforts will support the jurisdiction's Consolidated Plan.

The City does not have any explicit workforce training initiatives.

Does your jurisdiction participate in a Comprehensive Economic Development Strategy (CEDS)?

No

If so, what economic development initiatives are you undertaking that may be coordinated with the Consolidated Plan? If not, describe other local/regional plans or initiatives that impact economic growth.

Economic growth in Meridian is primarily driven by continued migration to the Western U.S. and relocation of businesses to the region due to the favorable business environment, the well educated workforce, and low cost operations (especially relative to the west coast, which has become prohibitively expensive for workforce). Regional initiatives such as the Boise Valley Tax Reimbursement Incentive, which rewards companies to bring high paying jobs to the region, are generally supported by Meridian civic leaders. However, the effect of such initiatives on the City of Meridian depends upon where both businesses and residents decide to locate.

Discussion

Please see above.

MA-50 Needs and Market Analysis Discussion

Are there areas where households with multiple housing problems are concentrated? (include a definition of "concentration")

For the purposes of this Consolidated Plan, "concentration" is defined as the following, consistent with HUD's guidelines for the definition in fair housing analyses:

A "minority area" (also known as a racially/ethnically-impacted area) is any neighborhood or Census tract in which: 1) The percentage of households in a particular racial or ethnic minority group is at least 20 percentage points higher than the percentage of that minority group for the housing market areas; 2) The total percentage of minority persons is at least 20 percentage points higher than the total percentage of all minorities in the housing market areas as a whole; or 3) If a metropolitan area, the total percentage of minority persons exceeds 50 percent of its population.

The "housing market area" is the region where it is likely that renters and purchasers would be drawn for a particular housing project. Generally the housing market area is the county.

A racially concentrated area of poverty is a Census tract that has family poverty rates exceeding 40 percent and a more than 50 percent minority concentration.

According to the HUD maps of housing cost burden shown in the Grantee Unique Appendices, only one Census tract in Meridian has a relatively high rate of households with housing cost burden. This Census tract has a similar racial, ethnic and national origin distribution as surrounding Census tracts. The HUD maps referenced are listed below and are also shown in the City of Meridian AI/AFH.

- HUD AFFH Tool Jurisdiction Map of Meridian, Map 6 Housing Burden and Race/Ethnicity, 2010, and
- HUD AFFH Tool Jurisdiction Map of Meridian, Map 6, Housing Burden and National Origin, 2010.

Are there any areas in the jurisdiction where racial or ethnic minorities or low-income families are concentrated? (include a definition of "concentration")

Concentrations are different than segregation because they can be due to housing and locational preferences –and not be solely due to impediments. Concentrations are identified as: Census tracts in which the proportion of a protected class is 20 percentage points higher than that in the market area overall, which is specified as the county. This threshold applies to individual racial categories and in non-metro areas, and Census tracts that are more than 50 percent minority. Minority residents are defined as those identifying as Hispanic/Latino and/or a Non-White race.

No census tracts in Meridian have majority-minority concentrations. Two minority concentrations exist in nearby Nampa and Caldwell, but the needs of these communities differ greatly from Meridian.

Similarly, no Hispanic-concentrated census tracts exist in the City of Meridian. This is a positive finding, given that Hispanic residents have driven the City's growth in recent years.

The City of Meridian also has no racially and ethnically concentrated area of poverty. Despite having no presence of R/ECAPs, a single census tract in the central City has a high poverty rate. This census tract is also one that has a concentration of residents with a national origin other than the U.S.

What are the characteristics of the market in these areas/neighborhoods?

The one higher-poverty and cost burden Census tract is adjacent to downtown Meridian, which offers many community assets and strategic opportunities. As downtown Meridian redevelops, households currently living in this area may be vulnerable to housing cost increases and displacement.

Creating diverse housing opportunities for residents across their life cycle in downtown Meridian is a priority listed in the downtown master plan. The City recognizes this is needed to support new businesses and to maintain an active downtown. The City's master plan envisions a mix of housing including apartments, townhomes, condominiums, duplexes, and single family homes.

Market interventions may be needed to ensure that these new units have a mix of pricing and residents of incomes.

Are there any community assets in these areas/neighborhoods?

As noted previously, the one higher-poverty and cost burden Census tract is adjacent to downtown Meridian. This particular area of the community is designed and planned to be and to develop into a stronger community center where business, economic, housing, and public growth is intended. Meridian's downtown master plan lists creating diverse housing opportunities in this area as a priority. Currently, the community assets that exist in this area include local school, parks, restaurants, financial services, library facilities, and other private and public areas and facilities.

Are there other strategic opportunities in any of these areas?

As noted previously, the one higher-poverty and cost burden Census tract is adjacent to downtown Meridian. As downtown Meridian redevelops, households currently living in this area may be vulnerable to housing cost increases and displacement. Creating diverse housing opportunities for residents across their life cycle in downtown Meridian is a priority listed in the downtown master plan. The City recognizes this is needed to support new businesses and to maintain an active downtown. The City's master plan envisions a mix of housing including apartments, townhomes, condominiums, duplexes, and single family homes.

Market interventions may be needed to ensure that these new units have a mix of pricing and residents of incomes.

Strategic Plan

SP-05 Overview

Strategic Plan Overview

This section of the 2017-2021 Consolidated Plan for the City of Meridian describes the goals and strategies that will guide housing and community development investments and resources during the next five years.

It is organized around HUD's requirements for the Consolidated Plan and discusses:

- Geographic priorities
- Priority housing and community development needs
- How current and changing market conditions will influence investments
- Anticipated resources available to meet needs
- Partners in delivery of resources and activities to address housing and community development needs
- Strategies to address homelessness, lead-based paint risks and poverty
- Barriers to housing choice and how they will be addressed
- How the activities of subrecipients will be monitored

SP-10 Geographic Priorities – 91.215 (a)(1)

Geographic Area

Table 47 - Geographic Priority Areas

General Allocation Priorities

Describe the basis for allocating investments geographically within the jurisdiction (or within the EMSA for HOPWA)

The City of Meridian has not allocated CDBG funds by geographic area in the past. This is due, in part, to the limited number of neighborhoods in the City with significant needs.

The City prefers to target its funding allocation by priority need. Annually, the City hosts a workshop in which past, current and potential future subrecipients can learn more about the City's CDBG program and how they might participate and/or submit funding applications. After the workshop, potential subrecipients are encouraged to fill-out an application form for their proposed project. A copy of that application is appended to this Consolidated Plan.

All eligible proposals that are submitted are considered for funding within the context of the broad goals and objectives established in the Strategic Plan. Funding recommendations under the 2017 Action Plan were made in response to the application process that is largely driven by the capacity of social service providers that provide services in Meridian. Consideration was given to the overall readiness of the project, efficiency of the program, populations identified to be served and the degree to which the project or program addressed the priorities and objectives defined in the Strategic Plan.

Narrative (Optional)

The following priority needs have been established to guide funding allocations during the five-year planning cycle. High priority needs are listed first, followed by high and medium priority focus areas (housing, economic opportunity, neighborhood and community development)

High priority needs

- Improvements in economic stability for residents who are low income, have special needs, and/or are at risk of losing shelter or housing—CDBG funding priority.
- Homeownership opportunities for residents earning 80-120 percent of the Area Median Income (AMI)—Will support with CDBG as opportunities arise; will also work with development partners to encourage a mix of homeownership opportunities.
- Rental assistance and deeply affordable rental units for very low income renters and/or persons at-risk of losing shelter or housing—CDBG will support rental assistance administered by nonprofit and PHA housing providers.
- Improved housing options and social and supportive services for people including but not limited to people with special needs and individuals/families leaving domestic violence situations—CDBG funding priority.

- Improved weatherization of housing stock—CDBG funding priority.
- Better accessibility in Meridian (e.g., sidewalks, ADA improvements, accessible and visitable homes, recreation and service facilities)—CDBG funding priority.

Housing Priorities

- Explore and support down payment assistance opportunities for moderate-income renters wanting to buy in Meridian
- Explore and improve housing rehabilitation opportunities for low and moderate income households, prioritizing weatherization and accessibility and visitability

Economic Opportunity Priorities

- Improve and support service programs for low income and special needs residents—e.g., provision of food staples, emergency repairs, emergency rental assistance.

Neighborhood and Community Development Priorities

- Improve accessibility in Meridian (e.g., sidewalks, ADA improvements, accessible and visitable homes, handicapped parking, recreation and service facilities).
- Explore addition public and other transit options.

SP-30 Influence of Market Conditions – 91.215 (b)

Influence of Market Conditions

| Affordable Housing Type                      | Market Characteristics that will influence the use of funds available for housing type   |
|--|--|
| Tenant Based Rental Assistance (TBRA) | Severity of housing problems and needs of ELI, LI, MI, and homeless and at-risk residents: As the housing market analysis conducted for this study reveals, the rental market does not align with the needs of renters. The City of Meridian has a shortage of rental units for households earning less than $25,000 per year. There are 2,168 renters earning less than $25,000 per year and just 820 affordable rental units. This leaves a gap of 1,348 units. This gap affects extremely and very low income renters. Characteristics of the housing market that influence the decision not to fund TBRA: The success of TBRA is dependent on availability of rental units that accept the subsidy. Meridian's very low rental vacancy rate (3%) means that TBRA households would not necessarily be able to find units, even if they had a subsidy. Therefore, the City will instead invest in emergency rental assistance in PY2017 to keep renters in their homes and consider funding TBRA after the housing market softens. |
| TBRA for Non-Homeless Special Needs   | Severity of housing problems and needs of ELI, LI, MI, and homeless and at-risk residents and characteristics of the housing market that influence the decision not to fund TBRA: The City of Meridian has very limited housing and resources for persons with special needs and, as discussed above, very limited supply of rental units, making TBRA difficult to use. In addition, the number of special needs populations needing rental assistance is currently small. Therefore, the City believes the needs of non-homeless special needs residents are better met through specialized services, including allowing special needs residents to purchase housing with downpayment assistance. The City has allocated its CDBG dollars in PY2017 to public services to benefit ELI and special needs residents and will fund emergency assistance, hunger relief, and educational programs for low income youth.  |

| Affordable Housing Type      | Market Characteristics that will influence the use of funds available for housing type  |
|-------------------------------------|--|
| New Unit Production                 | Severity of housing problems of ELI, LI, MI, and homeless and at-risk residents: The City of Meridian has a very low vacancy rate and increasing housing prices. Continued housing market strength in Meridian, which is very likely, is creating a need for new unit production for very low income renters in particular. As the housing market analysis conducted for this study reveals, the rental market does not align with the needs of renters. The City of Meridian has a shortage of rental units for households earning less than $25,000 per year. There are 2,168 renters earning less than $25,000 per year and just 820 affordable rental units. This leaves a gap of 1,348 units. This gap affects extremely and very low income renters. Characteristics of the housing market that influence the decision not to fund new unit production: There are two reasons the City will not fund new unit production in PY2017. The first is the cost of subsidy relative to the City's resources. Until the City receives additional federal funding and/or creates a local source of revenue, the resources available are insufficient to address the gap in development costs and affordability needs. In addition, NIMBYism in the community has made it difficult to develop affordable multi-family and access the LIHTC. Finally, residents who participated in community engagement prioritized sidewalk reconstruction for funding allocations. |
| Rehabilitation                      | Severity of housing problems of ELI, LI, MI, and homeless and at-risk residents and decision not to allocate to rehabilitation: The City's current elderly population is generally higher income and an analysis of mortgage lending data showed that the majority of residents are able to afford loans to improve their homes. In addition, rehabilitation programs require administrative resources that the City does not currently have.   |
| Acquisition, including preservation | Severity of housing problems of ELI, LI, MI, and homeless and at-risk residents and decision not to allocate to acquisition and preservation: The City will consider acquisition of parcels that are adaptable to affordable rental housing and/or homeless housing and services. This would require a significant private sector partnership; the City does not have resources to dedicate to acquisition and preservation at this point.  |

Introduction

This section shows the amount of CDBG funding that the City of Meridian is expecting to receiving annually and for the remainder of the 2017 - 2021 Consolidated Plan period. How federal funds will be leveraged is also outlined.

Table 50 - Anticipated Resources

Explain how federal funds will leverage those additional resources (private, state and local funds), including a description of how matching requirements will be satisfied

The City of Meridian receives CDBG funds directly through its annual entitlement; this is the only HUD funding that the City directs toward projects. Non-profit organizations utilize other federal, state, and private grant funds. Public Housing programs including Family Self-Sufficiency, Section 8, and Public Housing Comprehensive Grants provide additional funding. For example, BCACHA has historically leveraged CDBG funds from Meridian with CDBG funds from other communities and HUD funding from their Family Self Sufficiency and Housing Choice Voucher Programs. NeighborWorks Boise also receives over $500,000 of annual funding from NeighborWorks America which is leveraged with Meridian's CDBG funding allocation. Meridian Food Bank receives almost $100,000 of private donations and other grants on an annual basis to couple with their CDBG allocations. The Boys & Girls Clubs of Ada County receive funding from the USDA through the Department of Education and leverage those funds with the CDBG funding received from Meridian to help support their programs and projects. Jesse Tree partners with local banks, foundations, and or institutions and cities to help fund their rental assistance and other programs. The Meridian CDBG dollars would allow them to be able to expand their support services to more clients in Meridian. MDC is a local public agency that will not leverage other funds with CDBG funds to complete their proposed project.

Entities in Ada County receive approximately $933,085 in Continuum of Care funding from HUD to provide funding for transitional and permanent housing and supportive services for homeless individuals and households.

Table 51 - Institutional Delivery Structure

Assess of Strengths and Gaps in the Institutional Delivery System

The institutional delivery system in Meridian is efficient and effective and there is limited duplication of services. This is partially related to limited services overall in the City. The primary constraint to special needs populations accessing services is location, as most services are in Boise and public transportation is limited.

Availability of services targeted to homeless persons and persons with HIV and mainstream services

Table 52 - Homeless Prevention Services Summary

Describe how the service delivery system including, but not limited to, the services listed above meet the needs of homeless persons (particularly chronically homeless individuals and families, families with children, veterans and their families, and unaccompanied youth)

As discussed previously, Meridian residents needing to access mainstream services are more likely to find them in Boise—although Meridian does have a handful of providers active in the community. Health and mental health services are available through local health providers, yet none are tailored to low income populations and can take months to access, particularly mental health care.

Charitable Assistance to Community’s Homeless, or CATCH, provides some assistance through its case management program. The West Ada School District provides the most direct services to families. The School District provides direct assistance of: clothing/backpacks/school supplies, waivers of activity fees, weekend food supplements, a clinic for immunizations/glasses/hearing aids, and day care and before and after school care.

A newly created program, “Housing+High School=Success”, provides a $100 stipend to families that are allowing teens to live with them if the teen stays in school. Meridian’s Chamber of Commerce has raised $20,000 to fund the program.

Describe the strengths and gaps of the service delivery system for special needs population and persons experiencing homelessness, including, but not limited to, the services listed above

Institutional structure gaps are minimal. The primary challenge in meeting service needs is lack of economies of scale in providing services. Because Meridian’s special needs and homeless populations are relatively small and their needs are variable, it is difficult to provide comprehensive care in a cost effective and efficient manner.

Provide a summary of the strategy for overcoming gaps in the institutional structure and service delivery system for carrying out a strategy to address priority needs

Throughout the Consolidated Planning period, a priority of CDBG will be operations of providers of services to low income and special needs populations.

To address transit gaps, the City will support a pilot program between Harvest Church and Valley Regional Transit. This new, free, on-demand service will provide transportation services to seniors and persons with disabilities. Eventually this service will operate valley-wide, with implementation of approximately nine service areas in Ada County, four areas in Canyon County, and eight areas in the surrounding rural areas by 2021.

Goal Descriptions

|---|-------------------------|--|
| 1 | Goal Name        | Improve Accessibility  |
|   | Goal Description | This goal has two primary components:1) Direct investment of CDBG in areas where sidewalks are lacking to improve accessibility in neighborhoods with seniors and persons with disabilities. 2) Exploration of opportunities to expand and improve public transportation options for low-income and special needs populations in Meridian. This includes additional funding sources, and potential legislation, for public transportation. Utilize the support of local elected officials, public agencies, and research on other peer communities to learn more about public transportation opportunities and best practices.PY2017 outcome: Make improvements to five sidewalk segments in Census tract 103.21, Block Group 2. There are 995 households living in this Block Group. About 20 percent of these households are comprised of senior females living alone. Another 35 percent are families with young children; half are households led by a single mother. Altogether, an estimated 1,990 people live in the block group with 1,095 below 100% MFI. This approximates 220 persons per year. Convene two meetings with regional transportation providers and/or jurisdictions to explore best practices to expanding transportation options and garner support for making expanded transportation options that better serve low to moderate income residents and workers a high priority during the next five years .PY2017-2022 Meet as scheduled with the Meridian Transportation Commission, the ACHD Capital Improvement Citizen Advisory Committee (ACHD CICAC), the COMPASS Regional Technical Advisory Committee (COMPASS RTAC).Rationale: Persons with disabilities interviewed and surveyed for this study prioritized accessibility improvements, particularly public infrastructure. Community access for persons with disabilities was identified as a barrier in reference to lack of/poor sidewalks and access to handicapped parking. |

| 2 | Goal Name        | Enhance Homeownership Opportunities  |
|   | Goal Description | Enhance homeownership opportunities through downpayment assistance and homeownership counseling. During PY2017, the City will partner with two housing service providers to assist qualified LMI buyers to purchase a home in Meridian. The funds allocated to Neighborhood Housing Services (NHS)--$30,000 and the Ada County Housing Authority (ACHA)--$50,000 will be used for down payment and closing cost assistance. As identified in the City's Consolidated Plan and Analysis of Impediments reports, many households in Meridian are interested in purchasing a home, but cannot afford the down payment for such a purpose. This activity is intended to address this need and broaden the homeownership opportunities for Meridian's LMI population. Rationale: Nearly 90 percent of renters who responded to the survey conducted for this study expressed an interest in homeownership. Not having enough money for a downpayment (40% of renters who want to buy) and poor credit (16%) were the top reasons these renters had not achieved homeownership. Although not a statistically significant sample of renters, the high percentage of renter respondents who want to be owners suggests a strong desire for homeownership in Meridian. |
| 3 | Goal Name        | Provide Social Services  |
|   | Goal Description | Continue to use block grant funds to provide social services for low income and special needs residents—e.g., provision of food staples, emergency repairs, emergency rental assistance.   |

|   |                         |   |
|---|-------------------------|---|
| 4 | Goal Name        | Stabilize the Rental Gap  |
|   | Goal Description | The City of Meridian will focus on three efforts to prevent the rental gap from increasing significantly during the next five years. 1) PY2017-2022, dedicate public services funding to nonprofit organizations that assist renters at risk of eviction with emergency rental payments. Outcome: Support at least 5 households annually with emergency rental assistance. 2) PY2018 and PY2019: Working with the planning department, examine ways that the City could facilitate creation of affordable rental housing. The City will consider fast track development approvals, density bonuses, and fee waivers as requested by developers creating affordable rental housing. Outcome: By the end of PY2018, create a set of formal incentives, which may or may not include monetary incentives, that developers can request. 3) PY2018 through PY2022, depending on when affordable rental developments are proposed by nonprofit and private sector organizations: The City will consider dedicating CDBG funding, as allowed by regulation, to support such developments. This may include funding infrastructure improvements and/or supporting construction of an onsite child care, senior or community center. Outcome: During development of the Annual Action Plan, market pre-application meetings to nonprofit and private sector developers in the region and, at the meetings, communicate that the City will consider CDBG applications that support creation of affordable rental housing. Rationale: The last Consolidated Plan identified a shortage of 1,077 rental units to serve Meridian households earning $25,000 and less (rents of $625 and less, including utilities). This gap increased in the past 5 years to 1,348 units. The increase was largely due to additional households falling below the poverty line. |

| 5 | Goal Name        | Administration and Fair Housing Activities  |
|   | Goal Description | CDBG funds dedicated to administration and fair housing activities. The outcome for administration will be to support the PY activities. Fair housing outcomes are: Goal 1: Create a more accessible environment for persons with disabilities. Continue to improve sidewalks and provide proper signage and enforce requirements for handicapped parking spots. Explore opportunities to expand accessible recreation in parks. PY2017 outcome: Improve 5 segments of sidewalk in a neighborhood with again infrastructure and occupied by seniors and low income residents. Goal 2: Explore options to help stabilize the rental gap. Continue to use block grant funds to provide social services for low income and special needs residents—e.g., provision of food staples, emergency repairs, emergency rental assistance. Explore opportunities to fund and assist low income homeowners with needed repairs and weatherization to lower energy costs, improve residents’ quality of life and preserve affordable housing stock. PY2017 outcome: Assist 5 households with emergency assistance and 8 households with downpayment assistance. Assist 2,000 households with food assistance. By the end of PY2017, determine options for implementing a weatherization program. During the next three years, explore potential development incentives for projects that provide at least 10 percent of units that are affordable to 30 to 80 percent LMI households. Goal 3: Explore opportunities to expand and improve public transportation options for low-income and special needs populations in Meridian. Explore additional funding sources, including potential legislation, for public transportation. Utilize the support of local elected officials, public agencies, and research on other peer communities to learn more about public transportation opportunities and best practices. PY2017 outcome: Convene two meetings with regional transportation providers and/or jurisdictions to explore best practices to expanding transportation options and garner support for making expanded transportation options that better serve low to moderate income residents and workers a high priority during the next five years . Meet as scheduled with the Meridian Transportation Commission, the ACHD Capital Improvement Citizen Advisory Committee (ACHD CICAC), the COMPASS Regional Technical Advisory Committee (COMPASS RTAC). Goal 4: Continue to provide monetary support to regional fair housing campaigns and trainings. Design and distribute flyers and display posters in Meridian specific to the current fair housing needs in Meridian. PY2017 outcome: Fund two regional fair housing campaigns and trainings. Provide flyers and posters to at least 5 landlords and 5 homeowner’s associations in Meridian. |

Estimate the number of extremely low-income, low-income, and moderate-income families to whom the jurisdiction will provide affordable housing as defined by HOME 91.315(b)(2)

Housing assistance will be provided in the form of downpayment assistance to moderate income renters who desire to become homeowners (8 households served annually) and very low income renters through emergency rental assistance (5 households served annually, captured in public services funding category), for a total of 18 households served annually and approximately 80 households served during the 5 year Consolidated Planning period.

In sum:

ELI renters = 5 per year, 25 five year period

Moderate renters who desire to be owners = 8 per year, 40 total

Goals to be pursued in the future:

1) Explore a program to assist low income homeowners with needed repairs to lower energy costs, improve residents' quality of life and preserve affordable housing stock. This could be a grant or loan program administered by a regional organization to maximize efficiencies and reduce administrative costs.

Rationale: Respondents to the Consolidated Plan survey expressed the highest need for weatherization improvements to lower energy costs: more than one-third of Meridian residents said their homes need weatherization replacement or repairs. This was followed by repairs to walls and ceilings.

2) Explore future opportunities to serve and support individuals and families who are escaping domestic violence.

Rationale: Domestic violence is a top reason Meridian residents become at risk for losing shelter/housing. Stakeholders describe an acute need for housing and support services for individuals and families who are escaping domestic violence.

3) Work regionally to improve transportation options.

Rationale: Public transit was the public improvement chosen the most by survey respondents after road improvements: more than one-third of residents said this was the top community development need in Meridian.

SP-50 Public Housing Accessibility and Involvement – 91.215(c)

Need to Increase the Number of Accessible Units (if Required by a Section 504 Voluntary Compliance Agreement)

This section is not applicable, as Meridian does not have a local housing authority or public housing units. Instead, Meridian is served by BCACHA, which provides vouchers to qualifying residents in Meridian. The greatest need for low income renters in Meridian is rental housing with rents at or below the Fair Market Rent (FMR).

SP-55 Barriers to affordable housing – 91.215(h)

Barriers to Affordable Housing

Section V, a supplement to this Consolidated Plan, analyzes public and private barriers to housing choice in Meridian. Stakeholders were also interviewed about housing barriers. Barriers associated with tax policies, land use controls and zoning, building codes, fees and charges, growth limits, and policies affecting the return on residential investment were not identified as barriers. On the contrary, the review found a favorable environment for development and a migration toward more diverse housing types.

The City has recently expressed a commitment to creating more diverse housing types through its redevelopment plan for downtown. The plan states that creating diverse housing opportunities for different housing needs and life-cycles in downtown Meridian is important to support new businesses and activity. A healthy housing mix will also help to draw people downtown and ensure 24-7 activity. Housing created or redeveloped as part of the downtown plan is expected to include apartments, town homes, condominiums, duplexes, and single family homes.

The only development or finance barrier found was public resistance to affordable housing development.

Other barriers in Meridian include:

Many renters do not have downpayments or credit histories needed to purchase homes. As earlier sections of the Market Analysis demonstrated, buying in Meridian can be cheaper than renting.

Many Meridian residents are resistant to continued development and growth, especially as traffic congestion has increased. Development of affordable housing is met with even greater resistance due to bias against low income residents.

Rental housing is very limited in the City, and the housing that exists is generally in poor condition and sometimes not code compliant (particularly rental housing).

Supportive services are mostly located in Boise and public transportation to and from Boise is lacking.

Many housing units are not accessible or visitable.

Landlords do not understand fair housing laws on companion animals and many people are turned away from housing because they have companion animals. People prefer to sleep on street or car than leave animals.

Scoring criteria for the state's Low Income Housing Tax Credit (LIHTC) program makes it difficult to develop in a community like Meridian due to preferences for small, rural communities.

Strategy to Remove or Ameliorate the Barriers to Affordable Housing

Goals to Remove or Ameliorate the Barriers to Affordable Housing

Fair Housing Goal No. 1: Improve the condition of sidewalks in Meridian, particularly in neighborhoods where persons with low-moderate income reside.

Metrics and milestones: Work through the Ada County Highway District's, Parks and Recreation Department's, Meridian Development Corporation, and City's code enforcement processes to create a more accessible environment for persons with disabilities. Continue to improve sidewalks and provide proper signage and enforce requirements for handicapped parking spots.

PY2017 outcome: Improve 5 segments of sidewalk in a neighborhood with again infrastructure and occupied by seniors and low income residents.

Fair Housing Goal No. 2: Support preservation of housing occupied by low income homeowners and stabilization of affordable rental housing.

Metrics and milestones: Explore options to help stabilize the rental gap by: providing incentives to organizations for the construction of housing; support the development of social support programs that help to reduce the number of individuals/families who are at risk of losing shelter or housing. As opportunities arise, provide non-monetary support—e.g., fast track development approvals, favorable regulatory environment—to organizations creating affordable rental housing.

PY2017 outcome: Assist 10 households with emergency assistance and 8 households with downpayment assistance. Assist 2,000 households with food assistance. By the end of PY2017, determine options for implementing a weatherization program. During the next three years, explore potential development incentives for projects that provide at least 10 percent of units that are affordable to 30 to 80 percent AMI households.

Fair Housing Goal No. 3: Work regionally to improve transportation options.

Metrics and milestones: Explore opportunities to expand and improve public transportation options for low-income and special needs populations in Meridian. Explore, with transportation agencies and other municipalities in the region, additional funding sources for public transportation, including potential legislation.

PY2017 outcome: Convene two meetings with regional transportation providers and/or jurisdictions to explore best practices to expanding transportation options and garner support for making expanded transportation options that better serve low to moderate income residents and workers a high priority during the next five years .

Fair Housing Goal No. 4: Increase education and understanding of fair housing laws by landlords, builders, and residents.

Metrics and milestones: Continue to sponsor regional fair housing campaigns and trainings. Conduct annual internal trainings for City leaders and relevant staff on fair housing design and construction guidelines. Ensure relevant City staff are aware of fair housing design and construction guidelines.

PY2017 outcome: Fund two regional fair housing campaigns and trainings. Provide flyers and posters to at least 5 landlords and 5 homeowner's associations in Meridian.

SP-60 Homelessness Strategy – 91.215(d)

Reaching out to homeless persons (especially unsheltered persons) and assessing their individual needs

The City of Meridian has been an active member of the Ada County Continuum of Care (CofC) for the last three years. City representatives have been particularly involved in the CofC's Fair Housing and Performance Measurement Working Groups with the hopes of better understanding the needs that Meridian's homeless face and how to better serve them. The City of Meridian has also strived to provide information on and connection to the CofC for local community workers and organizations with particular interest in and involvement with Meridian's homeless population. In addition, City representatives are frequently involved in public discussions, presentations, and meetings with citizens, other governmental officials, and local service providers including West Ada County School District, Jesse Tree, and CATCH to provide support, understanding, and outreach to the homeless in Meridian.

Addressing the emergency and transitional housing needs of homeless persons

As noted, the City of Meridian is regularly in contact with case management and support service organizations like CATCH and Jesse Tree to assess and address the emergency and transitional housing needs of homeless persons in Meridian. In 2016, Jesse Tree was funded through Meridian's CDBG program to help provide emergency rental assistance to Meridian residents at risk of losing housing. In 2017, Meridian's CDBG Committee is considering grant applications for similar projects that would greater meet emergency and transitional housing needs of homeless person in Meridian. In addition, the Meridian Police Department regularly helps unhoused Meridian residents with rides to emergency housing shelters, as needed.

Helping homeless persons (especially chronically homeless individuals and families, families with children, veterans and their families, and unaccompanied youth) make the transition to permanent housing and independent living, including shortening the period of time that individuals and families experience homelessness, facilitating access for homeless individuals and families to affordable housing units, and preventing individuals and families who were recently homeless from becoming homeless again.

Through the City's CDBG program, Meridian has funded organizations like NeighborWorks and Ada County Housing Authority to help provide down payment and closing cost assistance to low-moderate income residents of Meridian to help them purchase housing units. In addition, Meridian's work with Jesse Tree and CATCH in previous and future years to help provide rental and case management services aimed at preventing and resolving needs for homeless or and near-homeless families and individuals in Meridian. Also, Meridian's work with the CofC and the recently established SOAR Steering Committee are indicators of the efforts the City has made to help explore and address the needs of Meridian's homeless population. The partnerships that the City has with local committees, organizations, and networks in evaluating, understanding, and addressing the many needs of Meridian's homeless population include Meridian Police Department, Women’s and Children’s Alliance, Astegos, Jesse Tree, Boys & Girls Club, West Ada County School District, City of Boise, CATCH, Ada County Continuum of Care, Meridian Food Bank, SOAR Steering Committee, Ada County Housing Authority, NeighborWorks, and many others. These partnerships are extensive and ongoing in order to help address and prevent homelessness in Meridian.

Help low-income individuals and families avoid becoming homeless, especially extremely low-income individuals and families who are likely to become homeless after being discharged from a publicly funded institution or system of care, or who are receiving assistance from public and private agencies that address housing, health, social services, employment, education or youth needs

Meridian’s CDBG Program currently funds Jesse Tree to provide emergency rental assistance to LMI residents who are at risk of becoming homeless. Meridian also partners with other organizations like Meridian Food Bank and CATCH to assess needs and provide services for those at risk of becoming homeless. Please refer to the previous explanation for a list of the partnerships Meridian has to help prevent and address the homelessness needs of LMI individuals in the City.

SP-65 Lead based paint Hazards – 91.215(i)

Actions to address LBP hazards and increase access to housing without LBP hazards

Fewer than 5 percent of the City’s housing units were built when lead-based paint was used. These units are concentrated in the oldest part of Meridian.

The City will continue to address lead based paint hazards through mitigation as part of redevelopment efforts in older parts of Meridian, in addition to public campaigns to raise awareness of the risk of lead paint.

For example, during the past Consolidated Plan, the City mailed a letter and information brochure about the hazards of lead based paint to all Meridian residents (2,604 households) whose homes were built prior to 1978. The brochure also identified ways for residents and homeowners to reduce the risks of lead based paint exposure. The City also continued to provide informational resources on its website about the hazards of lead based paint exposure and ways to mitigate those hazards.

How are the actions listed above related to the extent of lead poisoning and hazards?

The above actions are appropriate given the low risk of lead paint hazards in Meridian.

How are the actions listed above integrated into housing policies and procedures?

If funding is available in the future to fund a housing rehabilitation program, the City would ensure that lead paint risks are examined as part of the rehabilitation work.

SP-70 Anti-Poverty Strategy – 91.215(j)

Jurisdiction Goals, Programs and Policies for reducing the number of Poverty-Level Families

Meridian has few residents who live in poverty relative to surrounding cities and the region overall. The City will support residents in poverty through its funding of the Meridian Food Bank and similar supportive organizations, creating and preserving affordable housing, providing utility bill assistance through the Meridian Cares Program, and funding the pilot free, accessible transportation program to seniors and persons with disabilities.

How are the Jurisdiction poverty reducing goals, programs, and policies coordinated with this affordable housing plan

Many of the barriers to affordable housing identified in this affordable housing plan tie directly to the goals, programs, and policies in the Jurisdiction for reducing the number of poverty-level families. The communities CDBG program and activities in regional Continuum of Care and other affordable housing groups focuses heavily on prioritizing funding of activities addressing affordable and fair housing needs. As noted previously, some of these activities include supporting residents in poverty through its funding of the Meridian Food Bank and similar supportive organizations, creating and preserving affordable housing, providing utility bill assistance through the Meridian Cares Program, and funding the pilot free, accessible transportation program to seniors and persons with disabilities. IN addition, Meridian has as a priority the exploration of opportunities to address the rental gap and affordable housing issues in the community through its utilization of CDBG and other programs and goals.

SP-80 Monitoring – 91.230

Describe the standards and procedures that the jurisdiction will use to monitor activities carried out in furtherance of the plan and will use to ensure long-term compliance with requirements of the programs involved, including minority business outreach and the comprehensive planning requirements

Each sub-recipient that receives CDBG funding will be monitored a minimum of once annually during the initial Program Year for the project. However, based on risk assessments of the sub-recipients at the time of application, the sub-recipient may be subjected to additional monitoring visits during the Program Year that the sub-recipient receives program funding.

Program staff, from both the Community Development and Finance Departments will conduct the monitoring of the actual projects and applicants. Monitoring will be conducted for both a Programmatic and Financial perspective for all aspects of the CDBG Program. Monitoring will cover all areas the CDBG Program (where applicable) in accordance with 24 CFR Part 570, et. Seq.; the applicable Uniform Administrative Requirements in accordance with 24 CFR 84 or 85, et. Seq.; and the applicable OMB Circulars for Non-Profits, Local and State Governments, and Institutions of Higher Education. Monitoring reviews, once completed, will identify both Findings and Concerns and will be presented, in writing, to the applicants within 30 calendar days of completion of the monitoring visit. Applicants will be expected to reply to and resolve all monitoring Findings and Concerns. Some findings and/or concerns, based on their nature (i.e. previous occurrences that cannot be corrected) cannot be resolved, but only acknowledged and procedures to prevent their reoccurrence in the future.

A “Finding” is a deficiency in meeting applicable regulatory or statutory requirements.

A “Concern” is a performance problem or deficiency, which has no basis in statute or regulation.

In addition to regulatory and statutory requirements, generally accepted accounting principles will be utilized to assess the financial compliance of a subrecipient's or contractor's utilization of funds for a CDBG project. In addition, each organization contracted to perform or deliver a CDBG-funded product or service will be held accountable for all the terms of each contract or subrecipient agreement entered into. Each agreement is different depending on the nature of the project, and the standards for monitoring are defined in these agreements. Generally, these standards are based upon the previously defined regulatory, statutory, and accounting requirements.

The City currently uses the subrecipient agreement and contracts as a general guide to conducting on-site and desk-side monitoring of projects. As part of these agreements, subrecipients are required to provide progress reports monthly with beneficiary information and narrative updates on the projects' progress. While the City does not currently have a defined checklist, handbook, or monitoring standard beyond those mentioned, plans are in place to revamp the program's agreement and contract procedures and templates during the first half of PY2017. This process will also include the development of a monitoring checklist that will be utilized for on-site monitoring. It will likely reflect the above noted regulations, principles, standards, and other practices which are being utilized in the current monitoring procedures, including a risk assessment process for activity applications.

Other labor monitoring activities will be conducted, as activities require, according to all HUD and federal Davis Bacon labor requirements. All relevant activities subject to these requirements will be monitored with on-site visits as frequently as is required by regulations, and additionally, as activity circumstances require. Desk-side monitoring takes place with each activity draw with staff and management from both Community Development and Finances departments needing to review and sign off on any funding drawdown requests.

Expected Resources

Introduction

This section shows the amount of CDBG funding that the City of Meridian is expecting to receiving annually and for the remainder of the 2017 - 2021 Consolidated Plan period. How federal funds will be leveraged is also outlined.

Table 54 - Expected Resources – Priority Table

Explain how federal funds will leverage those additional resources (private, state and local funds), including a description of how matching requirements will be satisfied

The City of Meridian receives CDBG funds directly through its annual entitlement; this is the only HUD funding that the City directs toward projects. Non-profit organizations utilize other federal, state, and private grant funds. Public Housing programs including Family Self-Sufficiency, Section 8, and Public Housing Comprehensive Grants provide additional funding. For example, BCACHA has historically leveraged CDBG funds from Meridian with CDBG funds from other communities and HUD funding from their Family Self Sufficiency and Housing Choice Voucher Programs. NeighborWorks Boise also receives over $500,000 of annual funding from NeighborWorks America which is leveraged with Meridian’s CDBG funding allocation. Meridian Food Bank receives almost $100,000 of private donations and other grants on an annual basis to couple with their CDBG allocations. The Boys & Girls Clubs of Ada County receive funding from the USDA through the Department of Education and leverage those funds with the CDBG funding received from Meridian to help support their programs and projects. Jesse Tree partners with local banks, foundations, and or institutions and cities to help fund their rental assistance and other programs. The Meridian CDBG dollars would allow them to be able to expand their support services to more clients in Meridian. MDC is a local public agency that will not leverage other funds with CDBG funds to complete their proposed project.

Entities in Ada County receive approximately $933,085 in Continuum of Care funding from HUD to provide funding for transitional and permanent housing and supportive services for homeless individuals and households.

If appropriate, describe publically owned land or property located within the jurisdiction that may be used to address the needs identified in the plan

| 3 | Goal Name        | Provide Social Services   |
|   | Goal Description | The City will provide support to social service organizations in the City for the purpose of providing scholarships to children of LMI households (Matrix Code 05L, Public Service); assisting low income renters with emergency rent payments to prevent homelessness (Matrix Code 05Q, Public Service); and supporting the local food bank (Matrix Code 05W, Public Service). |

| 4 | Goal Name        | Stabilize the Rental Gap   |
|   | Goal Description | The City of Meridian will focus on three efforts to prevent the rental gap from increasing significantly during the next five years. 1) PY2017-2022, dedicate public services funding to nonprofit organizations that assist renters at risk of eviction with emergency rental payments. Outcome: Support at least 5 households annually with emergency rental assistance. 2) PY2018 and PY2019: Working with the planning department, examine ways that the City could facilitate creation of affordable rental housing. The City will consider fast track development approvals, density bonuses, and fee waivers as requested by developers creating affordable rental housing. Outcome: By the end of PY2018, create an incentive package that developers can request. 3) PY2018 through PY2022, depending on when affordable rental developments are proposed by nonprofit and private sector organizations: The City will consider dedicating CDBG funding, as allowed by regulation, to support such developments. This may include funding infrastructure improvements and/or supporting construction of an onsite child care, senior or community center. Outcome: During development of the Annual Action Plan, market pre-application meetings to nonprofit and private sector developers in the region and, at the meetings, communicate that the City will consider CDBG applications that support creation of affordable rental housing. Rationale: The last Consolidated Plan identified a shortage of 1,077 rental units to serve Meridian households earning $25,000 and less (rents of $625 and less, including utilities). This gap increased in the past 5 years to 1,348 units. The increase was largely due to additional households falling below the poverty line. |

Table 56 – Project Information

Describe the reasons for allocation priorities and any obstacles to addressing underserved needs

The allocation priorities were determined by the housing market analysis conducted for the Con Plan, stakeholder and resident input, and the review of fair housing barriers:

Allocation to accessibility improvements: Persons with disabilities interviewed and surveyed for this study prioritized accessibility improvements, particularly public infrastructure. Community access for persons with disabilities was identified as a barrier in reference to lack of/poor sidewalks and access to handicapped parking.

Allocation to downpayment assistance was influenced by the survey that found nearly 90 percent of renters expressed an interest in homeownership. Not having enough money for a downpayment (40% of renters who want to buy) and poor credit (16%) were the top reasons these renters had not achieved homeownership.

Allocation to emergency rental assistance: The last Consolidated Plan identified a shortage of 1,077 rental units to serve Meridian households earning $25,000 and less (rents of $625 and less, including utilities). This gap increased in the past 5 years to 1,348 units. The increase was largely due to additional households falling below the poverty line.

Funding to support scholarships at the Boys and Girls Club was related to the finding in the AI that lower income children, particularly those living in Census tracts with a high density of residents with a national origin other than the United States, have lower access to proficient schools.

Funding for the Meridian Food Bank is related to growth in demand for food support. The recession affected many Meridian residents, and some low income residents have not fully recovered from job and housing losses. Investing in the food bank helps level the playing field for low income residents, especially children, who perform better in school when they have adequate nutrition.

The primary obstacles to fully addressing residents' needs are: 1) Limited supply of affordable units; and 2) Limited funding. The City has allocated funding to both address needs within the limitations of funding.

AP-50 Geographic Distribution – 91.220(f)

Description of the geographic areas of the entitlement (including areas of low-income and minority concentration) where assistance will be directed

The only program to be targeted geographically is sidewalk improvements. The choice of this area (Census Tract 103.21, Block Group 2) was related to the number of households with needs in this area (many are single female senior households), low and moderate income residents, and condition of sidewalks.

Table 59 - One Year Goals for Affordable Housing by Support Type

Discussion

Table 54:

It is difficult to determine the housing status of those households supported through the PY17 CDBG partnerships. However, it is presumed that a minimum of 8 Non-homeless households will be supported through the programs at BCACHA and NeighborWorks with another 10 or so non-homeless families expected to be served by Jesse Tree. The other 2050 households supported will be helped by Meridian Food Bank and the Boys & Girls Club of Ada County which help individuals with special needs. Some of these 2050 households would likely be considered “Homeless” but neither organization tracks the housing status of the clients they serve. Thus we can’t substantiate the housing status of the other 2050 or so clients to be served.

Table 55:

Jesse Tree works to prevent homelessness and we anticipate up to 10 households being supported by their services through our PY17 CDBG funds. In addition, our partnership with BCACHA and NeighborWorks will serve a minimum of 8 family to find housing in Meridian and assist in reducing down payment and closing costs for those homes.

AP-60 Public Housing – 91.220(h)

Introduction

This section is not applicable, as Meridian does not have a local housing authority or public housing units. Instead, Meridian is served by BCACHA, which provides vouchers to qualifying residents in Meridian. The greatest need for low income renters in Meridian is rental housing with rents at or below the Fair Market Rent (FMR).

AP-65 Homeless and Other Special Needs Activities – 91.220(i)

Introduction

This section discusses how the City of Meridian will address the needs of persons at risk of and experiencing homelessness in the City during PY2017.

Describe the jurisdictions one-year goals and actions for reducing and ending homelessness including

Reaching out to homeless persons (especially unsheltered persons) and assessing their individual needs

The City of Meridian has been an active member of the Ada County Continuum of Care (CofC) for the last three years. City representatives have been particularly involved in the CofC's Fair Housing and Performance Measurement Working Groups with the hopes of better understanding the needs that Meridian's homeless face and how to better serve them. The City of Meridian has also strived to provide information on and connection to the CofC for local community workers and organizations with particular interest in and involvement with Meridian's homeless population. In addition, City representatives are frequently involved in public discussions, presentations, and meetings with citizens, other governmental officials, and local service providers including West Ada County School District, Jesse Tree, and CATCH to provide support, understanding, and outreach to the homeless in Meridian.

Addressing the emergency shelter and transitional housing needs of homeless persons

As noted, the City of Meridian is regularly in contact with case management and support service organizations like CATCH, and Jesse Tree to assess and address the emergency and transitional housing needs of homeless persons in Meridian. In 2016, Jesse Tree was funded through Meridian's CDBG program to help provide emergency rental assistance to Meridian residents at risk of losing housing. In 2017, Meridian's CDBG Committee is considering grant applications for similar projects that would greater meet emergency and transitional housing needs of homeless person in Meridian. In addition, the Meridian Police Department regularly helps unhoused Meridian residents with rides to emergency housing shelters, as needed.

Helping homeless persons (especially chronically homeless individuals and families, families with children, veterans and their families, and unaccompanied youth) make the transition to permanent housing and independent living, including shortening the period of time that individuals and families experience homelessness, facilitating access for homeless individuals and families to affordable housing units, and preventing individuals and families who were recently homeless from becoming homeless again

Through the City's CDBG program, Meridian has funded organizations like NeighborWorks and Ada

County Housing Authority to help provide down payment and closing cost assistance to low-moderate income residents of Meridian to help them purchase housing units. In addition, Meridian's work with Jesse Tree and CATCH in previous and future years to help provide rental and case management services aimed at preventing and resolving needs for homeless or and near-homeless families and individuals in Meridian. Also, Meridian's work with the CofC and the recently established SOAR Steering Committee are indicators of the efforts the City has made to help explore and address the needs of Meridian's homeless population. The partnerships that the City has with local committees, organizations, and networks in evaluating, understanding, and addressing the many needs of Meridian's homeless population include Meridian Police Department, Women's and Children's Alliance, Astegos, Jesse Tree, Boys & Girls Club, West Ada County School District, City of Boise, CATCH, Ada County Continuum of Care, Meridian Food Bank, SOAR Steering Committee, Ada County Housing Authority, NeighborWorks, and many others. These partnerships are extensive and ongoing in order to help address and prevent homelessness in Meridian.

These efforts, particularly coordination and participation with CATCH and the local Continuum of Care, are designed to assist local service providers in helping homeless persons make the transition to permanent housing and independent living and shorten the period of time that individuals and families experience homelessness. Specifically, the City's participate in the performance management working group and support of CATCH's Our Path Home program and the coordinated entry working group indicate the City's efforts and actions to define and meet these specific targets.

In addition, the City's funding relationship with NeighborWorks Boise, Boise City/Ada County Housing Authority, and Jesse Tree are aimed to develop activities through the CDBG program aimed at facilitating access for homeless individuals and families to affordable housing unit while also preventing individuals and families from becoming homeless.

Helping low-income individuals and families avoid becoming homeless, especially extremely low-income individuals and families and those who are: being discharged from publicly funded institutions and systems of care (such as health care facilities, mental health facilities, foster care and other youth facilities, and corrections programs and institutions); or, receiving assistance from public or private agencies that address housing, health, social services, employment, education, or youth needs

Meridian's CDBG Program currently funds Jesse Tree to provide emergency rental assistance to LMI residents who are at risk of becoming homeless. Meridian also partners with other organizations like Meridian Food Bank and CATCH to assess needs and provide services for those at risk of becoming homeless. Please refer to the previous explanation for a list of the partnerships Meridian has to help prevent and address the homelessness needs of LMI individuals in the City.

However, Meridian currently does not have any planned activities to address the housing needs of those who are, specifically, being discharged from publicly funded institutions and systems of care or who are receiving public or other assistance outside of the details specified. Work is being done to expand the City's role in the Continuum of Care's Coordinated Entry and other committees to help address any needs being faced in the community.

Discussion

Much of the work that is being funded through the City's CDBG program is aimed toward homelessness prevention among the LMI population in the community. Answers to the questions in this section specify many of the different services and activities that Meridian is exerting energy and resources on to help the local homeless and non-homeless populations. Development of public transportation opportunities for seniors, ADA compliance improvements to public facilities, and public facility improvements such as sidewalk and streetlight improvements in LMI areas are focused at helping to improve housing and supportive services, outside of those already noted, to meet the needs of persons who are and who are not homeless in the community.

AP-75 Barriers to affordable housing – 91.220(j)

Introduction:

Section V, a supplement to this Consolidated Plan, analyzes public and private barriers to housing choice in Meridian. Stakeholders were also interviewed about housing barriers. Barriers associated with tax policies, land use controls and zoning, building codes, fees and charges, growth limits, and policies affecting the return on residential investment were not identified as barriers. On the contrary, the review found a favorable environment for development and a migration toward more diverse housing types.

As such, the actions summarized below do NOT address the negative effects of public policies that serve as barriers to affordable housing (policies, procedures, processes). Instead, they focus on actions that address other types of identified barriers.

Actions it planned to remove or ameliorate the negative effects of public policies that serve as barriers to affordable housing such as land use controls, tax policies affecting land, zoning ordinances, building codes, fees and charges, growth limitations, and policies affecting the return on residential investment

The City of Meridian action plan to remove or ameliorate barriers to affordable housing is located in the Grantee Unique Appendices attached to this Plan, pages 9 through 11.

The City has recently expressed a commitment to creating more diverse housing types through its redevelopment plan for downtown. The plan states that creating diverse housing opportunities for different housing needs and life-cycles in downtown Meridian is important to support new businesses and activity. A healthy housing mix will also help to draw people downtown and ensure 24-7 activity. Housing created or redeveloped as part of the downtown plan is expected to include apartments, town homes, condominiums, duplexes, and single family homes.

To evaluate potential fair housing concerns within the City's zoning code, BBC utilized a "Review of Public Policies and Practices (Zoning and Planning Codes)" form recently circulated by the Los Angeles fair housing office of HUD. The research did not reveal any negative effects of public policies that serve as barriers to affordable housing. This includes land use controls, tax policies affecting land, zoning ordinances, building codes, fees and charges, growth limitations, and policies affecting returns on residential investment.

Discussion:

Please see the Grantee Unique Appendices attached to this Plan for details, pages 9 through 11.

AP-85 Other Actions – 91.220(k)

Introduction:

This section discusses the Other Actions the City will take to address the needs of low income residents.

Actions planned to address obstacles to meeting underserved needs

The City will continue to engage in the regional dialogue with neighboring communities and service providers to identify and address underserved needs, maintain affordable housing, and reduce the number of families living in poverty.

Actions planned to foster and maintain affordable housing

The City intends to partner with local service providers to provide emergency assistance to families who are at risk of eviction and homelessness. The City will also explore additional partnerships—including partnerships with mission-driven and private developers—to bring more workforce housing into downtown and underutilized land parcels. Finally, the city will partner with local service providers to provide downpayment assistance to help renter households become homeowners; this was a priority of residents who participated in the survey for this Plan.

Actions planned to reduce lead-based paint hazards

Over the course of the upcoming program year, the City will maintain information on lead-based paint hazards in order to (1) educate the public, (2) gauge the prevalence of lead paint contamination, and (3) start to address the issue within the City. There is a wealth of information already available from HUD, the State, neighboring communities, and various organizations that staff will gather and make available at City Hall, on the City's website, and at other locations throughout the community.

Actions planned to reduce the number of poverty-level families

Please see above. The City believes this should be a regional effort and will take more of a leadership role in addressing the needs of families living in poverty. Meridian's CDBG program intends to fund programs that provide emergency assistance to families who are at risk of homelessness, provide food supplies to those individuals in need, provide housing cost assistance for residents unable to cover the full costs of home purchases, among other activities. The City's local strategic plan also plans to address poverty-based issues through the expansion of needed public services as well as the ever-strong focus of Meridian on economic development and the expansion of quality employment opportunities for the jurisdiction's LMI population.

Actions planned to develop institutional structure

There are few capacity issues related to institutional structure in Meridian and the surrounding area. As such, development of institutional structure is a low priority. Staff will work to attain relevant and appropriate professional development trainings during the program year in order to learn and address current and future institutional problems. Discussions will continue about the expansion and opportunities of staff and program duties to adjust part-time work toward full-time work will be explored.

Actions planned to enhance coordination between public and private housing and social service agencies

There are few capacity issues related to coordination between public and private organizations in Meridian and the surrounding area. However, the City's partnership and funding relationship with local housing services organizations including NeighborWorks Boise, Jesse Tree, and Boise City/Ada County Housing Authority will continue to expand in this program year. In addition, coordination with other organizations like CATCH, Astegos, Boise Rescue Mission, Interfaith Sanctuary, and all members associated with the local Continuum of Care (including private housing developers) will continue to be built upon to improve networks, coordination, and problem solving in the jurisdiction. Meridian's participation in the local continuum of care, housing and homelessness roundtables, and other regional coordination efforts outlines the City's continued action plan for enhancing the networking and coordination between public and private housing and social service agencies.

Citizen Participation

APPENDIX A. City of Meridian Citizen Participation Plan

The Consolidated Plan is a U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) requirement for a city to receive federal housing and community development block grant funding. Created in 1994, it “consolidates” the reporting requirements associated with these block grants.

The Consolidated Plan is typically completed every five years. It examines the housing and community development needs of a city and sets priorities for HUD grant monies to which a city is entitled. The Annual Action Plan specifies how a city intends to distribute block grant funds to meet its five-year priorities. The Consolidated Annual Performance and Evaluation Report (CAPER), completed at the end of each program year, evaluates the city’s performance in meeting its five-year and annual goals. The Analysis of Impediments to Fair Housing Choice (AI), a five-year strategic document with action items incorporated into the Annual Action Plan, affirms the city’s commitment to reducing housing barriers.

Each Consolidated Plan is also required to have a strategy for citizen participation in the Consolidated Plan process. This Citizen Participation Plan satisfies that requirement.

Between January 2017 and June 2017, the City of Meridian prepared a draft of its Five Year Consolidated Plan covering program years 2017-2021, its 2017 Action Plan, and a five-year AI. This document outlines the city’s process and plan for soliciting and receiving citizen input during the preparation review period of the draft Consolidated Plan, as well as in the event that amendments are made to the Plan. Included in this is the city’s approved Citizen Participation Plan for all aspects of the Consolidated Plan process including: the Five Year Strategic Plan, the Action Plan, amendments to the Consolidated Plan, the CAPER, and the AI.

Purpose of Citizen Participation Plan

The City of Meridian recognizes the importance of public participation in both defining and understanding current housing and community development needs and barriers, and prioritizing resources to address those needs. The city’s Citizen Participation Plan is designed to encourage citizens to participate in the development of the Consolidated Plan, Annual Action Plans, AI, CAPER, and any substantial amendments to the Plan. The Citizen Participation Plan is intended to encourage citizens of all ages, genders, economic levels, races, ethnicities, cultures, and special needs equal access to become involved in the Plan each year. This Citizen Participation Plan was written in accordance with Sections 91.100 and 91.105 of HUD’s Consolidated Plan regulations.

In order to ensure maximum participation in the Consolidated Plan process among all populations and needs groups, and in order to ensure that their issues and concerns are adequately addressed, the City of Meridian will follow the standards set forth in its adopted Citizen Participation Plan during development of its Consolidated Plan, Annual Action Plans,

CAPERs and AI, and for any substantial amendments. The participation process will be developed and monitored by the Planning Division of the City of Meridian's Community Development Department.

Glossary of Relevant Terms

Analysis of Impediments to Fair Housing Choice (AI). This document reviews housing challenges and fair housing issues in the city and broader region. It results in goals and action steps to address and mitigate barriers.

Action Plan. The yearly portion of the Consolidated Plan that identifies the specific activities and projects to be undertaken by the city with CDBG funds during that program year.

Consolidated Annual Performance and Evaluation Report (CAPER). The CAPER reports the city's completion of projects and activities as outlined within the Action and Consolidated Plans and the expenditure of Community Development Block Grant and related block grant funds, as received by the city.

Community Development Block Grant (CDBG). CDBG, established under Title 1 of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974, as amended, Public Law 93-383 and the funding received under such program, which assists communities to address housing and community development needs, primarily for low and moderate income residents.

Consolidated Plan. A three to five year plan of a city's housing and community development needs, resources, priorities, and proposed activities to be undertaken for the CDBG programs (a.k.a., Housing and Community Development Plan).

Relevant Areas and Programs. The City of Meridian 2017-2021 Consolidated Plan covers the geographic area within the city limits of Meridian. The City of Meridian is entitled to receive CDBG funding from HUD during the program years between 2017 and 2021. These funds must benefit low and moderate income residents and/or neighborhoods within Meridian.

Public Participation and Comment

Consolidated Plan and Annual Action Plans. As required by Sections 91.100 and 91.105 of HUD's Consolidated Plan regulations, the city, at a minimum, will conduct two community meetings to obtain citizens' views on housing and community development needs, program performance, funding priorities and to respond to questions. At least one of these hearings will be held before the proposed consolidated plan is published for comment.

The city may also elect to collect citizen input through alternative public involvement techniques—e.g., using focus groups, surveys and social media, with the intent of developing a shared vision for investment in communities and neighborhoods.

In developing applications for each Annual Action Plan cycle, the city will offer technical assistance, as requested, in developing proposals for funding assistance under any of the programs covered by the Consolidated Plan. The level and type of assistance will be determined annually by the city depending on need as evidenced in past applications and expressed by residents, stakeholders and past grantees. The assistance need not include the provision of funds to the groups receiving technical assistance.

The citizen input techniques will be designed to encourage participation by low and moderate income residents, residents living in neighborhoods with revitalization needs, residents benefitting from public housing assistance, and residents with special needs. The Boise City Ada County Housing Authority (BCACHA) will be notified about Consolidated Plan activities related to its developments and resident communities, to allow this information to be available at the public hearings required for its plan.

Prior to the adoption of a Consolidated Plan and Annual Action Plans, the city will make available to interested parties the draft Plan for a comment period of no less than 30 days and will conduct a public hearing during the 30-day comment period.

The 30 day comment period and the public hearing for the Consolidated Plan and the Annual Action Plans will be noticed in the local newspapers, the Valley Times and the Idaho Statesman, and by posting the notice on the city's website and social media sites. The public notice shall be published at least two weeks in advance of the public hearing and shall include information regarding the subject of the hearing and the date, time, and location of the public hearing as well as a notice of opportunity to provide written or oral comment.

The draft Consolidated Plan will contain the amount of assistance the city expects to receive through the HUD CDBG grants and the top level strategic goals that will guide funding over the five planning periods. The annual Action Plan will show detail the activities and grantees to whom the city intends to allocate funds for that particular program year.

Electronic copies of the draft plans will be available on the city's website and circulated to residents and stakeholders who have expressed interest in receiving the document via email. Hard copies will be available for review at city offices and will be provided to the public at a specific request.

The Council will consider any comments or views of individuals or groups received in writing or orally during the Plan process and at the public hearing to be held during the 30-day public comment period. The Council shall at its regular or a special public meeting, review the proposed Consolidated Plan or annual Action Plan, and the summaries regarding the incorporation of citizen comments or views provided, and shall vote on a resolution to adopt the final Consolidated Plan or annual Action Plan.

Comments received on the draft plans will be summarized in the final plans submitted to HUD. Copies of letters and emails received may be appended to the plans if requested and permitted by commenters.

The city will provide a written response to all written citizen complaints related to the Plans within 15 working days of receiving the complaints. Copies of the complaints, along with the city's response will be sent to HUD if they occur outside of the Consolidated Planning process and, as such, do not appear in the Consolidated Plan.

CAPER. A public notice of the CAPER availability and the date, time and location of the public hearing will be published in the local newspapers, Valley Times and the Idaho Statesman, and by posting the notice on the city's Web site at least two weeks in advance of the public hearing. After the notice is published, citizens will have a period of not less than 15 days to comment on the CAPER, and the city will conduct a public hearing on the CAPER at the conclusion of the comment period. The city will consider any comments or views of citizens received in writing. A summary of these comments or views, and a summary of any comments or views shall be attached to the CAPER. The Council shall at its regular or a special public meeting, review the CAPER and the summaries regarding the incorporation of citizen comments or views provided, and shall vote on a resolution to adopt the final CAPER.

AI. The citizen participation process for the AI will also include alternative public involvement techniques—e.g., using focus groups, surveys and social media—with a focus on reaching residents who are most vulnerable to fair housing challenges and are historically underrepresented in community engagement processes. The AI will also be available for public review during a 30-day comment period. Electronic copies of the draft AI will be available on the city's website and circulated to residents and stakeholders who have expressed interest in receiving the document via email. Hard copies will be available for review at city offices and will be provided to the public at a specific request.

Translations and reasonable accommodations. This citizen participation plan, the Consolidated Plan, the Annual Action Plan, and the AI will be made available in formats accessible to persons with disabilities and in languages other than English pursuant to the city's Language Assistance Plan (LAP) upon request.

Substantial Amendments

Occasionally, public comments or a change in circumstances warrant an amendment to the Consolidated Plan and/or an annual Action Plan. The criteria for whether to amend are referred to by HUD as Substantial Amendment Criteria. The following conditions are considered to be "Substantial Amendment Criteria:"

1. Any change in the described method of distributing program funds.
  - Elements of a "method of distribution" are:
    - A change in the expected federal allocation of the block grant of 20 percent or more.
    - A change in the city's allocation plan that would redirect more than 20 percent of annual funding to a different activity. Small changes—e.g., movements among grantees within public services programs—will require department head approval but not a substantial amendment.
    - Carrying out an activity using CDBG funds or program income not previously described in the action plan or the consolidated plan.
2. An administrative decision to reallocate all the funds allocated to an activity in the Action Plan to other activities of equal or lesser priority need level, unless the decision is a result of:

- A federal government rescission of appropriated funds, or appropriations are so much less than anticipated that the city makes an administrative decision not to fund one or more activities; and/or
- The governor declares a state of emergency and reallocates federal funds to address the emergency.

Citizen participation in the event of a substantial amendment. In the event of a substantial amendment to the Consolidated Plan or annual Action Plan, the city will publish a notice of the recommended changes and the date, time, and location of the public hearing in the Valley Times and the Idaho Statesman newspapers and on the city’s Web site at least two weeks in advance of the public hearing. The city will provide a 30-day public comment period in advance of the public hearing on the proposed substantial amendment. The Council shall at its regular or a special public meeting, review the proposed substantial amendment and the summaries regarding the incorporation of citizen comments or views provided, and shall vote on a resolution to adopt the substantial amendment. Following the Council’s passage of the resolution adopting the substantial amendment, the city will notify HUD of the amendment and shall submit a copy of each substantial amendment to HUD as such occurs.

Consideration of public comments on the substantially amended plan. In the event of substantial amendments to the Consolidated Plan or Action Plan, the City Council will consider any comments on the substantially amended Plan from individuals or groups. Comments must be received in writing or orally at public hearings. A summary of the written and public hearing comments on the substantial amendments will be included in the final Plan. Also included in the final Plan will be a summary of all comments not accepted and their reasons for dismissal.

Changes in federal funding level. Any changes in federal funding levels after the draft Consolidated Plan or Action Plan’s comment period has expired and the resulting effect on the distribution of funds will not be considered an amendment or a substantial amendment.

Public access to records

The city will provide all interested parties with access to information and records related to the city’s Consolidated Plan, Annual Action Plans, CAPER and the city’s use of funds under all programs covered by the Consolidated Plan during the preceding five years.

All materials, announcements, and notices of the hearing will include information about how persons with disabilities and non-English speaking persons may request accommodations in order to review the proposed plan and provide written or oral comments. Upon request, or in the case of public hearings where a significant number of non-English speaking residents can reasonably be expected to participate, the city will provide both written interpretation(s) of the proposed consolidated or action plan one (1) week prior to the public hearing or within 48 hours of a request; and/or oral interpretation at the public hearing.

Consultation with Organizations and City Agencies

When preparing the Consolidated Plan, Annual Action Plans and the AI, the city will actively consult with public and private agencies that provide housing, health, and social services in order to ensure that the interests and needs of all groups are being adequately addressed. These may include the regional Continuum of Care, private businesses/employers, residential developers, nonprofit organizations, philanthropic organizations, and community-based and faith-based organizations, including those that provide services to special needs populations. This consultation will occur through interviews conducted with such organizations and incorporation of data and reports produced by such organizations into the Consolidated Plan, Annual Action Plans, and AI.

SECTION II. Citizen Participation

This section of the Consolidated Plan and Fair Housing Assessment:

- Describes outreach activities undertaken to encourage community participation;
- Identifies media outlets and efforts to reach underrepresented populations (e.g., those in poverty-concentrated areas, with limited English proficiency, persons with disabilities);
- Discusses how successful these efforts were in eliciting community participation; and
- Reports the findings from the community outreach process.

Participation Opportunities and Outreach Activities

Citizen participation opportunities for the development of the Consolidated Plan and Fair Housing Assessment included:

- A resident survey offered online and on paper—479 respondents;
- Stakeholder in-depth interviews—11 participants; and
- Facilitated discussion with Continuum of Care members at their January 2017 meeting.

Outreach. Resident surveys were promoted through media relations resulting in an article in the Meridian Press. Paper postage-paid response surveys and promotional flyers were distributed to locations where Meridian’s low and moderate income residents’ and members of special needs populations live, recreate, receive services or where their children attend school.

This supplement to the Consolidated Plan and Fair Housing Assessment discusses the primary findings from citizen participation and consultation. While the 2017 online survey is not a random sample of residents, it does represent the experiences and perspectives a cross-section of Meridian residents, and serves to characterize themes and indicators of need from the respondents' diverse perspectives.

Participant Profile

Local housing and human services providers, City of Meridian staff and Meridian residents provided input into the Consolidated Plan and AI. Topics addressed include housing and community development needs and priorities, fair housing issues and contributing factors, and issues pertinent to special needs populations.

Stakeholders. Stakeholder consultation included in-depth interviews and a facilitated discussion with Boise City/Ada County Continuum of Care members. Figure II-1 lists the organizations represented in the stakeholder consultation process.

- The median household size of survey respondents is three members. One in 10 live alone and two in five live in households with five or more members.
- Meridian adults of all ages participated in the resident survey and the distribution across age cohorts is fairly even. About one in five respondents are between the ages of 25 and 34; one in four are ages 35 to 44; one in five are ages 45 to 54; 16 percent are 55 to 64 and one in five are age 65 and older.
- Slightly more than half (51%) have children age 18 or younger living in the home and 7 percent are single parent households.
- One in 10 respondents live in multigenerational households (with other adult family members).
- Most respondents (93%) are white; three percent are multiracial; 2 percent are Hispanic; and 2 percent are American Indian.
- The median income of survey respondents ranges from $50,000 to $75,000. One in 20 respondents reports household income of $20,000 or less and one in five report incomes of $150,000 or more.

Housing type. Nearly nine in 10 respondents live in single family homes. This is a higher share of single family home residents than Meridian overall housing stock (63% single family).

Housing Preferences

Resident survey participants shared the factors that were most important to them when choosing their current home. Renters indicated their preferences regarding homeownership.

Important factors to choosing home and neighborhood. After cost, the home itself (e.g., number of bedrooms) and safety/low crime neighborhood were the most important factors to choosing a home to the greatest proportions of respondents. Responses not shown ("other" category) include proximity to the freeway/I-84, room for horses, and that the home is a family home passed through generations.

Note: n=479 residents. Numbers add to greater than 100 percent due to multiple response.

Renters. Renters responded to a series of questions related to the ease of finding affordable rental units and their preferences regarding homeownership. Stakeholders raised a lack of affordable rental housing as a significant need in Meridian, although some questioned the appetite of residents for publicly-supported housing.

Ease of finding affordable rental units. Nearly half of renters who participated in the resident survey rated finding an affordable rental unit in Meridian as difficult (rating of 0, 1 or 2), and one in four rated this task extremely difficult.

If you had to move, how easy or difficult would it be to find an affordable rental unit in Meridian?

Note: n=70 renters.

Source: BBC Research & Consulting from the 2017 Meridian Resident Survey.

Lack of supply of affordable rental housing. Stakeholders identified several factors which may limit the supply of affordable rental housing in Meridian:

- The market rate ownership and rental housing market continues to be strong in Meridian;
- It is difficult for LIHTC proposals located in Meridian (or the Treasure Valley) to score sufficient points to win tax credits. Stakeholders attribute this difficulty to a combination of QAP priorities that favor Idaho rural communities and a lack of LIHTC proposal "know how" among local developers; and
- Opposition to publicly supported affordable housing by Meridian residents and some community leaders. Most stakeholders interviewed brought up a recent (summer 2016) proposed affordable housing multifamily development that local residents objected to and which members of City Council publicly opposed. The project is not moving forward as affordable housing. Resident concerns included traffic, crime, school crowding and perceived negative impacts on neighboring property values.

Barriers to homeownership. Most renters (87%) would prefer to become homeowners in the next five years. The three barriers to homeownership identified by the greatest proportion of renters are:

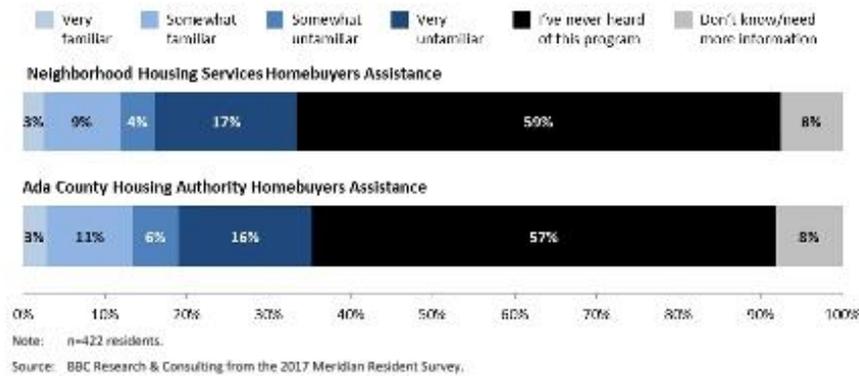

- Lack of downpayment (40%);
- Poor credit (16%); and
- Insufficient income to pay mortgage (10%).

It is important to note that, according to survey respondents, renters' monthly housing costs are similar to owners'. Therefore, renters appear to have the ability to manage a mortgage payment if they had the downpayment and credit to secure a mortgage loan.

Awareness of local homeownership programs. Most resident survey respondents had not heard of the two programs funded by the City of Meridian to facilitate homeownership. About 15 percent of respondents had some familiarity with the homebuyers assistance programs operated by Neighborhood Housing Services and the Boise City/Ada County Housing Authority. Several respondents had applied to the program but did not meet income requirements.

Housing Condition

Resident survey respondents indicated whether or not aspects of their homes need repair or replacement. With respect to home condition, stakeholders pointed to Meridian's downtown neighborhoods as an area with many homes in need of exterior and interior home repairs.

Exterior repairs. Meridian's relatively new housing stock is evidenced by the small proportions of respondents identifying needed exterior home repair or replacement. The greatest proportion of respondents (about one-third) identified landscaping and driveways in need of repair.

Exterior Home Repair or Replacement Needs

Interior repairs. As with exterior repairs, most respondents do not have interior repair or replacement needs. Weatherization and flooring are the exception.

Barriers to repairs. Nearly half of respondents have not made needed repairs or replacement because they cannot afford to make the repairs (46%). Nearly two in five (36%) plan to make the repairs themselves but have not had the time to perform the task.

Homelessness and Housing Insecurity

Respondents to the resident survey shared their experience with homelessness and the extent to which their current housing situation may be insecure.

Homelessness. Overall, 2 percent of the residents participating in the survey report being homeless in the past five years. Reduced work hours and moving away from domestic violence are factors at least one-third of these residents report contributing to their episode of homelessness.

2017 Mendon Resident Survey.

Skipped housing payment or sought additional work to pay expenses. In the past six months, 4 percent of resident survey respondents report missing a mortgage or rent payment. Nearly 60 percent attribute this to reduced work hours and 26 percent cite job loss or medical bills. One in five resident survey respondents sought additional employment in the past year in order to pay housing expenses.

- "I'm a single mom with no child support. I work two jobs and have kids full time; some months are tight." (Resident survey respondent)
- "On the job injury resulted in insufficient benefits, permanent disability and still no long term benefits. We're at the end of our rope." (Resident survey respondent)
- "We are afraid our property taxes are going to go up on our fixed income, and we won't be able to pay them. That's our biggest fear." (Resident survey respondent)

Foreclosure history and risk. Nearly one in 10 resident survey respondents (7%) lost a home to foreclosure in the past 10 years. Half of those who lost homes in foreclosure found housing in the private rental market; 14 percent moved in with family or friends (doubled up). One in 20 (5%) owe more on their home than it is currently worth.

Sacrifice basic needs. In the past year, at least one in 10 participants in the resident survey reduced or went without one or more basic needs in order to pay their housing costs.

- "I put groceries and meds on a credit card." (Resident survey respondent)
- "I had to borrow money to pay my mortgage after my husband's death, now I have to sell my home." (Resident survey respondent)
- "I did not replace tires on my car; didn't register or drive my car for 8+months, canceled Direct TV, anything else I could sacrifice I did in order to pay rent." (Resident survey respondent)

 BBC Research & Consulting from the 2017 Meridian Resident Survey.

Domestic violence. Overall, 17 percent of survey respondents report that they or a member of their family has experienced domestic or dating violence; 24 percent of these situations occurred in the last five years. One in five domestic or dating violence situations occurred while the respondent or family member was living in Meridian. The types of services survivors sought and used include counseling, judicial processes, medical assistance and temporary housing/shelter. In interviews, stakeholders described the needs and challenges experienced by Meridian families fleeing domestic violence:

- Shelter and supportive service providers are located in Boise, further isolating victims of domestic violence from their community connections and network in Meridian.
- The lack of affordable housing and transportation services in Meridian makes it unlikely that families that flee domestic violence in Meridian are able to return to the community. Children lose their home, school and neighborhood.
- One of the three primary categories of homeless children in the West Ada School District is children whose mother has fled the home due to domestic violence.
- The typical income of a mother fleeing domestic violence is less than $8,000 per year, and this income comes from TANF (Temporary Assistance for Needy Families) and food stamps. The Women's and Children's Alliance (WCA) has grants and vouchers to provide transitional housing support, but Meridian's rents exceed the guidelines (Fair Market Rents) and the family can rarely pay the difference.
- Meridian needs a (small) domestic violence shelter with capacity for up to four families (four rooms). WCA's Boise shelter has 15 rooms accommodating up to 54 beds.
- Funding is needed for another case manager, child care staff and court advocates. Currently child care and court advocates are mostly staffed by volunteers.

Most Urgent Housing and Community Development Needs

Residents and stakeholders prioritized housing and community development needs.

Resident perspectives. Respondents to the resident survey identified up to three amenities or services they would improve in Meridian. At least one-third of residents prioritized road improvements and public transit as needed improvements in amenities or services in Meridian. Specific resident comments about other needs include:

- "Adding sidewalks and crosswalk to busy roads/intersections like all the way down Locust Grove and/or Victory." (Resident survey respondent)
- "Available and affordable housing, without a long waiting list, for able bodied people on fixed incomes." (Resident survey respondent)
- "The roads and sidewalks in the older downtown neighborhoods could be better. Many parts of the neighborhoods don't have sidewalks at all which makes me as a parent nervous for the many children walking to and from school." (Resident survey respondent)
- "Pools we only have one City pool and my neighborhood doesn't have any."
- "Grocery stores that are affordable like Winco AND low income SENIOR housing. My elderly mother has to live in Eagle in affordable senior housing and commute to Meridian for work and it is stressful on everyone because she's older. It also makes things harder for us to check on her." (Resident survey respondent)
- "Good schools, but no affordable housing for single parents and services to help." (Resident survey respondent)
- "Meridian has grown so much so fast that the traffic at certain times gets very bad. Main roads need to have the number of lanes increased." (Resident survey respondent)
- "12 step programs need access to community facilities for meetings, events, etc. When we asked for space there has always been some reason we couldn't be there."

Stakeholder perspectives. Affordable housing was the primary housing and community development need raised in the stakeholder consultation process, followed by homelessness prevention and public transportation. Stakeholders' highest priorities for Meridian's housing and community development include:

- Rental housing affordable to incomes below MFI. One stakeholder suggested developing an affordable housing strategy that incorporates new construction, including LIHTC projects, as well as a preservation strategy.
- Homelessness prevention. Meridian's homeless population is largely comprised of families with children "doubled up" with family or friends. Stakeholders also suggest that Meridian should financially support the Continuum of Care and assist with transitioning the Continuum out of the City of Boise into a nonprofit framework.
- Domestic violence shelter serving up to four families.
- Public transportation.
- Need for local service providers. Nearly all social service providers are located in Boise, making it difficult for local residents to connect to support.

Summary of Comments Received During Public Comment Period and Public Hearing

Public Comment Period Held from June 23, 2017 through July 25, 2017 with a Public Hearing on July 25, 2017.

- No written public comments were received during the public comment period
- Oral Comment from Caleb Hood received July 5, 2017
  - Summary: Caleb is an employee at the City of Meridian who works closely with the CDBG program. He expressed that would be smart to adjust the citizen participation plan appendix in the consolidated plan to remove certain restrictions on the City in how they have to logistically respond to public processes. In particular, he noted that the CDBG notices should comply with local publishing policies, which require publishing with only specific local newspapers that the City has a relationship with rather than tying the program and its resources to publishing in every local paper that exists in the community.

Caleb also noted that in previous consolidated plans there has been a stricter regulation on what constitutes a substantial amendment and what processes are required when a substantial amendment is needed. He explained that in the past there has been an exorbitant amount of time and energy that has been put into substantial amendment processes due the pattern of frequent changes in the City's program activities coupled with the relatively strict standards the City has held itself to in the 2012-2016 Consolidated Plan. He suggested a more flexible structure to defining what activities define and require substantial amendment processes.

- Oral Comment from Ty Palmer received July 25, 2017 in Public Hearing
  - Summary: Ty noted that the proposed activities in the 2017 Action Plan to fund NeighborWorks Boise and the Ada County Housing Authority to provide homebuyer assistance services to Meridian residents should require some client buy-in. He explained that he feels it is important for someone to have some "skin in the game" and accountability for their home-buying transaction. He thinks that nobody should just be handed a home or funding to assist with the cost of the home without some providing some financial support themselves.
- Oral Comment from Ralph Chappell received July 25, 2017 in Public Hearing
  - Summary: Ralph noted his aversion to the City accepting and utilizing federal funds for any projects in the community. He discussed his concerns with the federal debt in the United States and what he believes to be an immoral action in agreeing to utilize federal funds in his community. He actively pushed the city council to not approve the consolidated and action plans and get out of the federal CDBG program. He noted his concern that the local governments current acceptance and use of federal CDBG funds would ultimately come back to haunt his children and grandchildren as he asserted that the "ever-increasing" federal debt would cripple the younger generation's ability to thrive because they'd have to pay back the debt that the current generations had created. He invited the City Council members to explain and justify to the younger generations in Meridian why they felt it was morally acceptable to burden them with debt so that they could fund the City's CDBG program using federal money.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY.

City of Meridian 2017-2021 Consolidated Plan and Analysis of Impediments to Fair Housing Choice

This document represents the Five-year Consolidated Plan for the City of Meridian.

A Consolidated Plan is required of any city, county or state that receives federal block grant dollars for housing and community development funding from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD). There are four types of HUD block grant housing and community development programs: the Community Development Block Grant (CDBG), the HOME Investment Partnerships Program (HOME), the Emergency Solutions Grant (ESG), and the Housing Opportunities for People with AIDS (HOPWA) program.

The purpose of the Consolidated Plan is:

- To identify a city's, county's or state's housing and community development needs, priorities, goals and strategies; and
- To stipulate how funds will be allocated to housing and community development activities during the five year planning period.

Annually, recipients of HUD block grant funds must prepare an Action Plan that details how funds will be spent in the current program year. This document combines the Five-year Strategic Plan with the 2017 Action Plan.

The City of Meridian receives approximately $350,000 each year from HUD for housing and community development activities. In the past, CDBG has funded activities such as:

- Picnic Shelter-Recreational Facility at Meridian Elementary
- Hunger relief (Meridian Food Bank)
- Homeless case management (CATCH)
- Senior's Resource Guide (Senior Advisory Council)
- Sidewalk construction
- Down-payment assistance (Neighborhood Housing Services and BCACH)
- Façade improvements Community Input Informing the Consolidated Plan

Nearly 500 Meridian residents and stakeholders helped inform the Consolidated Plan five-year goals and annual activities to address housing and community development needs. Residents participated in the Consolidated Plan process at community meetings and public hearings and through an online and in-person survey about housing needs.

Resident surveys were promoted through several media outlets of the City (e.g. Facebook, Twitter, Meridian City website). An article in the local Meridian newspaper was also composed. Staff also hand-delivered surveys to several residential developments and community service centers, to encourage participation by residents who are often underrepresented in community participation processes:

- James Court Apartments
- Traymore Senior Apartments
- Meridian Elementary
- Barbara Morgan STEM Academy
- The Meridian Food Bank
- Boys & Girls Club
- Special Olympics
- Friends of Children and Families
- Homecourt YMCA
- Meridian Community Center
- Meridian Library (all 3 locations)
- Meridian Senior Center
- Touchmark Senior Living Center

The survey was also available at Meridian City Hall (Front Information Desk, Parks and Recreation Offices and Utility Billing Center).

Summary of public comments. Citizens and stakeholders were also invited to comment on the Draft 2017-2021 Consolidated Plan during the 35-day public comment period beginning on May 16 and ending on June 20. A public hearing was held on June 20, 2017 where staff presented the proposed goals and objectives of the Five-year Consolidated Plan and funding allocation for the 2017 Annual Action Plan. All comments and views were accepted and considered in development of the Consolidated Plan and 2017 Action Plan.

Five-year Priorities and Goals

The following Priority Needs and Strategic Goals for the five-year Consolidated Planning cycle are based on:

- Input from almost 500 Meridian residents through a community survey;
- A focus group with stakeholders who assist special needs populations;
- A housing market analysis;
- Input received in the 35-day comment process and a public hearing; and
- The City's Strategic Plan and Comprehensive Plan.

High priority needs

- Improvements in economic stability for residents who are low income, have special needs, and/or are at risk of losing shelter or housing.
- Homeownership opportunities for residents earning 80-120 percent of the Area Median Income (AMI).
- Rental assistance and deeply affordable rental units for very low income renters and/or persons at-risk of losing shelter or housing.
- Improved housing options and social and supportive services for people including but not limited to people with special needs and individuals/families leaving domestic violence situations.
- Improved weatherization of housing stock.
- Better accessibility in Meridian (e.g., sidewalks, ADA improvements, accessible and visitable homes, recreation and service facilities).

Housing Priorities

- Explore and support opportunities for rental assistance programs and units to serve very low income renters, especially families who are leaving domestic violence situations and/or residents at risk of losing shelter or housing.
- Explore and support down payment assistance opportunities for moderate-income renters wanting to buy in Meridian.
- Explore and improve housing rehabilitation opportunities for low and moderate income households, prioritizing weatherization and accessibility and visitability.

Economic Opportunity Priorities

- Improve and support service programs for low income and special needs residents—e.g., provision of food staples, emergency repairs, emergency rental assistance.

Neighborhood and Community Development Priorities

- Improve accessibility in Meridian (e.g., sidewalks, ADA improvements, accessible and visitable homes, handicapped parking, recreation and service facilities).
- Explore addition public and other transit options.

Five-year Goals and Rationale

Housing Goals

- 1) Stabilize the rental gap by providing incentives to organizations for the construction of housing and/or development of social support programs that help to reduce the number of individuals/families who are at risk of losing shelter or housing. As opportunities arise, provide non-monetary support—e.g., fast track development approvals, favorable regulatory environment—to organizations creating affordable rental housing.

Rationale: The last Consolidated Plan identified a shortage of 1,077 rental units to serve Meridian households earning $25,000 and less (rents of $625 and less, including utilities). This gap increased in the past 5 years to 1,348 units. The increase was largely due to additional households falling below the poverty line.

- 2) Enhance homeownership opportunities through downpayment assistance and homeownership counseling.

Rationale: Nearly 90 percent of renters who responded to the survey conducted for this study expressed an interest in homeownership. Not having enough money for a downpayment (40% of renters who want to buy) and poor credit (16%) were the top reasons these renters had not achieved homeownership. Although not a statistically significant sample of renters, the high percentage of renter respondents who want to be owners suggests a strong desire for homeownership in Meridian.

- 3) Explore a program to assist low income homeowners with needed repairs to lower energy costs, improve residents' quality of life and preserve affordable housing stock. This could be a grant or loan program administered by a regional organization to maximize efficiencies and reduce administrative costs.

Rationale: Respondents to the Consolidated Plan survey expressed the highest need for weatherization improvements to lower energy costs: more than one-third of Meridian residents said their homes need weatherization replacement or repairs. This was followed by repairs to walls and ceilings. The survey also found that 20 percent of Meridian residents had to find additional employment in the past year to afford housing costs and repairs.

Economic Opportunity Goals

- 1) Continue to use block grant funds to provide social services for low income and special needs residents—e.g., provision of food staples, emergency repairs, emergency rental assistance.

Neighborhood and Community Development Goals

- 2) Work through the Ada County Highway District's, Parks and Recreation Department's, and City's code enforcement processes to create a more accessible environment for persons with disabilities. Continue to improve sidewalks and provide proper signage and enforce requirements for handicapped parking spots. Explore opportunities to expand accessible recreation in parks (Pocatello is a best practice).

Rationale: Persons with disabilities interviewed and surveyed for this study prioritized accessibility improvements, particularly public infrastructure. Community access for persons with disabilities was identified as a barrier in reference to lack of/poor sidewalks and access to handicapped parking.

- 3) Explore future opportunities to serve and support individuals and families who are escaping domestic violence.

Rationale: Domestic violence is a top reason Meridian residents become at risk for losing shelter/housing. Stakeholders describe an acute need for housing and support services for individuals and families who are escaping domestic violence.

- 4) Work regionally to improve transportation options.

Rationale: Public transit was the public improvement chosen the most by survey respondents after road improvements: more than one-third of residents said this was the top community development need in Meridian.

Evaluation of past performance. Meridian's past Five-year Consolidated Plan was organized around the HUD initiatives of: 1) Creating a Suitable Living Environment, 2) Providing Decent Housing, and 3) Creating Economic Opportunities.

To this end, the City has focused on supporting social service provider operations (Meridian Food Bank), improving community facilities (Boys and Girls Club), addressing accessibility barriers (parks and trails), preventing homelessness with emergency assistance, and assisting with homeownership attainment for low and moderate income buyers.

All of these activities meet critical needs in Meridian. The primary challenges encountered during the last Consolidated Plan period were timing- and contact-related. To address these challenges, the City intends to have more stringent requirements for grant recipients, particularly in meeting expected schedules.

Goals to Remove or Ameliorate the Barriers to Affordable Housing

During the 2017-2021 Consolidated Planning period, the City of Meridian will complete the following to improve housing choice and access to opportunity:

Fair Housing Goal No. 1: Improve the condition of sidewalks in Meridian, particularly in neighborhoods where persons with low-moderate income reside. Seek new funding opportunities and partnerships for sidewalk repairs.

Fair housing challenge addressed: Inaccessible infrastructure.

Contributing factors addressed: Aging public infrastructure and limited funding to make significant repairs.

Metrics and milestones:

Work through the Ada County Highway District's, Parks and Recreation Department's, Meridian Development Corporation, and City's code enforcement processes to create a more accessible environment for persons with disabilities. Continue to improve sidewalks and provide proper signage and enforce requirements for handicapped parking spots. Explore opportunities to expand accessible recreation in parks.

PY2017 outcome: Improve 5 segments of sidewalk in a neighborhood with aging infrastructure and occupied by seniors and low income residents.

Fair Housing Goal No. 2: Support preservation of housing occupied by low income homeowners and stabilization of affordable rental housing by assisting low income renter households and supporting the creation of affordable housing.

Fair housing challenge addressed: Lack of affordable housing.

Contributing factors addressed: Low rental vacancies, rising housing costs, high demand to live in Meridian, increasing number of residents with housing needs.

Metrics and milestones:

Explore options to help stabilize the rental gap by: providing incentives to organizations for the construction of housing; support the development of social support programs that help to reduce the number of individuals/families who are at risk of losing shelter or housing. As opportunities arise, provide non-monetary support—e.g., fast track development approvals, favorable regulatory environment—to organizations creating affordable rental housing.

Continue to use block grant funds to provide social services for low income and special needs residents—e.g., provision of food staples, emergency repairs, emergency rental assistance.

Explore opportunities to fund and assist low income homeowners with needed repairs and weatherization to lower energy costs, improve residents' quality of life and preserve affordable housing stock.

PY2017 outcome: Assist 10 households with emergency assistance and 8 households with downpayment assistance. Assist 2,000 households with food assistance.

By the end of PY2017, determine options for implementing a weatherization program. During the next three years, explore potential development incentives for projects that provide at least 10 percent of units that are affordable to 30 to 80 percent AMI households.

Fair Housing Goal No. 3: Work regionally to improve transportation options.

Fair housing challenge addressed: Lack of public transportation.

Contributing factors addressed: Lack of funding and regional planning to address residents' transportation needs.

Metrics and milestones:

Explore opportunities to expand and improve public transportation options for low-income and special needs populations in Meridian. Explore, with transportation agencies and other municipalities in the region, additional funding sources for public transportation, including potential legislation. Utilize the support of local elected officials, public agencies, and research on other peer communities to learn more about public transportation opportunities and best practices.

PY2017 outcome: Convene two meetings with regional transportation providers and/or jurisdictions to explore best practices to expanding transportation options and garner support for making expanded transportation options that better serve low to moderate income residents and workers a high priority during the next five years .

Meet as scheduled with the Meridian Transportation Commission, the ACHD Capital Improvement Citizen Advisory Committee (ACHD CICAC), the COMPASS Regional Technical Advisory Committee (COMPASS RTAC).

Fair Housing Goal No. 4: Increase education and understanding of fair housing laws by landlords, builders, and residents.

Fair housing challenge addressed: Lack of accessible housing.

Contributing factors addressed Landlords' failure to comply with reasonable accommodations provisions of the Fair Housing Act; builders' failure to comply with fair housing accessibility rules.

Metrics and milestones:

Continue to sponsor regional fair housing campaigns and trainings.

Conduct annual internal trainings for City leaders and relevant staff on fair housing design and construction guidelines. Ensure relevant City staff are aware of fair housing design and construction guidelines.

PY2017 outcome: Fund two regional fair housing campaigns and trainings. Provide flyers and posters to at least 5 landlords and 5 homeowner's associations in Meridian.

2017 Annual Action Plan

During PY2017, CDBG will fund the following activities to address high priority needs of providing emergency services to low income residents to prevent homelessness, helping low and moderate income residents achieve homeownership, and improving accessibility through sidewalk reconstruction. The expected program allocation and outcomes will include the following. Note: five segments of sidewalks in Census tract 103.21, Block Group 2, are expected to be repaired with the allocation to the Meridian Development Corporation. There are 995 households living in this Block Group. About 20 percent of these households are comprised of senior females living alone. Another 35 percent are families with young children; half are households led by a single mother.

SECTION I.

Demographic Summary

SECTION I. Demographic Summary

The Demographic Summary is the starting point for the Consolidated Plan's identification of housing and community development needs. It provides information on how the drivers of housing choice—income, household characteristics, age and disability status—have changed over time. The section also provides indicators of potential fair housing issues and priorities. For example, strong growth in senior residents may increase demand for accessible, visitable housing with services, which is typically challenging to find in most communities.

Section Content and Organization

This section begins with an overview of how the City has grown and changed since 2000, 2007 (before the economic downturn) and 2011, the full year before the prior Consolidated Plan was conducted.

The remainder of the section follows the structure suggested in HUD's Consolidated Plan and the new framework for fair housing analyses (Assessment of Fair Housing or AFH), examining demographic patterns related to:

- Segregation and integration of residents of differing races, ethnicities, country of origin and language spoken; and
- Concentrated areas of poverty.

Disparities in access to opportunity, also an AFH requirement, are examined in the Disability and Access to Opportunity section. Where possible, the section contains an analysis of the factors that contribute to the identified disparities.

Community Overview

Meridian is located in Ada County in southwestern Idaho, off of Highway I-84, between Boise and Nampa. Over the past decade, Meridian has surpassed nearby Nampa in population size and is now the second largest city in Idaho. The U.S. Census reported the City's population at 84,018 for 2015.

Over 90 percent of Meridian residents identify themselves as White. This has declined slightly, as the percentage of residents who identify as of Hispanic descent has risen in the past 15 years. Still, City residents predominantly report their race as non-Hispanic White. The City is less diverse than the state overall and nearby Boise and Nampa.

Between 2007 and 2015, the fastest growing age cohorts were Baby Boomers (ages 45 to 64) and seniors (65 and older), at a rate of 107 and 236 percent, respectively. This growth indicates an increasing need for services and housing aimed an aging population.

The age trends in Meridian are similar to many "bedroom communities," who saw a decrease in prime working age residents in the past decade.

Population. The population of Meridian increased by 12,010 residents between 2011 and 2015, a 4.2 percent annual growth rate. As shown in Figure I-1, as measured by the annual growth rate, the City's population increased the fastest in the period before the Great Recession, between 2000 and 2007.

Year 2000 and 2010 population and household estimates are from the US Census, 2007, 2011 and 2015 population and household estimates are from the American Community Survey (ACS).

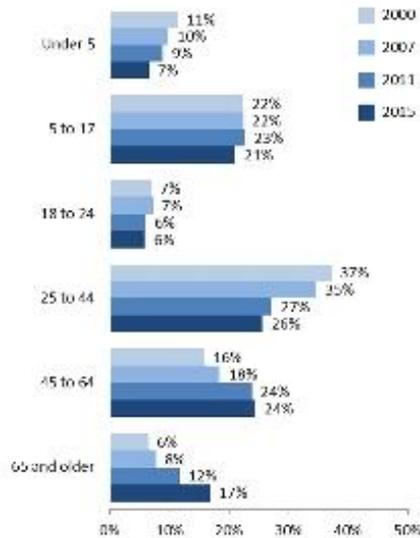

Meridian's share of the county population has steadily increased over the last 15 years - from 12 percent in 2000 to 20 percent in 2015.

Age distribution. Figure I-2 compares the age distribution of the City's population in 2015 to 2000, 2007 and 2010. Meridian's population between the ages of 45 to 64 increased from 16 percent of the total population in 2000 to 24 percent in 2015, primarily due to young adults aging into the 45 to 64 cohort from the 25 to 44 cohort. Across all age groups, growth remained relatively stable except for the age groups of 5 to 7 and 18 to 24, whose cohorts decreased from 22 to 21 percent and 7 to 6 percent, respectively, in the same time period.

Race and ethnicity. While the racial distribution of Meridian residents has changed only slightly since 2000, the City's ethnic distribution saw increasing numbers of Hispanic residents. According to 2015 data, residents that are of Hispanic descent make up 8 percent of the total population, up from 4 percent in 2000. Eighty-six percent of residents identify as non-Hispanic White, 2 percent are Asian, 1 percent is Native American and 1 percent is African American. Compared to the state overall, the City of Meridian has a higher proportion of residents who are non-Hispanic White—mostly due to the lower Hispanic population.

Meridian's composition of Hispanic and non-Hispanic White residents is similar to that of Boise—8 percent Hispanic in both cities and 86 percent non-Hispanic White in Meridian compared to Boise's 84 percent. Neighboring Nampa has a far greater proportion of Hispanic residents at 23 percent of the total population (and 72% non-Hispanic White).

National origin. National origin, a protected class in Federal Fair Housing Law, can be based either on the country of an individual's birth or where his or her ancestors originated. Census data available to analyze segregation by national origin are more limited in definition, however: they represent the foreign-born population, not ancestry.

In 2015, approximately 98,000 residents of Idaho were born in a country outside of the U.S. These residents represented just 6 percent of the state's total population.

Sixty-five percent of the state's foreign-born citizens are of Hispanic descent. According to the University of Idaho, McClure Center for Public Policy Research, the majority of Idaho's Hispanic residents were born in the U.S. and the vast majority are U.S. citizens. Immigrants who came to the U.S. since 2010 make up only 2 percent of Idaho's Hispanic population.<sup>1</sup>

Foreign-born residents have slightly higher rates of employment than Idahoans overall, according to 2014 Census data: 68 percent of foreign-born residents are in the labor force compared with 62 percent of all residents. Foreign-born residents also have more working members in their household (1.2 v. 1.5); higher poverty rates (15% v. 22%); and lower incomes than Idahoans overall.

Meridian has a similar distribution of foreign-born residents as the state overall. Figure I-5 shows the top ten countries where Meridian's foreign-born residents are from. Individuals of Mexican origin make up the largest percentage of foreign-born residents.

Limited English proficiency residents. In 2015, only 1 percent of Meridian households had no one over the age of 14 who spoke English very well. Residents living in such households are called “Limited English Proficiency” populations, or LEP. Meridian’s 2015 LEP proportion is slightly less than that of the county overall (1.7%) and lower than the State of Idaho (2%).

Figure I-6 shows the top languages spoken in Meridian and by LEP status. The highest proportions of households with LEP are those speaking Spanish or Spanish Creole. Altogether, about 2,300 residents in Meridian have LEP needs—about 3 percent of all residents.

Familial status. The majority of Meridian households are family households (75%), which include related persons living together. This includes married couples, families with children and other arrangements of related individuals. “Non-family” households include people living alone or with roommates.<sup>2</sup>

Since 2010, the City’s proportion of “non-family” households has grown slightly—from 22 percent to 25 percent—likely due to growth of seniors, who often live alone after a spouse passes away. Single heads of household with children has also grown, from 11 to 14 percent. Conversely, the proportion of married couple families has declined slightly (67% to 61%).

Of households with children in 2015, the majority (76%) were married couple families.

<sup>2</sup> Federal familial status protections apply to families with children, a person who is pregnant and anyone in the process of securing legal custody of any individual who has not attained the age of 18 years. The State of Idaho does not have comparable familial status protections.

The two household groups that typically have fewer choices in housing markets and face the highest rates of discrimination are large households (5 family members and more) and single parent households. These household groups need larger units, which are often in limited supply, are less affordable, and can be costly to development.

In 2015, 15 percent of Meridian's households were "large"—containing five or more household members. Of these, 74 percent were owners; 26 percent were renters. As shown above, Meridian has about 2,600 single parent households (1,600 female-headed and 1,050 male-headed). Single parent households are more likely to rent than other household groups (homeownership rate of 60%, compared to 76% for all households).

Disability. Eight percent of persons in Meridian have one or more disabilities, lower than the county (10%) and the state (13%) overall.

Persons with disabilities are typically more vulnerable to housing discrimination due to housing providers' lack of knowledge about reasonable accommodation provisions in fair housing laws. Persons with disabilities also face challenges finding housing that is affordable, accessible and located near transit and supportive services.

The poverty rate for persons with disabilities is very low at 1.3 percent. The majority of people with disabilities that live below the poverty rate are within the age range of 18 to 64 and 75 and over - most children who live with a disability do not live in poverty.

Figure 1-9 shows the ages of persons living with disabilities in Meridian, along with the disability types. Seniors are disproportionately to have disabilities: they make up 53 percent of the population of persons with disabilities in Meridian compared to 8 percent of residents overall.

Of seniors, 32 percent has some type of disability. The most common types of disabilities are ambulatory and hearing.

Eleven percent of non-senior adult residents have a disability; their most common types of disabilities are cognitive and ambulatory.

Five percent of children under 18 are disabled, with the most common types of disability cognitive and self-care.

Income and poverty. The median household income in the City of Meridian was $54,746 in 2015, higher than the state overall ($48,275) but lower than Ada County ($57,399). Figure I-10 displays median household income of both renters and owners in Meridian for 1999, 2007, 2010, 2011 and 2015. Median household income increased between 1999 and 2007, but has continuously declined since the Great Recession. In 2007, the median household income was $62,042—12 percent higher than today. Between 2007 and 2015, renters experienced a 27 percent decrease in income (from $42,534 to $31,012) and owners experienced a 5 percent decrease (from $68,470 to $64,932).

Segregation/Integration

This section discusses racial and ethnic segregation/integration. In analyzing data on segregation and integration, it is important to note that college towns often have more diversity than others cities since students come from many different backgrounds. Residents of certain nationalities or backgrounds may cluster near others who are like them; these preferences can lead to concentrations of residents by race and ethnicities.

Segregation. According to HUD, “segregation” occurs when concentrations of protected classes are a result of fair housing barriers or impediments.

Segregation can also be measured by the dissimilarity index. The dissimilarity index is a mathematical way to measure the evenness of minority resident distribution across geographic units—such as census tracts—that make up a larger geographic area—usually a county. The index compares the proportion of the total population of a minority group in a census tract and the proportion of the total number of Whites in that same census tract.

The index is measured between 0 and 1. An index of 0 indicates perfect distribution of racial and ethnic groups across all census tracts in a region; conversely, an index of 1 indicates complete segregation of racial groups across the region. HUD’s ratings of dissimilarity are determined by the following score ranges: “Low Dissimilarity”—below 0.40; “Moderate”—between 0.40 and 0.55; and “High”—above 0.55. The U.S. cities found to be the most segregated using the dissimilarity index (Milwaukee, New York and Chicago) have indices approaching 0.8.

The dissimilarity index was calculated for Ada County and Meridian:

- Ada County’s index is low for all races and ethnicities except for: African American/non-Hispanic White (Moderate) and Native American/non-Hispanic White (also Moderate).
- Meridian’s index is very low across all races, which has changed from historical trends. In 1990, Meridian’s index for African American/non-Hispanic White residents was closer to moderate at 0.31. Meridian’s dissimilarity index for Hispanic residents (the largest minority group) is 0.16, lower than nearby Nampa (0.18) and Boise (0.23).

Concentrations. This section examines the distribution of residents by race and ethnicity in more detail. It identifies concentrations. Concentrations are different than segregation because they can be due to housing and locational preferences –and not be solely due to impediments.

Concentrations are identified as:

- Census tracts in which the proportion of a protected class is 20 percentage points higher than that in the market area overall, which is specified as the county. This threshold applies to individual racial categories and in non-metro areas, and
- Census tracts that are more than 50 percent minority. Minority residents are defined as those identifying as Hispanic/Latino and/or a Non-White race.

Figure I-12 shows all of the majority-minority concentrations in the State of Idaho. No census tracts in Meridian have majority-minority concentrations. Two minority concentrations exist in nearby Nampa and Caldwell, but the needs of these communities differ greatly from Meridian.

Concentrations for Hispanic residents occur when the proportion exceeds 27 percent (20 percentage points above the county proportion of 7%). Figure I-13 shows that no Hispanic-concentrated census tracts exist in the City of Meridian. This is positive finding, given that Hispanic residents have driven the City's growth in recent years.

Figure I-14 shows where cultural groupings exist within the City. Clusters of residents of Mexican and Chinese origin are located in central and northeastern Meridian census tracts. There is also a cluster of residents of Bosnian origin in eastern census tracts. Overall, individuals with a national origin other than the U.S., reside in centrally-located census tracts within the City.

Residents of Mexican, Chinese, and Bosnian origin are distinctly located in central parts of the City and not in the northern and western census tracts. These clusters by national origin could be attributed to a number of factors including the desire or need to reside with or in close proximity to family, affordable housing options, access to jobs or access to the highway.

The ability to speak English and the degree to which one can speak may also impact where an individual resides. To that end, Figure I-15 shows the distribution of Limited English Proficiency (LEP) by language in Meridian.

Spanish speakers are the most prevalent among those with LEP, followed by other Slavic languages and Serbo-Croatian. The clusters of Spanish and Slavic speakers within the City reflect a similar distribution as national origin, with the largest populations in the central census tracts. There are also some individuals who speak German and other Indo-European languages scattered among these census tracts, but these individuals with LEP make up a small portion compared to Spanish and Slavic speakers.

Concentrated Areas of Poverty

National research has identified neighborhoods with poverty levels exceeding 40 percent as the most challenged economically; these are often areas that could benefit the most from concerted efforts to increase employment and educational opportunities. Due to lack of investment, high poverty environments are also much more likely to lack healthy food and recreational opportunities, leading to food insecurity among children and long term health challenges and costs.<sup>3</sup>

A new component of fair housing studies is an analysis of "racially or ethnically concentrated areas of poverty," also called RCAPs and ECAPs. An RCAP or ECAP exists when a neighborhood has high poverty and is majority-minority. The purpose of the RCAP and ECAP approach is to examine if racial and ethnic minorities' economic opportunities are limited by high poverty environments.

HUD's definition of an R/ECAP is:

- A census tract that has a Non-White population of 50 percent or more (majority-minority) AND a poverty rate of 40 percent or more or three times the region's poverty rate; OR
- A census tract that has a Non-White population of 50 percent or more (majority-minority) AND the poverty rate is three times the average tract poverty rate for the county, whichever is lower.

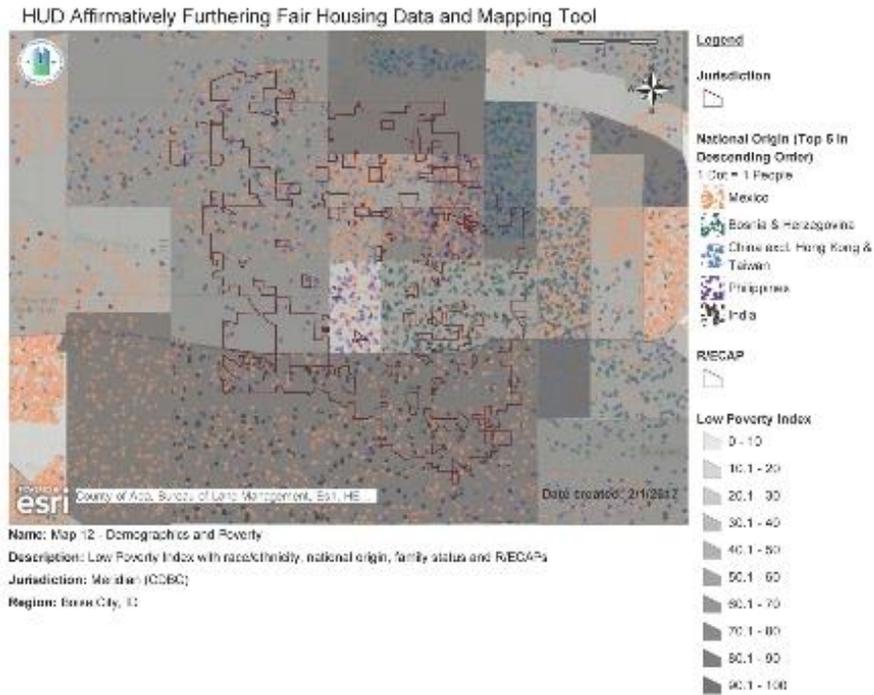

Households within R/ECAP census tracts frequently represent the most disadvantaged households within a community and often face a multitude of housing challenges. By definition, a significant number of R/ECAP households are financially burdened, which severely limits housing choice and mobility. The added possibility of racial or ethnic discrimination creates a situation where R/ECAP households are likely more susceptible to discriminatory practices in the housing market. Additionally, due to financial constraints and/or lack of knowledge (i.e. limited non-English information and materials); R/ECAP households encountering discrimination may believe they have little or no recourse, further exacerbating the situation.

Figure I-16 uses the HUD AFFH tool to show if poverty and race and ethnicity overlap in Meridian, as of 2010. In this map, low poverty is indicated by darker grey shading; high poverty, light shading. Each dot is equivalent to one individual.

The City of Meridian has no racially and ethnically concentrated area of poverty. Despite having no presence of R/ECAPs, a single census tract in the middle of the City has a high poverty rate. This census tract is also one that has a concentration of residents with a national origin other than the U.S.

In general, the map indicates that Meridian is composed mostly of low-poverty neighborhoods, of which the majority of residents are from the U.S.

Citizen Participation

SECTION II. Citizen Participation

This section of the Consolidated Plan and Fair Housing Assessment:

- Describes outreach activities undertaken to encourage community participation;
- Identifies media outlets and efforts to reach underrepresented populations (e.g., those in poverty-concentrated areas, with limited English proficiency, persons with disabilities);
- Discusses how successful these efforts were in eliciting community participation; and
- Reports the findings from the community outreach process.

Participation Opportunities and Outreach Activities

Citizen participation opportunities for the development of the Consolidated Plan and Fair Housing Assessment included:

- A resident survey offered online and on paper—479 respondents;
- Stakeholder in-depth interviews—11 participants; and
- Facilitated discussion with Continuum of Care members at their January 2017 meeting.

Outreach. Resident surveys were promoted through media relations resulting in an article in the Meridian Press. Paper postage-paid response surveys and promotional flyers were distributed to locations where Meridian’s low and moderate income residents’ and members of special needs populations live, recreate, receive services or where their children attend school.

This supplement to the Consolidated Plan and Fair Housing Assessment discusses the primary findings from citizen participation and consultation. While the 2017 online survey is not a random sample of residents, it does represent the experiences and perspectives a cross-section of Meridian residents, and serves to characterize themes and indicators of need from the respondents' diverse perspectives.

Participant Profile

Local housing and human services providers, City of Meridian staff and Meridian residents provided input into the Consolidated Plan and AI. Topics addressed include housing and community development needs and priorities, fair housing issues and contributing factors, and issues pertinent to special needs populations.

Stakeholders. Stakeholder consultation included in-depth interviews and a facilitated discussion with Boise City/Ada County Continuum of Care members. Figure II-1 lists the organizations represented in the stakeholder consultation process.

Resident participant profile. A total of 479 residents completed the 2017 resident survey either online or on paper.

- Nearly 15 percent of survey respondents rent.
- The median household size of survey respondents is three members. One in 10 live alone and two in five live in households with five or more members.
- Meridian adults of all ages participated in the resident survey and the distribution across age cohorts is fairly even. About one in five respondents are between the ages of 25 and 34; one in four are ages 35 to 44; one in five are ages 45 to 54; 16 percent are 55 to 64 and one in five are age 65 and older.
- Slightly more than half (51%) have children age 18 or younger living in the home and 7 percent are single parent households.
- One in 10 respondents live in multigenerational households (with other adult family members).
- Most respondents (93%) are white; three percent are multiracial; 2 percent are Hispanic; and 2 percent are American Indian.
- The median income of survey respondents ranges from $50,000 to $75,000. One in 20 respondents reports household income of $20,000 or less and one in five report incomes of $150,000 or more.

Housing type. Nearly nine in 10 respondents live in single family homes. This is a higher share of single family home residents than Meridian overall housing stock (63% single family).

Housing Preferences

Resident survey participants shared the factors that were most important to them when choosing their current home. Renters indicated their preferences regarding homeownership.

Important factors to choosing home and neighborhood. After cost, the home itself (e.g., number of bedrooms) and safety/low crime neighborhood were the most important factors to choosing a home to the greatest proportions of respondents. Responses not shown ("other" category) include proximity to the freeway/I-84, room for horses, and that the home is a family home passed through generations.

Renters. Renters responded to a series of questions related to the ease of finding affordable rental units and their preferences regarding homeownership. Stakeholders raised a lack of affordable rental housing as a significant need in Meridian, although some questioned the appetite of residents for publicly-supported housing.

Ease of finding affordable rental units. Nearly half of renters who participated in the resident survey rated finding an affordable rental unit in Meridian as difficult (rating of 0, 1 or 2), and one in four rated this task extremely difficult.

If you had to move, how easy or difficult would it be to find an affordable rental unit in Meridian?

Note: n=70 renters.

Source: BBC Research & Consulting from the 2017 Meridian Resident Survey.

Lack of supply of affordable rental housing. Stakeholders identified several factors which may limit the supply of affordable rental housing in Meridian:

- The market rate ownership and rental housing market continues to be strong in Meridian;
- It is difficult for LIHTC proposals located in Meridian (or the Treasure Valley) to score sufficient points to win tax credits. Stakeholders attribute this difficulty to a combination of QAP priorities that favor Idaho rural communities and a lack of LIHTC proposal "know how" among local developers; and
- Opposition to publicly supported affordable housing by Meridian residents and some community leaders. Most stakeholders interviewed brought up a recent (summer 2016) proposed affordable housing multifamily development that local residents objected to and which members of City Council publicly opposed. The project is not moving forward as affordable housing. Resident concerns included traffic, crime, school crowding and perceived negative impacts on neighboring property values.

Barriers to homeownership. Most renters (87%) would prefer to become homeowners in the next five years. The three barriers to homeownership identified by the greatest proportion of renters are:

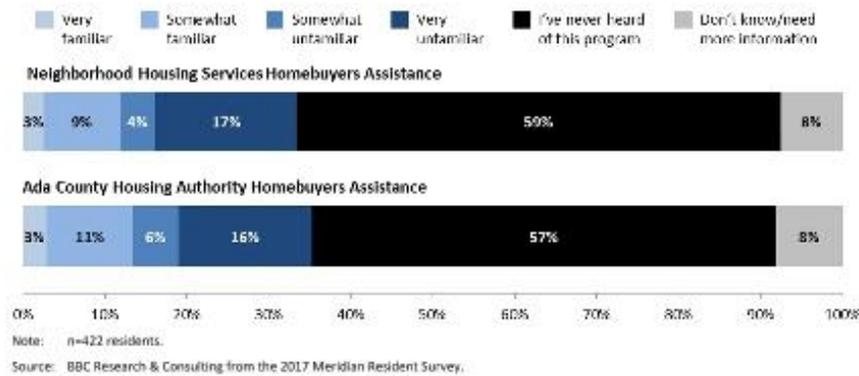

- Lack of downpayment (40%);
- Poor credit (16%); and
- Insufficient income to pay mortgage (10%).

It is important to note that, according to survey respondents, renters' monthly housing costs are similar to owners'. Therefore, renters appear to have the ability to manage a mortgage payment if they had the downpayment and credit to secure a mortgage loan.

Awareness of local homeownership programs. Most resident survey respondents had not heard of the two programs funded by the City of Meridian to facilitate homeownership. About 15 percent of respondents had some familiarity with the homebuyers assistance programs operated by Neighborhood Housing Services and the Boise City/Ada County Housing Authority. Several respondents had applied to the program but did not meet income requirements.

Housing Condition

Resident survey respondents indicated whether or not aspects of their homes need repair or replacement. With respect to home condition, stakeholders pointed to Meridian's downtown neighborhoods as an area with many homes in need of exterior and interior home repairs.

Exterior repairs. Meridian's relatively new housing stock is evidenced by the small proportions of respondents identifying needed exterior home repair or replacement. The greatest proportion of respondents (about one-third) identified landscaping and driveways in need of repair.

Exterior Home Repair or Replacement Needs

Interior repairs. As with exterior repairs, most respondents do not have interior repair or replacement needs. Weatherization and flooring are the exception.

Barriers to repairs. Nearly half of respondents have not made needed repairs or replacement because they cannot afford to make the repairs (46%). Nearly two in five (36%) plan to make the repairs themselves but have not had the time to perform the task.

Homelessness and Housing Insecurity

Respondents to the resident survey shared their experience with homelessness and the extent to which their current housing situation may be insecure.

Homelessness. Overall, 2 percent of the residents participating in the survey report being homeless in the past five years. Reduced work hours and moving away from domestic violence are factors at least one-third of these residents report contributing to their episode of homelessness.

2017 Mendon Resident Survey.

Skipped housing payment or sought additional work to pay expenses. In the past six months, 4 percent of resident survey respondents report missing a mortgage or rent payment. Nearly 60 percent attribute this to reduced work hours and 26 percent cite job loss or medical bills. One in five resident survey respondents sought additional employment in the past year in order to pay housing expenses.

- "I'm a single mom with no child support. I work two jobs and have kids full time; some months are tight." (Resident survey respondent)
- "On the job injury resulted in insufficient benefits, permanent disability and still no long term benefits. We're at the end of our rope." (Resident survey respondent)
- "We are afraid our property taxes are going to go up on our fixed income, and we won't be able to pay them. That's our biggest fear." (Resident survey respondent)

Foreclosure history and risk. Nearly one in 10 resident survey respondents (7%) lost a home to foreclosure in the past 10 years. Half of those who lost homes in foreclosure found housing in the private rental market; 14 percent moved in with family or friends (doubled up). One in 20 (5%) owe more on their home than it is currently worth.

Sacrifice basic needs. In the past year, at least one in 10 participants in the resident survey reduced or went without one or more basic needs in order to pay their housing costs.

- "I put groceries and meds on a credit card." (Resident survey respondent)
- "I had to borrow money to pay my mortgage after my husband's death, now I have to sell my home." (Resident survey respondent)
- "I did not replace tires on my car; didn't register or drive my car for 8+months, canceled Direct TV, anything else I could sacrifice I did in order to pay rent." (Resident survey respondent)

 BBC Research & Consulting from the 2017 Meridian Resident Survey.

Domestic violence. Overall, 17 percent of survey respondents report that they or a member of their family has experienced domestic or dating violence; 24 percent of these situations occurred in the last five years. One in five domestic or dating violence situations occurred while the respondent or family member was living in Meridian. The types of services survivors sought and used include counseling, judicial processes, medical assistance and temporary housing/shelter. In interviews, stakeholders described the needs and challenges experienced by Meridian families fleeing domestic violence:

- Shelter and supportive service providers are located in Boise, further isolating victims of domestic violence from their community connections and network in Meridian.
- The lack of affordable housing and transportation services in Meridian makes it unlikely that families that flee domestic violence in Meridian are able to return to the community. Children lose their home, school and neighborhood.
- One of the three primary categories of homeless children in the West Ada School District is children whose mother has fled the home due to domestic violence.
- The typical income of a mother fleeing domestic violence is less than $8,000 per year, and this income comes from TANF (Temporary Assistance for Needy Families) and food stamps. The Women's and Children's Alliance (WCA) has grants and vouchers to provide transitional housing support, but Meridian's rents exceed the guidelines (Fair Market Rents) and the family can rarely pay the difference.
- Meridian needs a (small) domestic violence shelter with capacity for up to four families (four rooms). WCA's Boise shelter has 15 rooms accommodating up to 54 beds.
- Funding is needed for another case manager, child care staff and court advocates. Currently child care and court advocates are mostly staffed by volunteers.

Most Urgent Housing and Community Development Needs

Residents and stakeholders prioritized housing and community development needs.

Resident perspectives. Respondents to the resident survey identified up to three amenities or services they would improve in Meridian. At least one-third of residents prioritized road improvements and public transit as needed improvements in amenities or services in Meridian. Specific resident comments about other needs include:

- "Adding sidewalks and crosswalk to busy roads/intersections like all the way down Locust Grove and/or Victory." (Resident survey respondent)
- "Available and affordable housing, without a long waiting list, for able bodied people on fixed incomes." (Resident survey respondent)
- "The roads and sidewalks in the older downtown neighborhoods could be better. Many parts of the neighborhoods don't have sidewalks at all which makes me as a parent nervous for the many children walking to and from school." (Resident survey respondent)
- "Pools we only have one City pool and my neighborhood doesn't have any."
- "Grocery stores that are affordable like Winco AND low income SENIOR housing. My elderly mother has to live in Eagle in affordable senior housing and commute to Meridian for work and it is stressful on everyone because she's older. It also makes things harder for us to check on her." (Resident survey respondent)
- "Good schools, but no affordable housing for single parents and services to help." (Resident survey respondent)
- "Meridian has grown so much so fast that the traffic at certain times gets very bad. Main roads need to have the number of lanes increased." (Resident survey respondent)
- "12 step programs need access to community facilities for meetings, events, etc. When we asked for space there has always been some reason we couldn't be there."

Stakeholder perspectives. Affordable housing was the primary housing and community development need raised in the stakeholder consultation process, followed by homelessness prevention and public transportation. Stakeholders' highest priorities for Meridian's housing and community development include:

- Rental housing affordable to incomes below MFI. One stakeholder suggested developing an affordable housing strategy that incorporates new construction, including LIHTC projects, as well as a preservation strategy.
- Homelessness prevention. Meridian's homeless population is largely comprised of families with children "doubled up" with family or friends. Stakeholders also suggest that Meridian should financially support the Continuum of Care and assist with transitioning the Continuum out of the City of Boise into a nonprofit framework.
- Domestic violence shelter serving up to four families.
- Public transportation.
- Need for local service providers. Nearly all social service providers are located in Boise, making it difficult for local residents to connect to support.

Housing Profile and Needs Assessment

SECTION III.

Housing Profile and Needs Assessment

This section supplements the HUD-required Needs Assessment and Market Analysis portions of the Consolidated Plan, which are contained in Section VII. It discusses housing unit growth in Meridian, the primary types of housing in the City, demand for housing, housing affordability, and gaps between demand and supply.

Data used to inform this section include U.S. Census decennial surveys (2000 and 2010), annual census surveys (American Community Surveys), building permit surveys, the resident survey, and rental data collected during the development of the Consolidated Plan.

Housing Units and Growth

The 2010 Census reported 26,674 housing units within City limits. This is almost 15,000 housing units more than in 2000, when the total number of units was estimated at 12,293. On average, the City built 1,400 new units per year between 2000 and 2010. This incredible growth was also seen in the previous Consolidated Plan, because the city's housing inventory has been rapidly increasing since 1990. The City has evolved from a small farm community to the 2nd largest community in Idaho.

Growth slowed slightly after the effects of the housing market downturn were realized. Between 2010 and 2016, 7,847 residential building permits were issued. The majority of building permits were issued for single family homes (75%).

Recent market activity suggests a strengthening market: Through December 2016 the number of permits—1,569—is the highest of any year. The low was in 2011, when just 509 residential permits were issued.

Figure III-1 on the following page shows permits by month for the five years since the last Consolidated Plan was conducted. Spring and summer months generally have the highest permit activity.

Housing unit type. As shown below, the U.S. Census and HUD estimate that 87 percent of the City’s housing stock is made up of single family homes, followed by twin homes/triplexes/fourplexes at 5 percent. As Figure III-1 above demonstrated, development over the past five years has strongly favored single family detached products.

Housing unit size. The majority of owners in Meridian live in larger homes with three bedrooms and more. Renters also live in larger units, occupying two bedroom and three bedroom units, as shown below.

Vacancy. The latest data from the U.S. Census shows an overall vacancy rate of 2.4 percent, lower than the 5.1 percent vacancy in 2010, reported in the last Consolidated Plan. The rental vacancy rate was estimated by the U.S. Census at 3.1 percent in 2015.

The most common reason for a unit being vacant is that it was sold but is not occupied. The next most common reason is that the unit is for rent. These vacancy reasons align with tenure trends in Meridian.

Housing condition. Meridian has relatively new housing stock, with over half of the units built after 2000 and more than one-third built between 1980 and 2000.

To assist in assessing lead based paint hazards, HUD provides estimates of units built before 1980, when lead based paint was banned, and those units which are occupied by children. According to the HUD table below, as many as 2,800 housing units in the City of Meridian may be at-risk of containing lead based paint. The 2015 American Community Survey estimates this number at 2,500. These units were developed before 1980. More than 1,700 are owner-occupied and 1,100 are renter-occupied. It is important to note that the number of these units identified as occupied by children is more than the total number of units at-risk of lead paint; this appears to be inaccurate data.

Tenure. The U.S. Census estimates the City's homeownership rate at 76 percent, which is much higher than most peer cities. By comparison, the homeownership rate in Boise is 60 percent; Pocatello is 61 percent; Idaho Falls, 65 percent; Moscow, 40 percent.

Affordability, Supply and Demand, and Housing Gaps

This section discusses housing affordability in the City of Meridian, both housing to rent and housing to buy.

Affordability defined. In the housing industry, housing affordability is commonly defined in terms of the proportion of household income that is used to pay housing costs. Housing is "affordable" if no more than 30 percent of a household's monthly income is needed for rent, mortgage payments and utilities. When the proportion of household income needed to pay housing costs exceeds 30 percent, a household is considered "cost burdened."

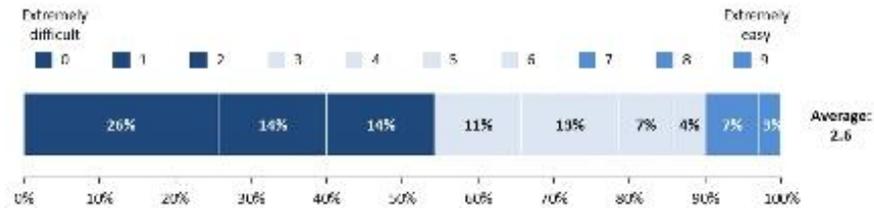

Housing programs generally focus on assisting lower income populations. HUD divides low and moderate income households into four categories, based on their relationship to the area median income: extremely low income (earning 30 percent or less of the area median income), very low income (earning between 31 and 50 percent of the area median income), low income (earning between 51 and 80 percent of area median income) and moderate income (earning between 81 and 95 percent of area median income).

Median rents and home prices. The 2017 median rent reported by HUD—$849—is close to that reported by the Census in 2015. A comparison of median HUD rents over the last five years suggests that rents have been increasing at about $20 per year. Renters’ incomes have not risen as fast on a percentage basis, but, on average, incomes have risen enough to manage rising rents.

As discussed in Section II (figure replicated below), nearly half of renters who participated in the resident survey rated finding an affordable rental unit in Meridian as difficult (rating or 0, 1 or 2), and one in four rated this task extremely difficult. This suggests that although renter income, on average, has kept up with rising in rental costs the lack of supply (rental vacancies are around 3%) makes it difficult to move.

If you had to move, how easy or difficult would it be to find an affordable rental unit in Meridian?

The median home value last reported by the U.S. Census (2015) was $213,100. The median value is up considerably from 2000, when it was $119,800. Compared to other cities in the region, Meridian home values tend to be higher.

As shown in Figure III-3, the median home value has increased steadily since 2000, with the highest annual increase occurring in the period before the housing market downturn.

Median home values have increased faster than median rents, as shown below. Yet because of falling interest rates, homebuyers are able to afford a higher-priced home in 2015 than in 2000.

HUD estimates the proportion of housing units affordable to renters and owners at different Median Family Income (MFI) levels, as shown in the table below. The current MFI for Meridian is $62,400.

Housing Affordability by Median Family Income Level

Data Source: 2008-2012 CHAS

According to HUD estimates, renters earning 80 percent of the MFI—about $48,250 per year—can afford over three-fourths of rental units in the City. Renters hoping to become owners are more likely to be able to afford to buy if they earn 100 percent of the MFI, or around $62,400.

Figure III-4 summarizes the comparison between rising housing costs and rising incomes. It demonstrates that although home prices have risen more than rental costs (percent change column), affordability increased—due to falling interest rates.

As discussed in Section II (figure replicated below), nearly half of renters who participated in the resident survey rated finding an affordable rental unit in Meridian as difficult (rating of 0, 1 or 2), and one in four rated this task extremely difficult.

Gaps analysis. The following analysis examines housing need across all income levels, to identify mismatches in supply and demand for households in Meridian. It reports the results of a modeling effort called a gaps analysis, which compares housing affordability for households at different income levels to the supply of housing units affordable at these income levels.

Because it is impossible to estimate the type of housing each household in the City would prefer, income is used as a proxy, as income is the most important factor in accessing housing.

The following figures show affordable rents and home prices for the various income categories of renter households in the City. The calculation to determine what is “affordable” to the various income groups assumes the following:

- First, households cannot pay more than 30 percent of their income for housing costs. (Households cannot be cost burdened).
- Second, housing costs for both homeowners and renters must include utilities. The U.S. Census accounts for utilities costs in its “gross rent” measure, which is used to calculate the gaps.<sup>1</sup>
- Finally, the home price calculations assume a 10 percent down payment, 25 percent of total payments dedicated to taxes, hazard insurance, mortgage insurance and utilities, a 30-year amortization and a 4.27 percent interest rate.
- In addition, the gaps model also assumes a 3.1 percent vacancy rate for rental units, based on the number of vacant rental units reported in the last U.S. Census survey. The model also excludes households who are not paying cash rent (e.g., they are caretakers, nannies and are living in their rental units rent free as exchange for certain services).

The analysis compares the number of renter households in Meridian, their income levels, the maximum monthly housing payment they could afford and the number of units in the market that were affordable to them. The "gaps" columns show the difference between the number of renter households and the number of rental units affordable to them. Negative numbers (in parentheses) indicate a shortage of units at the specific income level; positive units indicate an excess of units.

As Figure III-5a shows, there is a shortage of rental units for households earning less than $25,000 per year. There are 2,168 renters earning less than $25,000 per year and just 820 affordable rental units. This leaves a gap of 1,348 units.

Renters earning more than $25,000—particularly those who are earning $35,000 and more, where rental units are clustered—have an easier time affording Meridian's rental market.

For some low income renters, utilities are a very significant portion of their monthly housing costs. In the resident survey, the average utilities reported were $200 for renters and $245 for owners. The "contract rent" reported by the U.S. Census and used by HUD does not include utilities; gross rent, which is used in the gaps analysis, does. That said, to the extent that gross rents underestimate the effect of utilities, the rental gap would be larger.

Figure III-5b. examines the affordability of the ownership market. As the "homes by value" column indicates, many homes are priced to be affordable to households earning $35,000 and more. This income level is the point at which the "gap" in proportions of would-be owners and homes for sale begins to diminish.

Cost burden. HUD estimates that more than 1,280 renters and 1,925 owners face cost burden (pay more than 30 percent of gross household income in housing costs) and 1,265 renters and 1,600 owners face severe cost burden (pay more than 50%).

The following figures show the location of residents who face cost burden first by race and ethnicity and then by national origin. The maps indicate that persons of Hispanic and Native American origin living in Central Meridian face the highest cost burden.

Summary Findings

This section examines housing market trends in Meridian. Primary findings include:

- During the past 15 years, residential development in Meridian has grown rapidly. The number of building permits issued in 2016 suggests that development trends are continuing, and that demand for living in Meridian is strong.
- An estimated 1,300 renters earn less than $25,000 per year and cannot find affordable rental units. Renters' perceptions of the market suggest a very tight rental market—and very low vacancy rates (3%) support this perception.
- Potential homebuyers must earn $35,000 and more before the home purchase market has a significant proportion of homes from which to choose.
- A comparison of median rents over the last five years suggests that rents have been increasing at about $20 per year, or 55 percent between 2000 and 2015. Renters' incomes have not risen as fast on a percentage basis, but, on average, incomes have risen enough to manage rising rents. In contrast, homeowners have benefited from dropping interest rates and rising incomes, increasing the relative affordability of homeownership—even as home prices have risen.

SECTION IV. Disability and Access to Opportunity Analysis

This section examines the fair housing landscape and access to opportunity for all Meridian residents and residents with disabilities.

Disparities in Access to Opportunity

Another new component of fair housing studies is an examination of community assets and whether protected classes have equitable access to those assets. In the AFH, this analysis is characterized by HUD as "disparities in access to opportunity." For the Meridian AI, disparities in access to opportunity were examined using HUD's AFFH tool and through the community participation process, the findings of which are presented in Section II. This section reports the findings from that research.

Access to opportunity—resident perspectives. In the resident survey, individuals were asked to rate the availability of community benefits in the City of Meridian. These community benefits were defined as good schools, access to parks/recreation and access to jobs. Figure IV-1 shows how residents rated the availability of community benefits, with 0 being strongly disagree with good availability and 10 being strongly agree with good availability.

Residents of Meridian agree that community benefits of living in the City are available to all residents. The average response of agreeability was 8, with 90 percent of responses falling within the range of agree to strongly agree.

The community benefits of living in the City of Meridian—good schools, access to parks/recreation, access to jobs—are available to all residents, regardless of where they live in the community.

Opportunity indicators. The HUD AFFH tool provides data on seven opportunity indicators, which are community characteristics commonly considered as elements of housing choice and/or neighborhood health. Each indicator is measured as an index, or score.

For a fair housing analysis, the focus is not on a community's overall score, but on whether different racial/ethnic groups have substantial differences in their exposure to opportunity, as measured by the HUD indicators.

Figure IV-2 displays index values for each opportunity indicator across different racial/ethnic groups. The values are provided for the population overall and also for the population living in poverty. Across the indicators, higher values indicate higher levels of opportunity.

Across all racial and ethnic groups, exposure to every opportunity indicator in Meridian is relatively low, particularly for transit, low transportation cost and environmental health opportunities. Because the city does not have a public transit system—and many residents travel to Boise or Nampa for work and services—transportation, along with environmental health—is the most significant barrier to opportunity as defined by this index.

The highest opportunity indicators are the low poverty index and the labor market index. This means that it is easy for residents to find neighborhoods within Meridian that have low poverty and where most residents are employed.

A comparison of the indicators among racial and ethnic groups shows some differences in access to opportunity. Yet, because non-White racial and ethnic groups in Meridian are very small in population, the indices should be interpreted with caution.

The largest variation among racial and ethnic groups is for Asian or Pacific Islander residents, especially for those living in poverty. For Asian or Pacific Islander residents in poverty, there is a higher opportunity for low poverty, labor market, low transportation cost and job proximity indexes.

Overall, variations between the total population and populations in poverty are minimal. Meridian residents living in poverty experience less opportunity for low poverty neighborhoods and access to jobs. This suggests limited affordable housing opportunities may be concentrated in lower income, higher unemployment neighborhoods.

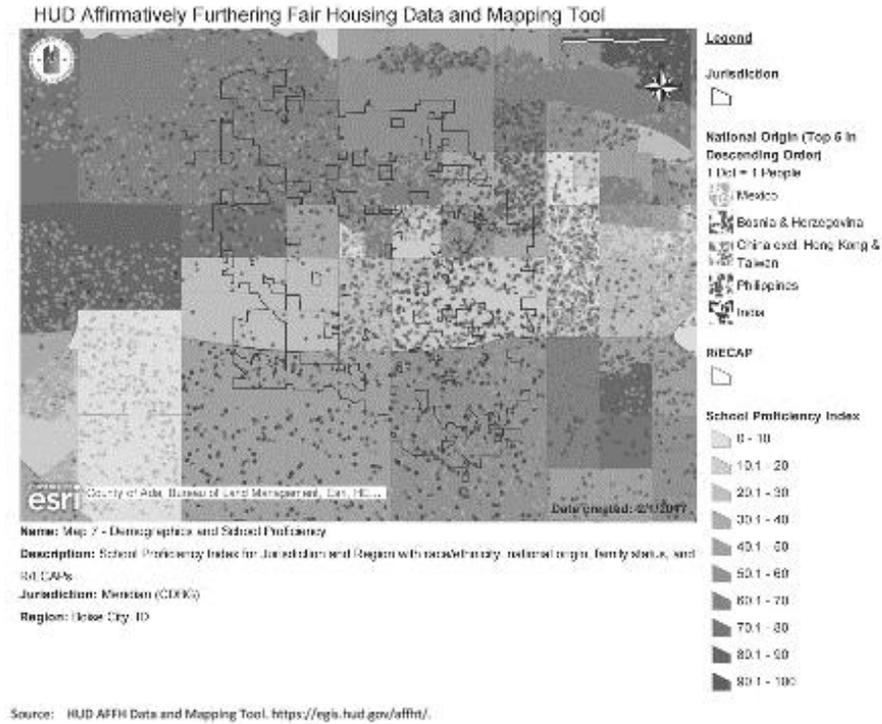

The opportunity index for environmental health is particularly low for Meridian. This index measures air quality—and may be tracking industry pollution and/or the effects of being near mountains, which can prevent poor quality air from escaping valleys.

Geographic distribution of opportunity. To better understand disparities in access to opportunity, HUD provides thematic maps to show the different levels of exposure to each opportunity indicator. Figures IV-3 to IV-10 depicts all seven opportunity indicators overlaid with dot densities of national origin. As indicated in the segregation analysis from Section I, the City is distinctly separated by national origin, which is a more representative variable for Meridian compared to race/ethnicity.

In every map, the dark red outline indicates the City boundaries of Meridian. The gradations of shading represent the degrees of opportunity. A darker shade of gray represents Census tracts that experience a higher access to that opportunity indicator. In addition to the shading, the dot overlay on the maps differentiates national origin. Orange dots represent individuals of Mexican origin, green represent Bosnian and Herzegovinian origin, blue represent Chinese origin (excluding individuals from Hong Kong and Taiwan), purple represent Filipino origin and black represent Indian origin.

School proficiency. Figure IV-3 shows variations in school proficiency by Census tracts in Meridian. The Census tracts with the highest access to school proficiency are in the north and northwest areas of the City. The relationship between the residency patterns of national origin and their proximity to proficient schools is fairly distinct. Residents of Bosnian and Herzegovinian are disproportionately located in central Census tracts with some of the lowest access to proficient schools. Residents of Hispanic and Chinese origin are scattered across Census tracts with varying access to proficient schools. Census tracts with a high density of residents with a national origin other than the United States have less proficient schools.

School Proficiency and National Origin, 2010

Jobs proximity and employment. The job proximity index measures the distance between a residency and jobs. Figure IV-4 shows residents by national origin and their proximity to jobs. Residents of Bosnian and Herzegovinian, Filipino and Indian origin are located in Census tracts with the highest opportunities for jobs. A few central Census tracts in eastern Meridian have the highest proximity to jobs, whereas the remainder of the City has low job proximity. Jobs in Meridian appear to be clustered in certain central Census tracts where density may be higher.

The other indicator in the employment opportunity analysis is access to labor markets, as seen in Figure IV-5. The labor market indicator measures unemployment rate, participation rate in the labor-force, and the percent of the population aged 25 and above with a bachelor's degree.

Overall, access to labor market opportunities is moderate to high across the entire City, with the exception of a few Census tracts in the center of Meridian. The highest skilled workers—and lowest rate of unemployed residents—is in southern and eastern Meridian (Figure IV-5 below). Labor market opportunities do not seem to have any association to the distribution of residents with a national origin other than the United States.

HUD AFFH Tool Jurisdiction Map of Meridian, Map 9, Demographics and Labor Market, Labor Market and National Origin, 2010

Transportation access. HUD identifies transportation opportunities through the Low Transportation Cost Index and the Transit Trips Index. The low transportation cost indicator not only measures the cost of transport but also proximity to public transportation. The transit trips indicator measures how often low-income families use public transportation because transportation use is a general indication of public transit availability.

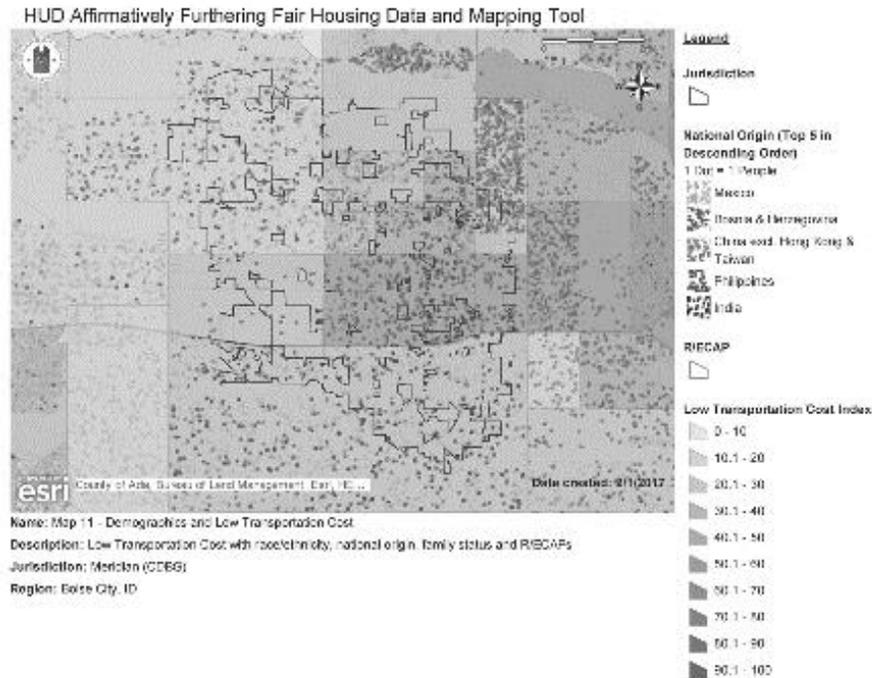

Figure IV-6 depicts the distribution of transit trips and Figure IV-7 depicts the distribution of low transportation costs in Meridian. Transits trip are low and transportation costs are high across the City because Meridian does not have their own public transportation system. The data presented in these figures do not provide detailed insight into access to transportation opportunities among residents of varying national origins because the entire City is affected by the lack of public transportation.

Access to low transportation costs, seen in Figure IV-7, shows more variation among Census tracts than Figure IV-6, transit trips. Central Census tracts in Meridian have lower transportation costs, likely caused by higher density and job proximity; therefore reducing transportation costs for individuals residing near central Meridian.

Although the City does not have its own transit system, Meridian is connected to other cities in Ada County and Canyon County through the Valley Regional Transit (VRT) Intercounty Routes. Figure IV-8 presents the VRT's Intercounty System Map. Routes 40, 41 and 42 serve Meridian and connect the City to Nampa, Boise, and the College of Western Idaho. Route 40 runs about every 30 minutes in two segments per day, starting from 5:20 a.m. and 2:40 p.m., for a total of seven service routes per day. Route 41 only provides service three times per day starting at 6:30 a.m., with the last service starting at 5:20 p.m. Route 42 runs about every two hours and offers five service routes per day starting at 8:45 a.m.

No routes serving Meridian offer weekend service. Overall, public transportation access in Meridian is very limited.

ValleyRide System Map

Low poverty neighborhoods. Figure IV-9 shows the Low Poverty Index, which is simply a measure of the poverty rate. This index is a bit counterintuitive: A higher value indicates the likelihood that a resident lives in a low poverty neighborhood and a lower value indicates the likelihood that a resident does not live in a low poverty neighborhood. As shown in Figure IV-9, the areas with a high poverty rate are located in the central parts of the City and overlap with the Census tracts that have a high proportion of residents of Mexican, Bosnian and Herzegovinian, and Chinese origin.

HUD AFFH Tool Jurisdiction Map of Meridian, Map 12, Demographics and Poverty, Poverty and National Origin, 2010

Environmental health. The final analysis for potential disparities in access to opportunity examines environmentally healthy neighborhoods, shown in Figure IV-10. HUD’s Environmental Health Index measures exposure and risk to hazardous air pollutants. It should be noted that these maps are more useful in showing broader jurisdictional or regional patterns rather than localized differences among Census tracts. Lower index values indicate a larger exposure to air pollutants.

Figure IV-10 indicates that exposure to hazardous air pollutants is high across the entire City. A portion of the City in the northwest corner does not provide any data on environmental health. Despite the City’s exposure to pollutants, there is little to no variation by national origin.

Housing Choice and Access to Opportunity of Residents with Disabilities

As discussed in Section I, 8 percent of Meridian residents have a disability. This is a slightly higher proportion than was estimated in the last Consolidated Plan (6.5%). Since 2000, the number of older residents in Meridian has grown while the number of children has decreased. The overall proportion of persons with a disability has increased because older residents are more likely to have a disability.

The U.S. Census estimates that 6,586 residents in Meridian have a disability. This is slightly higher than the number estimated in the last Consolidated Plan (4,928).

As shown in Figure IV-11, seniors have the highest incidence of disability. The most common types of disabilities are:

- For children and adults, cognitive disabilities. An estimated 552 children and 1,144 adults have cognitive disabilities.
- For seniors, ambulatory (1,599 seniors), followed by hearing (1,055 seniors).

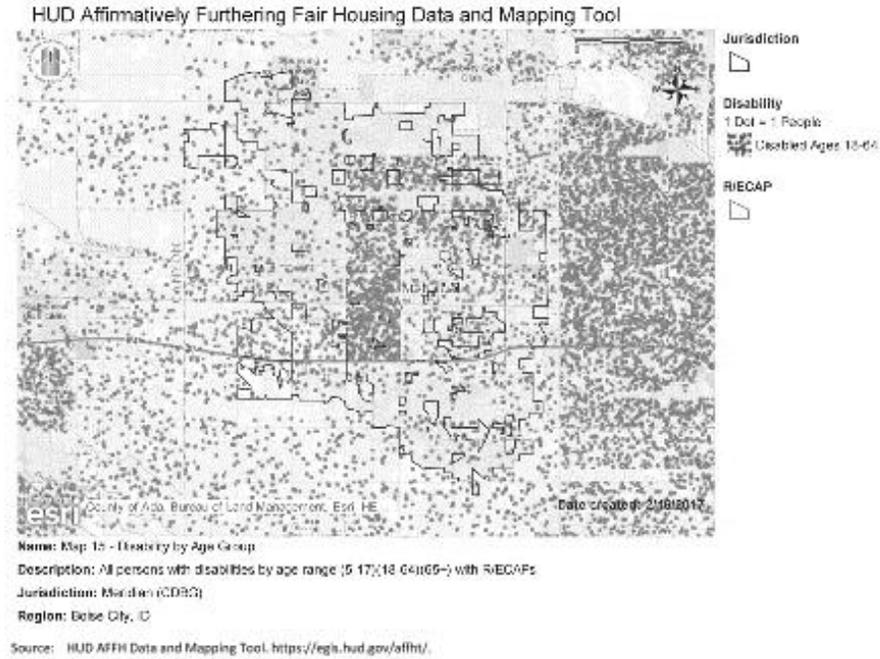

Figures IV-13 through IV-21 present where Meridian's residents with disabilities live based on disability type. The maps suggest that individuals with various types of disabilities, specifically cognitive, vision, hearing, independent living and ambulatory disabilities, are more prevalent in central Census tracts. This is the same trend for adults and seniors with disabilities. The high proportion of persons with disabilities living in central Meridian may be attributed to available services and accessible units.

Perspectives from residents with disabilities. Through the resident survey and interviews residents with disabilities shared their experience with housing and access to opportunity in Meridian. Overall, 20 percent of the respondents to the resident survey report that they or a member of their household has a disability. Because the survey was marketed through organizations that serve residents with disabilities, it is not surprising that one in five respondents has a disability or has a member of their household with a disability.

- Among these households that include a member with a disability, 17 percent are living in housing that does not meet their accessibility needs.
- The majority of residents whose household includes a member with a disability believe that Meridian has housing choices that provide homes to meet their accessibility needs (88%). This nearly aligns with the proportion of residents living in homes that meets the needs of their member with a disability.
- One in four does not agree that Meridian has sidewalks, streets and/or bus stops that meet their accessibility needs. This finding reinforces stakeholder and interview participants' suggestion that the City of Meridian continue to prioritize investments in sidewalk accessibility improvements.

Residents and stakeholders made suggestions for improvements that would better meet their or their family's needs:

- "Better and more handicapped parking that is not so far from the door that it negates the idea of "handicapped ". Sidewalk access from parking." (Resident survey respondent)
- "Ramp(s) into our home. Replace floor coverings." (Resident survey respondent)
- "Better bus schedules and the ability to travel to the Village area in Meridian. Also better ability to travel to Boise and back to doctors appointments via bus." (Resident survey respondent)
- "My landlord will not allow a companion pet (dog) for companionship and safety due to the crime in this area." (Resident survey respondent)
- "When individuals want to transition out of institutions into independent situations, Meridian is the best, because we can get them the housing, the Meridian Housing Authority is great to work with and Meridian has great transit." (Stakeholder interview participant)

The majority of comments from respondents about what improvements the City should make to meet the needs of their or their families' needs involved accessible sidewalks and public transportation.

Summary Findings

As demonstrated in Section I, Meridian has some clusters of residents by ethnicity and national origin, mostly in the central portion of the City. This area of the City has better access to jobs and lower transportation costs yet has higher poverty rates and less access to high-performing schools. These residents are also challenged by lower labor market opportunities based on educational attainment.

Meridian can be a difficult place for residents with disabilities to live. The City does not have a public transit system, making it hard for residents with disabilities to access employment, services and community amenities unless they can drive. Some of Meridian's neighborhood sidewalks still need accessibility improvements in many areas; this was one of the biggest barriers to access identified in the resident survey. In contrast, persons with disabilities said they can find housing in Meridian that meets their accessibility needs. A lower proportion of persons with disabilities say they have housing accessibility/rehabilitation needs (17%) than said that sidewalks, streets and/or bus stops do not meet their accessibility needs (25%).

Public and Private Actions

SECTION V. Public and Private Actions

This section examines public and private decisions that affect housing choice. It begins with an examination of the land use regulations and the policies and practices of the Boise City/ Ada County Housing Authority (BCACHA), the largest provider of publicly-supported housing in the region. It also analyzes mortgage loan decisions of the private sector. Other private sector actions are examined in the fair housing legal cases discussed in Section VI.

Public Housing Authority

The policies and procedures of the Boise City/ Ada County Housing Authority (BCACHA) were reviewed as part of the fair housing analysis, using the discussion topics recommended by HUD in the AFH template. The following discussion of BCACHA policies and procedures is based on in-depth interviews with management.

Interviews with BCACHA staff about policies and practices revealed there may be some fair housing concerns in regards to access to services and housing for persons with disabilities.

In sum, the BCACHA subscribes to the following procedures:

- Equal weight preferences for elderly, disabled and families with minor children. People who are timing out of transitional housing go to the top of the list, while out-of-state requests are last.
- Buy, rehab and sell affordable homes through BCACHA's $500,000 self-funded program. The grant focuses on down payment and closing cost assistance.
- Comply with HUD's April 2016 guidance on criminal history by evaluating violent, drug convictions individually and conducting a three year look back (BCACHA was already in compliance before the recent change in criminal history policy).

BCACHA currently assists 1,800 very-low income households with Section 8 rental assistance in Ada County. At the time this report was prepared, BCACHA was not accepting any additional applications for the Section 8 Housing Choice Voucher (HCV) program. The waitlist for voucher assistance is anywhere between 6 to 24 months, depending on federal funding. BCACHA staff feel that the market is relatively accepting of Section 8 vouchers, but this varies by location.

The greatest challenges faced by the BCACHA are:

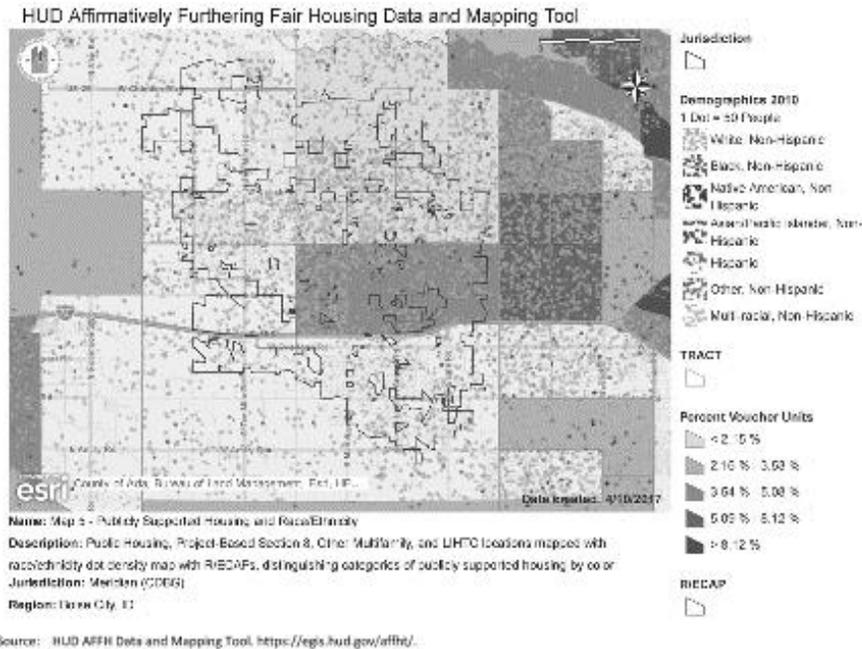

- Transportation barriers for accessing services. Although landlords are willing to take Section 8 in the area, the BCACHA has had most success with Boise landlords. Even when landlords take Section 8 in Meridian, most of the services are located in Boise and the lack of public transportation creates barriers.

- Physical accessibility in housing for person with disabilities.
- Lack of affordable housing and preservation of existing multifamily units, especially for seniors. The PHA's focus has been on rehabilitating homes and selling affordable units, rather than rental units. The biggest issues are push back from the community to prevent new affordable multi-family and difficulty in accessing LIHTC.

The geographic distribution of Housing Choice Voucher (HCV) holders is pictured in Figure V-1. Census tracts in eastern and southern Meridian either do not have available data or HCV don't exist. The area with the highest cluster of HCV holders is located in the central and west central census tracts of the City. As discussed in Section IV, this is an area of the City with relatively moderate opportunity.

In addition to providing HCVs, BCACHA offers a homeownership voucher through their Family Self Sufficiency (FSS) program. This program is available to residents currently participating in the HCV program. The Housing Authority's goal is to promote and support homeownership for families by payment assistance to help pay for the cost of homeownership and to provide additional assurance to mortgage lenders.

Land Use Regulations and Policies

BBC reviewed the City of Meridian's zoning regulations, comprehensive plan and planning fees to assess potential fair housing concerns or opportunities resulting from the development process. This review did not identify any fair housing problems.

The City has recently expressed a commitment to creating more diverse housing types through its redevelopment plan for downtown. The plan states that creating diverse housing opportunities for different housing needs and life-cycles in downtown Meridian is important to support new businesses and activity. A healthy housing mix will also help to draw people downtown and ensure 24-7 activity. Housing created or redeveloped as part of the downtown plan is expected to include apartments, town homes, condominiums, duplexes, and single family homes.

Land use and zoning laws. To evaluate potential fair housing concerns within the City's zoning code, BBC utilized a "Review of Public Policies and Practices (Zoning and Planning Codes)" form recently circulated by the Los Angeles fair housing office of HUD. This section poses the questions from this checklist, along with responses about the City's code. The zoning code for the City of Meridian was updated in December 2016.

Does the code definition of "family" have the effect of discriminating against unrelated individuals with disabilities who reside together in a congregate or group living arrangement? No. The City's code defines the term "family" as a person living alone or two or more persons related by blood or marriage; a group of not more than ten persons who need not be related by blood or marriage living together in a dwelling unit; or eight or fewer unrelated mentally and/or physically handicapped or elderly persons residing in a dwelling under staff supervision.

"Group home" is not defined in the City's code, but the clear definition of "family" applies to congregate or group living arrangements.

Zoning Regulation Impediment: Does the Code definition of "family" have the effect of discriminating against unrelated individuals with disabilities who reside together in a congregate or group living arrangement? No. Although some jurisdictions do not define family to allow for flexibility, Meridian's definition provides a wide range of applications.

According to lawyer Brian Connolly, co-author of a recent American Bar Association book on group homes planning and regulations, some jurisdictions are removing definitions of family from local codes to avoid potential liability.<sup>1</sup> Instead, communities are using more flexible definitions that avoid distinctions based on the relation of the household members and instead focus on the "functional aspects of a family relationship."

Zoning Regulation Impediment: Is the Code definition of "disability" the same as the Fair Housing Act? The Zoning Code does not provide a definition of "disability," "disabled" or "handicap."

Practice Impediment: Does the zoning ordinance restrict housing opportunities for individuals with disabilities and mischaracterize such housing as a "boarding or rooming house" or "hotel"? No. The City's code does not define "boarding or rooming house".

Practice Impediment: Does the zoning ordinance deny housing opportunities for disability individuals with on-site housing supporting services? No. The definition for a family recognizes the need for supervisors, which is linked to on-site supportive services.

Does the jurisdiction policy allow any number of unrelated persons to reside together, but restrict such occupancy, if the residents are disabled? No, the City limits both. The number of unrelated persons in one household is restricted to ten and the occupancy limit for group homes is eight.

Does the jurisdiction policy not allow disabled persons to make reasonable modifications or provide reasonable accommodation for disabled people who live in municipal-supplied or managed residential housing? No.

Does the jurisdiction require a public hearing to obtain public input for specific exceptions to zoning and land-use rules for disabled applicants and is the hearing only for disabled applicants rather than for all applicants? No. Public hearings are required to obtain a subdivision, conditional use permit or variance, but the hearing is not specific to persons with disabilities.

Does the zoning ordinance address mixed uses? How are the residential land uses discussed? What standards apply? The City of Meridian has three mixed use zoning districts: Old Town, Traditional Neighborhood Center and Traditional Neighborhood Residential. Mixed use is addressed in Title 11, Chapter 2, Article B of City Code, and titled Traditional Neighborhood Districts. The Traditional Neighborhood District's purpose is "to encourage mixed use, compact development that is sensitive to the environmental characteristics of the land and facilitates the efficient use of services...A traditional neighborhood district diversifies and integrates land uses within close proximity to each other, and it provides for the daily recreational and shopping needs of the residents." The standards for developing within a mixed use area vary by zoning district - see MCC 11-2D-2.

Are there exclusions or discussions of limiting housing to any of the following groups: race, color, sex, religion, age, disability, marital status or familial status and/or creed of national origin? No.

Are there any restrictions for Senior Housing in the zoning ordinance? If yes, do the restrictions comply with Federal law on housing for older persons (i.e., solely occupied by persons 62 years of age or older or at least one person 55 years of age and has significant facilities or services to meet the physical or social needs of older people)? No. Senior housing is not uniquely addressed in the Code except in the definition of family.

Does the zoning ordinance contain any special provisions for making housing accessible to persons with disabilities? No.

Does the zoning ordinance establish occupancy standards or maximum occupancy limits? Yes. Households are all subject to occupancy limits. Households composed of unrelated persons are restricted to ten people and restricted to eight people for mentally and/or physically handicapped or elderly persons under staff supervision.

Does the zoning ordinance include a discussion of fair housing? No.

Describe the minimum standards and amenities required by the ordinance for a multiple family project with respect to handicap parking. The City does not have explicit requirements for handicap parking for multi-family, or any other project. It is the responsibility of the applicant/developer to comply with ADA (MCC 113C-5A9).

Does the zoning code distinguish senior citizen housing from other single family residential and multifamily residential uses by the application of a conditional use permit (cup)? No.

Does the zoning code distinguish handicapped housing from other single family residential and multifamily residential uses by the application of a conditional use permit (cup)? No.

How are "special group residential housing" defined in the jurisdiction zoning code? Group housing is not defined in the code, but is referenced in other definitions:

- Nursing or residential care facilities: If the use results in more than ten (10) persons occupying a dwelling at any one time, the applicant or owner shall concurrently apply for a change of occupancy as required by the building code in accord with title 10 of this code. The owner and/or operator of the facility shall secure and maintain a license from the state of Idaho department of health and welfare, facility standards division.
- Family: A person living alone or two (2) or more persons related by blood or marriage; A group of not more than ten (10) persons who need not be related by blood or marriage living together in a dwelling unit; Eight (8) or fewer unrelated mentally and/or physically handicapped or elderly persons residing in a dwelling under staff supervision, provided that no more than two (2) staff members reside in the dwelling at any one time.

Does the jurisdiction's planning and building codes presently make specific reference to the accessibility requirements contained in the 1988 amendment to the Fair Housing Act? Is there any provision for monitoring compliance? No.

Private Sector Actions

The concluding section in this chapter focuses on private sector actions that could present barriers to fair housing choice. It contains an analysis of Home Mortgage Disclosure Act (HMDA) data, which report lending activity of financial institutions.

HMDA data are widely used to examine potential discrimination in mortgage lending. Financial institutions have been required to report HMDA data since the 1970s, when civil rights laws prompted higher scrutiny of lending activity. The variables contained in the HMDA dataset have expanded over time, allowing for more comprehensive analyses and better results. However, despite expansions in the data reported, public HMDA data remain limited because of the information that is not reported. As such, studies of lending disparities that use HMDA data carry a similar caveat: HMDA data can be used to determine disparities in loan originations and interest rates among borrowers of different races, ethnicities, genders, and location of the property they hope to own. The data can also be used to explain many of the reasons for any lending disparities (e.g., poor credit history). Violations of fair lending practices, however, generally originate with federal regulators who have access to a broader set of information (e.g., borrower loan files) of lending practices.

This section uses the analysis of HMDA data to determine if disparities in loan approvals and terms exist for loan applicants of different races and ethnicities. The HMDA data analyzed in this section reflect loans applied for by residents in 2014, the latest year for which HMDA were publicly available at the time this document was prepared. It also compares the results of the HMDA analysis with lending outcomes reported in the last AI.

This analysis was completed at the county level to provide a broader dataset of minority applicants and better detect any fair lending concerns. As discussed in Section I, the dissimilarity index was higher in the county than for the City alone.

Loan applications. During 2014, there were 15,791 loan applications processed in Ada County for home purchases, loan refinances, and home improvements. Twenty loan applications did not designate a census tract for where the home was located. Of the remaining 15,771 applications with a known census tract, 30 percent, or 4,768 applications, were located within the City of Meridian. This volume of applications is much lower than in prior years. In 2010, there were a total of 6,196 loan applications processed in Meridian.

Overall, more than half of the 8,607 loan applications (55%) were for home purchases. Another 44 percent were for refinances. Just 2 percent were for home improvements.

Nearly three-fourths (72%) of the loan applications were conventional (i.e., not government insured- or guaranteed), 14 percent were Federal Housing Administration-insured and 13 percent were Veterans Administration-guaranteed.

Figure V-2 shows the number and percentage of loan applications by race. Overall, White residents submitted more loan applications than any other racial or ethnic group. The Figure also provides a column comparing the racial and ethnic distribution of all County residents from the 2014 ACS. The percentage of Hispanic loan applicants (3%) was disproportionate to the percentage of the total Hispanic population (8%). Both White and Non-Hispanic residents experienced a similar trend of a lower percentage of applicants compared to their percentage of the total population.

Of the potential actions that could be taken on a loan:

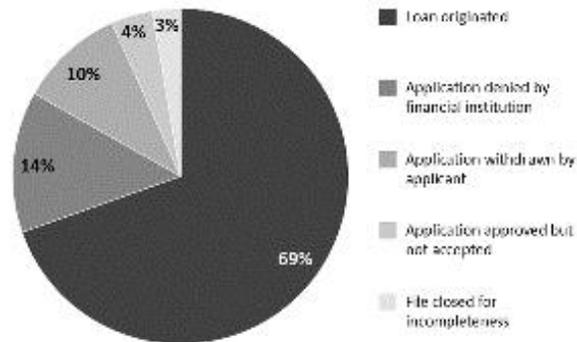

- "Loan originated" indicates that the application was approved and the applicant accepted the loan;
- "Approved, but not accepted" means that the application was approved, but the applicant chose not to accept the loan;
- "Denied by financial institution" signifies that the application was not approved;
- "Withdrawn by applicant" indicates that the applicant chose not to pursue the loan before an approval decision had been made; and
- "File closed for incompleteness" means that the application was incomplete and the loan was not evaluated.

More than two-thirds (70%) of all loans applied for were originated and 14 percent of applications were denied. Ten percent of loan applications were withdrawn by the applicant and the remaining applications were either approved but not accepted or closed for incompleteness.

Taken, Ada County, 2014

Note:
Does not include loans for multifamily properties or non-owner occupants.

Source:
FFIEC HMDA Raw Data, 2014 and BBC Research & Consulting.

The most recent distribution of loan application outcomes was similar to the outcomes for the City of Meridian in 2010: the percentage of denied loan applications (14%) remained the same in 2014. Loan applications that were originated were lower (67%) in 2010, but loan applications that were withdrawn by the applicant (11%) and approved but not accepted (7%) were higher. Overall, loan application actions since 2010 only differ slightly and reflect similar outcomes as 2014.

Outcome of applications by race and ethnicity. Figure V-4 presents more detail on the outcomes of loan applications, focusing on differences in race and ethnicity.

The racial and ethnic groups with the highest denial rate were Native Americans, with a denial rate of 20 percent, and Asians, African Americans and Hispanics, all with a denial rate of 16 percent. This compares to a denial rate of 14 percent for all loan applicants. Native Hawaiians/Pacific Islanders, White and Non-Hispanic residents had the lowest denial rate at 13 percent.

The mortgage lending outcomes shown in Figure V-4 differ from national and state outcomes in several ways. First, the difference in denials among African Americans and Whites was only 3 percentage points with more African Americans being denied than white residents. Nationally, the denial rate in 2014 was 25 percent for African American applicants, compared to just 10 percent of non-Hispanic White applicants—a difference of 15 percentage points. Second, denial rates for Asian applicants in Ada County were also higher than that of white applicants; this was also not the case nationally.

The HMDA analysis in the 2016 State of Idaho fair housing analysis found relatively high rates of denials for American Indian/Alaskan Native, Hispanic and Native Hawaiian/Pacific Islander applicants. Denial rates for other racial groups were not significantly different than the denial rates for White applicants.

Loan origination rates were somewhat similar across racial and ethnic categories, all above 60 percent. Native American applicants had the lowest origination rate at 64 percent. Non-Hispanic and White applicants had the highest rates both at 71 percent.

Idaho's applications by race and ethnicity. In the State of Idaho, American Indian/Alaska Native applicants had loans originated 55 percent of the time; Asian applicants, 62 percent; African Americans, 62 percent; and White applicants, 66 percent. Hispanic borrowers had loans originated 58 percent of the time—eight percentage points lower than non-Hispanic applicants. Across all races and ethnicities, Ada County's loan originations were higher than that of the state.

Outcomes and types of loans. Loan denial rates can also vary by race and ethnicity based on the type of loans applied for by applicants. Denial rates are typically highest for home improvement loans, often because the additional debt will raise the loan to value ratios above the levels allowed by a financial institution.

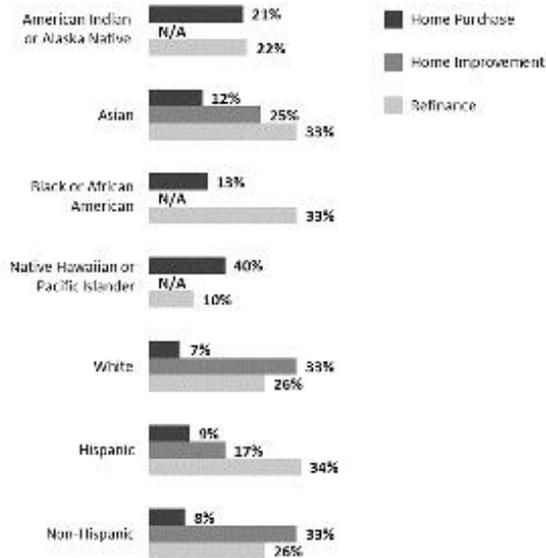

An examination of the types of loans applied for by applicants of varying races and ethnicities found that Native Hawaiian/Pacific Islander applicants were much more likely than other applicants to apply for home purchase loans (75% of loan applications). White, Non-Hispanic and Hispanic applicants had a lower rate of applications for home purchase loans (56% of loan applications). Applications for home improvement loans were low among all races and ethnicities, ranging from 0 to 2 percent of applications. Among minority groups, Hispanic applicants were the most likely of all applicants to apply for refinancing loans, while Native Hawaiian/Pacific Islander applicants were least likely to apply for refinancing loans.

Figure V-5 displays the denial rate by race and ethnicity and loan purpose. Denial rates for home purchases are relatively low across racial and ethnic groups except for Native Americans and Native Hawaiians/Pacific Islanders. Home purchase denials are lowest for White, Non-Hispanic and Hispanic borrowers. Asian, African American and Hispanic borrowers experienced a denial rate of one-third for refinancing loans. In general, denials were higher for home improvement and refinancing loans, as these can hold more risk than a home purchase loan.

Ada County loan applicants were denied home purchase loans at about the same rate (14%) compared to applicants nationally (13%) and higher than all applicants in the State of Idaho (10%).

Outcomes and income levels. Figure V-6 examines differences in loan origination and denial rates by income range. As shown by Figure V-6, the difference in approval rates was modest, except for the lowest income applicants.

Reasons for denial. HMDA data contain some information on why loans were denied, which can help to explain differences in denials among racial and ethnic groups. Figure V-7 shows the reasons for denials in Ada County.

For all racial and ethnic categories, high debt-to-income ratio and inadequate or poor credit history were the top reasons for denials.

Inadequate or poor employment history and unverifiable information were very minor reasons.

There are many reasons why loan origination rates may be lower for certain racial and ethnic groups. First, some racial and ethnic groups are very small, so the pool of potential borrowers is limited and may skew towards lower income households, since minorities typically have lower incomes. Second, minority applicants are more likely to not accept their loan offers, even if they are approved. Differences in the completeness of loan applications and withdrawal of applications by potential borrowers also affect the origination rates.

Denial rates exhibit significant variation over time, according to the Federal Reserve, driven by changes in demand for certain types of loans, variation in borrower type and changes in credit standards. Nationally, denial rates on home purchase applications in 2014 was very low—even lower than during the housing boom years. The relatively low denial rate in 2014 is attributed to a drop in applications from riskier applicants, perhaps related to tightening of credit availability and lending standards.

Subprime loans. The subprime lending market declined significantly following the housing market crisis. Nationally, in 2014, only about 3 percent of conventional home purchases and 2 percent of refinance loans were subprime. Interestingly, nationally, small banks and credit unions were much more likely to originate subprime loans than were mortgage companies or large banks in 2014.<sup>2, 3</sup>

In 2014, in Ada County, 4.9 percent of the loans were subprime. The average interest rate above the prime rate was 3 percent. A borrower with a subprime rate would pay, on average, about $4,000 more per year than a prime rate borrower, or about $120,000 over the life of the loan. Given that the top reasons for denials in the county were high debt-to-income ratio and inadequate or poor credit history—and considering the high cost of subprime loans to a borrower—this is an area that the county should monitor.

Summary

This section examines public and private decisions that affect housing choice, including the public provision and regulation of housing and access to mortgage financing. The primary findings include:

- The procedures and practices of the Boise City/Ada County Housing Authority, and the City's land use and zoning regulations, do not appear to create barriers to housing choice and are in line with HUD regulations. Despite the BCACHA weighting preferences equally among the elderly, disabled and families with minor children, some barriers to housing choice may exist because of physical inaccessibility of housing units, lack of local services and aging multifamily units that are not being properly maintained.
- The differences in mortgage loan denials among borrowers of varying races and ethnicities are minor, particularly when compared to denials nationally. Native American applicants have the highest gap in loan origination rates when compared to non-Hispanic White applicants.

Factors and Strategies

SECTION VI. Fair Housing Environment, Contributing Factors and Strategies

This section examines the fair housing environment in the City of Meridian. The contents are consistent with the requirements of HUD’s new Assessment of Fair Housing (AFH) template and include the following:

- A review of state and local fair housing laws and enforcement;
- An analysis of fair housing complaints, as well as charges or letters of findings from HUD and legal cases, to assess trends in fair housing violations; and
- An overview of fair housing resources.

The section ends with an identification of current fair housing challenges, the “contributing factors” that affect housing choice in Meridian, and fair housing goals and strategies that will be part of the Consolidated Plan five-year goals and annual action plan activities.

It begins with residents’ perceptions of fair housing discrimination in Meridian.

Experience of Discrimination

The resident survey included a series of questions to determine the prevalence and nature of housing discrimination against Meridian residents.

Prevalence of fair housing discrimination. Five percent of residents who completed the survey for this study said they had been denied housing choices in the past five years. Of these, 70 percent said they were denied a place to rent.

In the past five years, have you ever been denied housing to rent or buy in Meridian?

BBC Research & Consulting from the 2017 Meridian Resident Survey.

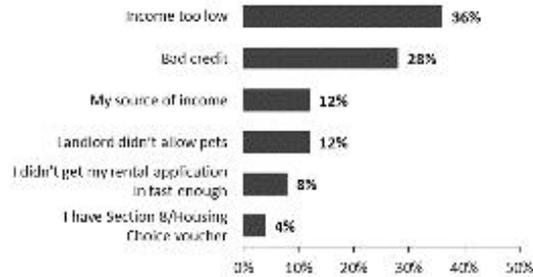

These residents offered one or more reasons for denial. Market based factors (e.g., income, credit, pet policies) were identified by the majority (88%) of those who had experienced housing denial. Income being too low was the largest factor for respondents at 36 percent of all denials. Not getting a rental application in fast enough and having a Section 8 voucher were cited as reasons for denial by at least one respondent.

 BBC Research & Consulting from the 2017 Meridian Resident Survey.

Survey respondents had the option of identifying the neighborhood or area within Meridian where they were denied housing. No one neighborhood was frequently mentioned, but many respondents indicated all neighborhoods within the City of Meridian.

Residents responded to a separate set of questions specific to fair housing discrimination. Only 3 percent said they felt they had experienced discrimination. Discrimination is down from the 5 percent reported by respondents in the 2011 resident survey.

Half of the reasons offered for the discrimination pointed to the respondents' protected class status. Among these residents, half identified disability as the basis for discrimination, followed by religion (33%) and sexual orientation (17%).

Thirty-six percent said the discrimination occurred in the past year; 46 percent said it occurred two to five years ago and 18 percent said it occurred more than five years ago.

Equal treatment. Survey respondents were asked if all residents of their neighborhood/subdivision are treated the same as residents in other neighborhoods/subdivisions. Fourteen percent said no.

When asked why not, most residents characterized themselves or other residents as living in low income neighborhoods or neighborhoods with less access to good quality amenities (e.g., schools, parks). As a result, these residents believe that they or other residents are treated differently by the City of Meridian. Examples include the belief that higher income neighborhoods have "better access to youth recreation and services" and that police treat them "completely different than the subdivisions with higher incomes. They do not take a complaint as serious as they would if it was from a higher income subdivision." These respondents also felt that the infrastructure in their neighborhood was maintained less often than affluent areas in the city and that developers received preferential treatment.

Several of the respondents (15%) mentioned issues with their Home Owner Associations (HOAs)—e.g., high fees for some subdivisions without offering the same amenities or enforcing the rules as well as HOAs in higher income areas. Respondents (13%) also described discrimination on the basis of race, sexual orientation, age or religion as the reason for their perceived disparate treatment. One respondent described their neighborhood as “not welcoming for African Americans or LGBT.”

Residents were also asked to agree or disagree with this statement: “The community benefits of living in Meridian—good schools, access to parks and recreation, access to jobs—are available to all residents, regardless of where they live in a community.”

Despite some of the previous perspectives about varying access to amenities among different neighborhoods or subdivisions, respondents overwhelmingly agreed with this statement. On a scale of 0 to 9, the average rating was 8 and the highest number of respondents chose 9, strongly agree. Only 4 percent of respondents disagreed that community benefits are available to all (rating 0 to 2).

Those who disagreed offered the following suggestions for improving the distribution of community benefits in Meridian:

- Expand transit access (most frequently mentioned),
- Allow children to attend schools outside of their neighborhoods,
- Distribute affordable rental housing among all neighborhoods.

Federal and State Fair Housing Laws and Enforcement

The Federal Fair Housing Act (FHA), passed in 1968 and amended in 1988, prohibits discrimination in housing on the basis of race, color, national origin, religion, sex, familial status and disability.<sup>1</sup> The FHA covers most types of housing transactions including rental housing, home sales, mortgage and home improvement lending, as well as policies and practices that determine the placement of residential housing (e.g., land use and zoning regulations).

Excluded from the FHA are owner-occupied buildings with no more than four units, single family housing units sold or rented without the use of a real estate agent or broker, housing operated by organizations and private clubs that limit occupancy to members, and housing for older persons.

The State of Idaho’s fair housing law differs from the FHA in that it does not recognize familial status and covers providers with two or more properties.

Meridian has a Fair Housing Ordinance which outlines how the City will assist those who feel they have been discriminated against and how the City will promote and publicize the Federal Fair Housing Law: “With available resources, the City will assist all persons who feel they have been discriminated against because of race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability, or familial status to seek equity under Federal and State laws by filing a complaint with the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, Office of Fair Housing and Equal Opportunity, Compliance Division.”

Many Meridian residents have knowledge of what to do—and willingness to act—if they experience housing discrimination. If they felt they had experienced discrimination and/or had a family member or friend who had, most Meridian residents would contact a fair housing organization (23%) or City government or elected officials (19%). About one in five would not know what to do and 7 percent would do nothing.

Fair housing inquiry and complaint process. Meridian residents who feel that they might have experienced a violation of the FHA can contact one or more of the following organizations: HUD’s Office of Fair Housing and Opportunity (FHEO), the Idaho Housing and Finance Association (IHFA), the Intermountain Fair Housing Council (IFHC), Idaho Legal Aid Services and the Idaho Human Rights Commission (IHRC).

Meridian, as well as the state, does not enforce fair housing law and refers potential complainants to fair housing/legal organizations. In 2011, IHFA established a 2-1-1 line, Idaho Careline Quick Referral that residents can call to get information about fair housing questions and concerns, and numbers to call to file a complaint.

IHFA also maintains a website dedicated to fair housing, <https://www.idahohousing.com/fair-housing/>, as well as a Fair Housing Forum at <http://fairhousingforum.org/>, which provides fair housing information, events/trainings and other resources.

Complaints filed with HUD. Housing discrimination complaints may be filed online at <http://www.hud.gov/complaints/housediscrim.cfm>. Residents may also call HUD toll free at 1-800-669-9777 (FHEO in Washington D.C.) or 1-800-877-0246 (Seattle Fair Housing Regional Office, which serves Idaho residents).

According to HUD, when a complaint is received, HUD will notify the person who filed the complaint along with the alleged violator and allow that person to submit a response. The complaint will then be investigated to determine whether there has been a violation of the FHA.

A complaint may be resolved in a number of ways. First, HUD is required to try to reach an agreement between the two parties involved. A conciliation agreement must protect the filer of the complaint and public interest. If an agreement is signed, HUD will take no further action unless the agreement has been breached.

If during the investigative, review, and legal process HUD finds that discrimination has occurred, the case will be heard in an administrative hearing within 120 days, unless either party prefers the case to be heard in Federal district court.

Complaints filed with the State of Idaho. IHRC enforces the State of Idaho’s employment and housing anti-discrimination laws. Complaints can be filed online (<http://humanrights.idaho.gov/complaint.html>), by phone and through regular or email. IHRC can only enforce state fair housing law, as the state’s law is not substantially equivalent to the federal FHA.

IHRC provides mediation services to resolve complaints for little or no cost. About 20 percent of cases filed with IHRC are settled through this process.

If mediation is not selected, IHRC investigates the complaint and issues a finding of “no cause” if the available evidence does not suggest that illegal discrimination occurred or “probably cause.” In that case, IHRC seeks a resolution to compensate the victim and ensure that others will not receive similar treatment. If a resolution is reached, this becomes a “conciliation agreement” and the dispute is closed.

When a resolution is not agreed upon, IHRC may file an action in district court on behalf of the victim or the victim may withdraw the lawsuit. This must occur within one year of the filing of the complaint.

Individuals may also file a private action in court; they must do so 90 days from the IHRC’s dismissal of a complaint.

Complaints filed with local organizations. The nonprofit IFHC provides fair housing education and outreach statewide. The organization also provides enforcement of the federal FHA and monitors compliance of fair housing providers, lending institutions and units of government in Idaho. IFHC has the authority to negotiate fair housing settlements by mediation, conciliation and litigation. IFHC can be contacted by calling 1-208-383-0695 or 1-800-717-0695 or online at <http://www.ifhcidaho.org/>.

Idaho Legal Aid is a nonprofit legal firm assisting low income Idahoans with a variety of legal matters. Housing services include assistance with evictions, homeowners’ rights, foreclosures, mobile home contracts, property taxes, tenant rights and fair housing. The types of cases accepted are based on local capacity and program priorities, based on funding. More information is available online at <http://www.idaholegalaid.org/>.

Fair Housing Complaint Trends. Between January 2011 and December 2015, 317 fair housing complaints were filed by Idaho residents. Sixty-four of those were filed in Ada County; 11 in Meridian.

Of the complaints filed in Meridian, four were settled, two were withdrawn, and one was found to have no cause (data on the others is lacking). The vast majority of the complaints affected a person with a disability and most involved failure to make a reasonable accommodation. The complaints involving a residents' race or ethnicity were brought due to refusal to rent, discriminatory advertising, and discriminatory conditions or privileges.

Legal Cases

As part of the AI, fair housing legal cases were reviewed for trends in fair housing violations and enforcement. Major cases occurring in Ada County are summarized below. None of these lawsuits involved Meridian only. The cases are included here to demonstrate the types of fair housing violations that occur in the broader region—and which could occur in Meridian. They are organized in the year when the complaint was filed.

United States v. Thomas Development Co., et al (Disability). In February, 2002 the United States filed a complaint alleging that Thompson Development Co. and affiliated companies (defendants) engaged in a pattern or practice of discrimination on the basis of disability by failing to design and construct the ground floor units and public /common use areas in compliance with the accessibility requirements of the FHA. The defendants were alleged to commit these violations at 17 apartment complexes located throughout Southern Idaho in the cities of Boise, Meridian, Nampa, Shelly, Rexburg, Caldwell, Rigby, Lewiston and Jerome. The complaint also alleged that some of the defendants retaliated against a tenant family at one of the complexes by attempting to evict the family after one of the family members requested a reasonable accommodation for their disability.

In March, 2005, the court entered a consent order, which included injunctive relief and monetary payments totaling $125,000. The consent order remained in effect for three years.

Garcia v. Brockway (Disability). In May 2003, Noll Garcia (plaintiff) filed a complaint against the original owner/developer and designer of his apartment building in Boise, Idaho. The complaint alleged a failure to accommodate disabilities as mandated by the FHA. Mr. Garcia is disabled and uses a wheelchair for mobility and filed a complaint because the apartment complex he was lacked curb cuts from the parking lot to the sidewalk, didn't have a ramp to the front entrance door, and the doorways were too narrow to allow clear passage of his wheelchair. Mr. Garcia requested that management make appropriate accessibility improvements, which were ignored, as was his request that management build a ramp to his door or that he be relocated to a more accessible unit. In addition, Mr. Garcia sued the original builder and architect (Brockway and Robert Stewart, respectively), and the current owners and management (the Zavoshy defendants).

The defendants (Brockway and Stewart) argued that because they no longer owned the building (which they sold in 1994), their liability was time-barred by the statute of limitations in the FHA. Thus, the plaintiff's complaint would have had to been filed within two years following construction of the apartment building in 1993. The plaintiff countered, arguing that the failure to remodel the apartments constituted a continuing violation and that the statute of limitations take effect upon discovery of the alleged violations. Mr. Garcia also claimed that failure to make modifications constituted new violations.

The court ruled that the continuing accessibility issues were an effect of a prior discriminatory act but not a continuing violation. The argument that the two-year statute of limitations should begin at discovery of a violation was deemed unworkable, as a developer would be liable for these violations indefinitely in spite of his or her ownership of the complex. Finally, the original developer was not found to be liable for refusal to make modifications while current management company was at fault. The defendant still had a remedy under the FHA with building owners, but his motion against the developers was dismissed. Claims against the current owners and management were settled out of court.

Intermountain Fair Housing Council v. Boise Rescue Mission Ministries (Religion). The Rescue Mission is an Idaho nonprofit funded through charitable donations from businesses, churches and the general public. The Rescue Mission operates two facilities in Boise. There were recently two cases filed against the Rescue Mission on the basis of religion.

- Case #1: Plaintiff Richard Chinn was periodically homeless during the years 2005 and 2006 and a guest of the homeless shelter located at the River of Life Facility. During his stays at the shelter, he had no other place to stay and intended to remain in the shelter in excess of several months. Chinn asserts that he was told by shelter staff that he would be required to participate in Christian religious activities such as chapel services in order to reside and eat meals at the shelter. He observed that guests of the shelter who did not attend chapel services were either required to wait in the dining room or were not permitted to enter the shelter until chapel services were completed. Chinn found the practices of the shelter to be coercive, unpleasant, embarrassing, and offensive to his religion. He did, however, participate in the religious services out of fear that if he did not participate, he would be denied housing and other services.
- Case #2: In addition to the homeless shelter, the Rescue Mission also provides a New Life Discipleship/Recovery Program, which is an intensive, one-year Christian-based residential recovery program for individuals with drug or alcohol dependency. In October 2005,

Plaintiff Cowles was in jail on drug-related criminal convictions. Cowles contacted the Rescue Mission and requested that she be admitted into the Discipleship Program, stating that she was "focused on changing my life through God and spiritual growth," and that she is "desperately looking to fill this void in my life with spirituality and not drugs." Following admittance to the program, Cowles was required to participate in religious activities. Cowles was upset at being forced to adopt the Christian religion. When Cowles requested that she be allowed to change to a non-religious program, she was put on "30-day restriction" during which all her telephone calls with her attorney were monitored by Program staff and she was not allowed to participate in other limited activities that she previously had been allowed. Eventually, Discipleship Program staff wrote a letter to the judge presiding over Cowles' criminal case and informed the judge that Cowles "struggled with the Christian based program that was offered." Staff recommended to the judge that Cowles be given an opportunity to complete a non-faith-based program to allow her to "better focus on her recovery without the conflict of her beliefs."

Both cases were resolved recently in appellate court. The court found that since the Boise Rescue Mission is not a "dwelling," it is not subject to the requirements of the Fair Housing Act. The court also concluded that the religious practice requirements are protected by the Free Exercise Clause of the First Amendment.

Assessment of Past Efforts

Meridian's efforts to address barriers have focused on improving access to fair housing information, enhancing resident knowledge of fair housing rights, and educating landlords and city officials and building inspectors about fair housing laws.

Fair Housing Challenges and Contributing Factors

The HUD AFH template requires identification of fair housing challenges and an analysis of potential contributing factors for their ability to create, contribute to, perpetuate and/or increase fair housing issues. These include housing choice, as well as equal access to opportunity. Such contributing factors are similar to what were known as "impediments" in past fair housing studies.

The research conducted for the 2017-2021 Consolidated Plan and Fair Housing Assessment identified the following fair housing challenges and contributing factors that affect housing choice and access to opportunity in Meridian:

Fair housing challenge—Infrastructure: Sidewalks in older parts of Meridian are not accessible and cannot be navigated by persons with physical challenges.

- Contributing factors: Aging public infrastructure and limited funding to make significant repairs.
- Populations affected: Elderly and persons with disabilities.

Fair housing challenge—Housing Affordability: Housing vacancies are extremely low. Residents surveyed for this study report that finding rental units is very difficult. The rental gap—the difference between renters who need housing at a certain price point and availability of units—has risen to 1,348 units, from 1,077 five years ago.

- Contributing factors: Rising housing costs, high demand for living in Meridian, increase in number of residents living in poverty after the Great Recession.
- Populations affected: All lower income residents. Residents fleeing domestic violence are disproportionately affected, as they have limited housing options and are likely to fall into homelessness.

Fair housing challenge—Transportation. No public transportation exists in Meridian and many residents, particularly residents with special needs and low incomes, must travel to Boise to access needed services. Public transit was the public improvement chosen the most by survey respondents after road improvements: more than one-third of residents said this was the top community development need in Meridian.

- Contributing factors: Lack of a regional transit system.
- Populations affected: Elderly and persons with disabilities who cannot drive; low income residents who cannot afford the costs of owning a vehicle.

Fair housing challenge—Education: Fair housing complaint data suggest that landlords' lack of understanding about reasonable accommodations and developers' non-compliance with fair housing accessibility regulations remain a barrier to housing choice.

- Contributing factors: Landlords do not make reasonable accommodations when requested; some builders do not comply with fair housing accessibility rules.
- Populations affected: Person with disabilities.

Fair Housing Goals and Strategies

During the 2017-2021 Consolidated Planning period, the City of Meridian will complete the following to improve housing choice and access to opportunity:

Fair Housing Goal No. 1: Improve the condition of sidewalks in Meridian, particularly in neighborhoods where persons with low-moderate income reside. Seek new funding opportunities and partnerships for sidewalk repairs.

Fair housing challenge addressed: Inaccessible infrastructure.

Contributing factors addressed: Aging public infrastructure and limited funding to make significant repairs.

Metrics and milestones:

- Work through the Ada County Highway District's, Parks and Recreation Department's, Meridian Development Corporation, and City's code enforcement processes to create a more accessible environment for persons with disabilities. Continue to improve sidewalks and provide proper signage and enforce requirements for handicapped parking spots. Explore opportunities to expand accessible recreation in parks.

PY2017 outcome: Improve 5 segments of sidewalk in a neighborhood with again infrastructure and occupied by seniors and low income residents.

Fair Housing Goal No. 2: Support preservation of housing occupied by low income homeowners and stabilization of affordable rental housing by assisting low income renter households and supporting the creation of affordable housing.

Fair housing challenge addressed: Lack of affordable housing.

Contributing factors addressed: Low rental vacancies, rising housing costs, high demand to live in Meridian, increasing number of residents with housing needs.

Metrics and milestones:

- Explore options to help stabilize the rental gap by: providing incentives to organizations for the construction of housing; support the development of social support programs that help to reduce the number of individuals/families who are at risk of losing shelter or housing. As opportunities arise, provide non-monetary support—e.g., fast track development approvals, favorable regulatory environment—to organizations creating affordable rental housing.
- Continue to use block grant funds to provide social services for low income and special needs residents—e.g., provision of food staples, emergency repairs, emergency rental assistance.
- Explore opportunities to fund and assist low income homeowners with needed repairs and weatherization to lower energy costs, improve residents' quality of life and preserve affordable housing stock.

PY2017 outcome: Assist 10 households with emergency assistance and 8 households with downpayment assistance. Assist 2,000 households with food assistance.

By the end of PY2017, determine options for implementing a weatherization program. During the next three years, explore potential development incentives for projects that provide at least 10 percent of units that are affordable to 30 to 80 percent AMI households.

Fair Housing Goal No. 3: Work regionally to improve transportation options.

Fair housing challenge addressed: Lack of public transportation.

Contributing factors addressed: Lack of funding and regional planning to address residents' transportation needs.

Metrics and milestones:

- Explore opportunities to expand and improve public transportation options for low-income and special needs populations in Meridian. Explore additional funding sources, including potential legislation, for public transportation. Utilize the support of local elected officials, public agencies, and research on other peer communities to learn more about public transportation opportunities and best practices.

PY2017 outcome: Convene two meetings with regional transportation providers and/or jurisdictions to explore best practices to expanding transportation options and garner support for making expanded transportation options that better serve low to moderate income residents and workers a high priority during the next five years .

Meet as scheduled with the Meridian Transportation Commission, the ACHD Capital Improvement Citizen Advisory Committee (ACHD CICAC), the COMPASS Regional Technical Advisory Committee (COMPASS RTAC).

Fair Housing Goal No. 4: Increase education and understanding of fair housing laws by landlords, builders, and residents.

Fair housing challenge addressed: Lack of accessible housing.

Contributing factors addressed Landlords' failure to comply with reasonable accommodations provisions of the Fair Housing Act; builders' failure to comply with fair housing accessibility rules.

Metrics and milestones:

- Continue to provide monetary support to regional fair housing campaigns and trainings.
- Design and distribute flyers and display posters in Meridian specific to the current fair housing needs in Meridian.

PY2017 outcome: Fund two regional fair housing campaigns and trainings. Provide flyers and posters to at least 5 landlords and 5 homeowner's associations in Meridian.

City of Meridian Citizen Participation Plan and Public Comments

APPENDIX A.

City of Meridian Citizen Participation Plan

The Consolidated Plan is a U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) requirement for a city to receive federal housing and community development block grant funding. Created in 1994, it “consolidates” the reporting requirements associated with these block grants.

The Consolidated Plan is typically completed every five years. It examines the housing and community development needs of a city and sets priorities for HUD grant monies to which a city is entitled. The Annual Action Plan specifies how a city intends to distribute block grant funds to meet its five-year priorities. The Consolidated Annual Performance and Evaluation Report (CAPER), completed at the end of each program year, evaluates the city’s performance in meeting its five-year and annual goals. The Analysis of Impediments to Fair Housing Choice (AI), a five-year strategic document with action items incorporated into the Annual Action Plan, affirms the city’s commitment to reducing housing barriers.

Each Consolidated Plan is also required to have a strategy for citizen participation in the Consolidated Plan process. This Citizen Participation Plan satisfies that requirement.

Between January 2017 and June 2017, the City of Meridian prepared a draft of its Five Year Consolidated Plan covering program years 2017-2021, its 2017 Action Plan, and a five-year AI. This document outlines the city’s process and plan for soliciting and receiving citizen input during the preparation review period of the draft Consolidated Plan, as well as in the event that amendments are made to the Plan. Included in this is the city’s approved Citizen Participation Plan for all aspects of the Consolidated Plan process including: the Five Year Strategic Plan, the Action Plan, amendments to the Consolidated Plan, the CAPER, and the AI.

Purpose of Citizen Participation Plan

The City of Meridian recognizes the importance of public participation in both defining and understanding current housing and community development needs and barriers, and prioritizing resources to address those needs. The city’s Citizen Participation Plan is designed to encourage citizens to participate in the development of the Consolidated Plan, Annual Action Plans, AI, CAPER, and any substantial amendments to the Plan. The Citizen Participation Plan is intended to encourage citizens of all ages, genders, economic levels, races, ethnicities, cultures, and special needs equal access to become involved in the Plan each year. This Citizen Participation Plan was written in accordance with Sections 91.100 and 91.105 of HUD’s Consolidated Plan regulations.

In order to ensure maximum participation in the Consolidated Plan process among all populations and needs groups, and in order to ensure that their issues and concerns are adequately addressed, the City of Meridian will follow the standards set forth in its adopted Citizen Participation Plan during development of its Consolidated Plan, Annual Action Plans,

CAPERs and AI, and for any substantial amendments. The participation process will be developed and monitored by the Planning Division of the City of Meridian's Community Development Department.

Glossary of Relevant Terms

Analysis of Impediments to Fair Housing Choice (AI). This document reviews housing challenges and fair housing issues in the city and broader region. It results in goals and action steps to address and mitigate barriers.

Action Plan. The yearly portion of the Consolidated Plan that identifies the specific activities and projects to be undertaken by the city with CDBG funds during that program year.

Consolidated Annual Performance and Evaluation Report (CAPER). The CAPER reports the city's completion of projects and activities as outlined within the Action and Consolidated Plans and the expenditure of Community Development Block Grant and related block grant funds, as received by the city.

Community Development Block Grant (CDBG). CDBG, established under Title 1 of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974, as amended, Public Law 93-383 and the funding received under such program, which assists communities to address housing and community development needs, primarily for low and moderate income residents.

Consolidated Plan. A three to five year plan of a city's housing and community development needs, resources, priorities, and proposed activities to be undertaken for the CDBG programs (a.k.a., Housing and Community Development Plan).

Relevant Areas and Programs. The City of Meridian 2017-2021 Consolidated Plan covers the geographic area within the city limits of Meridian. The City of Meridian is entitled to receive CDBG funding from HUD during the program years between 2017 and 2021. These funds must benefit low and moderate income residents and/or neighborhoods within Meridian.

Public Participation and Comment

Consolidated Plan and Annual Action Plans. As required by Sections 91.100 and 91.105 of HUD's Consolidated Plan regulations, the city, at a minimum, will conduct two community meetings to obtain citizens' views on housing and community development needs, program performance, funding priorities and to respond to questions. At least one of these hearings will be held before the proposed consolidated plan is published for comment.

The city may also elect to collect citizen input through alternative public involvement techniques—e.g., using focus groups, surveys and social media, with the intent of developing a shared vision for investment in communities and neighborhoods.

In developing applications for each Annual Action Plan cycle, the city will offer technical assistance, as requested, in developing proposals for funding assistance under any of the programs covered by the Consolidated Plan. The level and type of assistance will be determined annually by the city depending on need as evidenced in past applications and expressed by residents, stakeholders and past grantees. The assistance need not include the provision of funds to the groups receiving technical assistance.

The citizen input techniques will be designed to encourage participation by low and moderate income residents, residents living in neighborhoods with revitalization needs, residents benefitting from public housing assistance, and residents with special needs. The Boise City Ada County Housing Authority (BCACHA) will be notified about Consolidated Plan activities related to its developments and resident communities, to allow this information to be available at the public hearings required for its plan.

Prior to the adoption of a Consolidated Plan and Annual Action Plans, the city will make available to interested parties the draft Plan for a comment period of no less than 30 days and will conduct a public hearing during the 30-day comment period.

The 30 day comment period and the public hearing for the Consolidated Plan and the Annual Action Plans will be noticed in the local newspaper(s) that the City of Meridian regularly publishes through, and by posting the notice on the city's website and social media sites. The public notice shall be published at least 14 days in advance of the public hearing and shall include information regarding the subject of the hearing and the date, time, and location of the public hearing as well as a notice of opportunity to provide written or oral comment.

The draft Consolidated Plan will contain the amount of assistance the city expects to receive through the HUD CDBG grants and the top level strategic goals that will guide funding over the five planning periods. The annual Action Plan will show detail the activities and grantees to whom the city intends to allocate funds for that particular program year.

Electronic copies of the draft plans will be available on the city's website and circulated to residents and stakeholders who have expressed interest in receiving the document via email. Hard copies will be available for review at city offices and will be provided to the public at a specific request.

The Council will consider any comments or views of individuals or groups received in writing or orally during the Plan process and at the public hearing to be held during the 30-day public comment period. The Council shall at its regular or a special public meeting, review the proposed Consolidated Plan or annual Action Plan, and the summaries regarding the incorporation of citizen comments or views provided, and shall vote on a resolution to adopt the final Consolidated Plan or annual Action Plan.

Comments received on the draft plans will be summarized in the final plans submitted to HUD. Copies of letters and emails received may be appended to the plans if requested and permitted by commenters.

The city will provide a written response to all written citizen complaints related to the Plans within 15 working days of receiving the complaints. Copies of the complaints, along with the city's response will be sent to HUD if they occur outside of the Consolidated Planning process and, as such, do not appear in the Consolidated Plan.

CAPER. A public notice of the CAPER availability and the date, time and location of the public hearing will be published in the local newspaper(s) that the City regularly publishes through, and by posting the notice on the city's Web site at least 14 days in advance of the public hearing. After the notice is published, citizens will have a period of not less than 15 days to comment on the CAPER, and the city will conduct a public hearing on the CAPER at the conclusion of the comment period. The city will consider any comments or views of citizens received in writing. A summary of these comments or views, and a summary of any comments or views shall be attached to the CAPER. The Council shall at its regular or a special public meeting, review the CAPER and the summaries regarding the incorporation of citizen comments or views provided, and shall vote on a resolution to adopt the final CAPER.

AI. The citizen participation process for the AI will also include alternative public involvement techniques—e.g., using focus groups, surveys and social media—with a focus on reaching residents who are most vulnerable to fair housing challenges and are historically underrepresented in community engagement processes. The AI will also be available for public review during a 30-day comment period. Electronic copies of the draft AI will be available on the city's website and circulated to residents and stakeholders who have expressed interest in receiving the document via email. Hard copies will be available for review at city offices and will be provided to the public at a specific request.

Translations and reasonable accommodations. This citizen participation plan, the Consolidated Plan, the Annual Action Plan, and the AI will be made available in formats accessible to persons with disabilities and in languages other than English pursuant to the city's Language Assistance Plan (LAP) upon request.

Substantial Amendments

Occasionally, public comments or a change in circumstances warrant an amendment to the Consolidated Plan and/or an annual Action Plan. The criteria for whether to amend are referred to by HUD as Substantial Amendment Criteria. The following conditions are considered to be "Substantial Amendment Criteria:"

1. Any change in the described method of distributing program funds.
  - Elements of a "method of distribution" are:
    - A change in the expected federal allocation of the block grant of 25 percent or more.
    - A change in the city's allocation plan that would redirect more than 25 percent of city's total annual funding to a different activity. Small changes—e.g., movements among grantees within public services programs—will require department head approval but not a substantial amendment.
    - Carrying out an activity using CDBG funds or program income not previously described in the action plan or the consolidated plan.

2. An administrative decision to reallocate all the funds allocated to an activity in the Action Plan to other activities of equal or lesser priority need level, unless the decision is a result of:
  - A federal government rescission of appropriated funds, or appropriations are so much less than anticipated that the city makes an administrative decision not to fund one or more activities; and/or
  - The governor declares a state of emergency and reallocates federal funds to address the emergency.

Citizen participation in the event of a substantial amendment. In the event of a substantial amendment to the Consolidated Plan or annual Action Plan, the city will publish a notice of the recommended changes and the date, time, and location of the public hearing in the newspaper(s) that the City regularly publishes through and on the city's Web site at least 14 days in advance of the public hearing. The city will provide a 30-day public comment period in advance of the public hearing on the proposed substantial amendment. The Council shall at its regular or a special public meeting, review the proposed substantial amendment and the summaries regarding the incorporation of citizen comments or views provided, and shall vote on a resolution to adopt the substantial amendment. Following the Council's passage of the resolution adopting the substantial amendment, the city will notify HUD of the amendment and shall submit a copy of each substantial amendment to HUD as such occurs.

Consideration of public comments on the substantially amended plan. In the event of substantial amendments to the Consolidated Plan or Action Plan, the City Council will consider any comments on the substantially amended Plan from individuals or groups. Comments must be received in writing or orally at public hearings. A summary of the written and public hearing comments on the substantial amendments will be included in the final Plan. Also included in the final Plan will be a summary of all comments not accepted and their reasons for dismissal.

Changes in federal funding level. Any changes in federal funding levels after the draft Consolidated Plan or Action Plan's comment period has expired and the resulting effect on the distribution of funds will not be considered an amendment or a substantial amendment.

Public access to records

The city will provide all interested parties with access to information and records related to the city's Consolidated Plan, Annual Action Plans, CAPER and the city's use of funds under all programs covered by the Consolidated Plan during the preceding five years.

All materials, announcements, and notices of the hearing will include information about how persons with disabilities and non-English speaking persons may request accommodations in order to review the proposed plan and provide written or oral comments. Upon request, or in the case of public hearings where a significant number of non-English speaking residents can reasonably be expected to participate, the city will provide both written interpretation(s) of the proposed consolidated or action plan one (1) week prior to the public hearing or within 48 hours of a request; and/or oral interpretation at the public hearing.

Consultation with Organizations and City Agencies

When preparing the Consolidated Plan, Annual Action Plans and the AI, the city will actively consult with public and private agencies that provide housing, health, and social services in order to ensure that the interests and needs of all groups are being adequately addressed. These may include the regional Continuum of Care, private businesses/employers, residential developers, nonprofit organizations, philanthropic organizations, and community-based and faith-based organizations, including those that provide services to special needs populations. This consultation will occur through interviews conducted with such organizations and incorporation of data and reports produced by such organizations into the Consolidated Plan, Annual Action Plans, and AI.

Summary of Comments Received During Public Comment Period and Public Hearing

Public Comment Period Held from June 23, 2017 through July 25, 2017 with a Public Hearing on July 25, 2017.

- No written public comments were received during the public comment period
- Oral Comment from Caleb Hood received July 5, 2017
  - Summary: Caleb is an employee at the City of Meridian who works closely with the CDBG program. He expressed that would be smart to adjust the citizen participation plan appendix in the consolidated plan to remove certain restrictions on the City in how they have to logistically respond to public processes. In particular, he noted that the CDBG notices should comply with local publishing policies, which require publishing with only specific local newspapers that the City has a relationship with rather than tying the program and its resources to publishing in every local paper that exists in the community.

Caleb also noted that in previous consolidated plans there has been a stricter regulation on what constitutes a substantial amendment and what processes are required when a substantial amendment is needed. He explained that in the past there has been an exorbitant amount of time and energy that has been put into substantial amendment processes due the pattern of frequent changes in the City's program activities coupled with the relatively strict standards the City has held itself to in the 2012-2016 Consolidated Plan. He suggested a more flexible structure to defining what activities define and require substantial amendment processes.

- Oral Comment from Ty Palmer received July 25, 2017 in Public Hearing
  - Summary: Ty noted that the proposed activities in the 2017 Action Plan to fund NeighborWorks Boise and the Ada County Housing Authority to provide homebuyer assistance services to Meridian residents should require some client buy-in. He explained that he feels it is important for someone to have some "skin in the game" and accountability for their home-buying transaction. He thinks that nobody should just be handed a home or funding to assist with the cost of the home without some providing some financial support themselves.
- Oral Comment from Ralph Chappell received July 25, 2017 in Public Hearing
  - Summary: Ralph noted his aversion to the City accepting and utilizing federal funds for any projects in the community. He discussed his concerns with the federal debt in the United States and what he believes to be an immoral action in agreeing to utilize federal funds in his community. He actively pushed the city council to not approve the consolidated and action plans and get out of the federal CDBG program. He noted his concern that the local governments current acceptance and use of federal CDBG funds would ultimately come back to haunt his children and grandchildren as he asserted that the "ever-increasing" federal debt would cripple the younger generation's ability to thrive because they'd have to pay back the debt that the current generations had created. He invited the City Council members to explain and justify to the younger generations in Meridian why they felt it was morally acceptable to burden them with debt so that they could fund the City's CDBG program using federal money.

The City of Meridian has been designated an Entitlement Community by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD). This designation allows the City to receive funds annually from HUD's Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) Program. The City anticipates that it will receive an allocation of $349,076 on October 1, 2017.

In order to receive these funds, the City must submit to HUD an Annual Action Plan identifying the projects and goals the City will undertake to create new jobs, increase affordable and accessible housing and revitalize Meridian neighborhoods during the next Program Year. In addition, HUD requires the City to create and submit a Five Year Consolidated Plan outlining the Meridian's strategic goals regarding its residents with low-to-moderate income, affordable and other housing opportunities in the City, homelessness prevention/mitigation, public and social services, and other community development areas.

Specific Community Development Block Grant Certifications

The Entitlement Community certifies that:

Citizen Participation -- It is in full compliance and following a detailed citizen participation plan that satisfies the requirements of 24 CFR 91.105.

Community Development Plan -- Its consolidated plan identifies community development and housing needs and specifies both short-term and long-term community development objectives that have been developed in accordance with the primary objective of the CDBG program (i.e., the development of viable urban communities, by providing decent housing and expanding economic opportunities, primarily for persons of low and moderate income) and requirements of 24 CFR Parts 91 and 570.

Following a Plan -- It is following a current consolidated plan that has been approved by HUD.

Use of Funds -- It has complied with the following criteria:

1. Maximum Feasible Priority. With respect to activities expected to be assisted with CDBG funds, it has developed its Action Plan so as to give maximum feasible priority to activities which benefit low- and moderate-income families or aid in the prevention or elimination of slums or blight. The Action Plan may also include CDBG-assisted activities which the grantee certifies are designed to meet other community development needs having particular urgency because existing conditions pose a serious and immediate threat to the health or welfare of the community, and other financial resources are not available (see Optional CDBG Certification).

2. Overall Benefit. The aggregate use of CDBG funds, including Section 108 guaranteed loans, during program year(s) 2015, 2016, & 2017 [a period specified by the grantee of one, two, or three specific consecutive program years], shall principally benefit persons of low and moderate income in a manner that ensures that at least 70 percent of the amount is expended for activities that benefit such persons during the designated period.

3. Special Assessments. It will not attempt to recover any capital costs of public improvements assisted with CDBG funds, including Section 108 loan guaranteed funds, by assessing any amount against properties owned and occupied by persons of low and moderate income, including any fee charged or assessment made as a condition of obtaining access to such public improvements.

However, if CDBG funds are used to pay the proportion of a fee or assessment that relates to the capital costs of public improvements (assisted in part with CDBG funds) financed from other revenue sources, an assessment or charge may be made against the property with respect to the public improvements financed by a source other than CDBG funds.

In addition, in the case of properties owned and occupied by moderate-income (not low-income) families, an assessment or charge may be made against the property for public improvements financed by a source other than CDBG funds if the jurisdiction certifies that it lacks CDBG funds to cover the assessment.

Excessive Force -- It has adopted and is enforcing:

1. A policy prohibiting the use of excessive force by law enforcement agencies within its jurisdiction against any individuals engaged in non-violent civil rights demonstrations; and
2. A policy of enforcing applicable State and local laws against physically barring entrance to or exit from a facility or location which is the subject of such non-violent civil rights demonstrations within its jurisdiction.

Compliance with Anti-discrimination laws -- The grant will be conducted and administered in conformity with title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 (42 U.S.C. 2000d) and the Fair Housing Act (42 U.S.C. 3601-3619) and implementing regulations.

Lead-Based Paint -- Its activities concerning lead-based paint will comply with the requirements of 24 CFR Part 35, Subparts A, H, J, K and R.

Compliance with Laws -- It will comply with applicable laws.

SP-45 Full Dialogue Box Response

Housing assistance will be provided in the form of downpayment assistance to moderate income renters who desire to become homeowners (8 households served annually) and very low income renters through emergency rental assistance (5 households served annually, captured in public services funding category), for a total of 18 households served annually and approximately 80 households served during the 5 year Consolidated Planning period.

In sum:

ELI renters = 5 per year, 25 five year period

Moderate renters who desire to be owners = 8 per year, 40 total

Goals to be pursued in the future:

1) Explore a program to assist low income homeowners with needed repairs to lower energy costs, improve residents' quality of life and preserve affordable housing stock. This could be a grant or loan program administered by a regional organization to maximize efficiencies and reduce administrative costs.

Rationale: Respondents to the Consolidated Plan survey expressed the highest need for weatherization improvements to lower energy costs: more than one-third of Meridian residents said their homes need weatherization replacement or repairs. This was followed by repairs to walls and ceilings.

2) Explore future opportunities to serve and support individuals and families who are escaping domestic violence.

Rationale: Domestic violence is a top reason Meridian residents become at risk for losing shelter/housing. Stakeholders describe an acute need for housing and support services for individuals and families who are escaping domestic violence.

3) Work regionally to improve transportation options.

Rationale: Public transit was the public improvement chosen the most by survey respondents after road improvements: more than one-third of residents said this was the top community development need in Meridian.
